SUMMARY

Summaries are made up of disclosure requirements known as "Elements". These Elements are numbered in Sections A – E (A.1 – E.7). This summary contains all the Elements required to be included in a summary relating to the Securities and the Issuer. As some Elements are not required to be addressed, there may be gaps in the numbering sequence of the Elements. Even though an Element may be required to be inserted in the summary because of the nature of the Securities and the Issuer, it is possible that no relevant information can be given regarding such Element. In this case a short description of the Element is included in the summary and marked as "Not applicable". Certain provisions of this summary appear in square brackets. Such information will be completed or, where not relevant, deleted, in relation to a particular series (a "Series") of Securities and the completed summary in relation to such Series shall be appended to the relevant Final Terms.

SECTION B – ISSUER
B.1	Legal and commercial name of the Issuer:	The Royal Bank of Scotland plc (the " Issuer " or " RBS plc ").
B.2	Domicile and legal form of the Issuer, legislation under which it operates and country of incorporation of Issuer:	The Issuer is a public limited company incorporated in Scotland with registration number SC090312 and was incorporated under Scots law on 31 October 1984.
B.4b	Known trends with respect to the Issuer:	Key broad trends which affect the businesses and performance of the Issuer, the Group and the RBS Group (each as defined in B.5 below): The RBS Group's ability to implement its new strategic plan and achieve its capital goals depends on the success of its efforts to refocus on its core strengths and the timely divestment of RBS Citizens. The RBS Group has undertaken since 2009 an extensive restructuring, including the disposal of non-core assets as well as businesses as part of the State Aid restructuring plan approved by the EC. The RBS Group recently created RBS Capital Resolution Group ("RCR") to manage the run down of problem assets with a clear aspiration to remove such assets from the balance sheet in three years. The ability to dispose of assets and businesses and the price achieved for such disposals will be dependent on prevailing economic and market conditions, which remain challenging, and there is no assurance that the RBS Group will be able to sell or run down (as applicable) those remaining businesses it is seeking to exit or asset portfolios either on favourable economic terms to the RBS Group or at all. The RBS Group has also taken steps to strengthen its capital position and established medium term targets which will require the timely divestment of RBS Citizens to achieve. Since the end of Q3 2013, the RBS Group has been conducting a review of its activities which has resulted in additional changes to the RBS Group's strategic goals. It is now intended to further simplify and downsize the RBS Group with an increased focus on service to its customers. As part of simplifying the RBS Group, the current divisional structure will be replaced by three new customer segments, covering Personal & Business, Commercial & Private Banking and Corporate & Institutional Banking. As part of this reorganisation of the business, the intention will be to remain in businesses where the RBS Group can be number one for its customers.

		For those businesses where that is not the case, the RBS Group will either fix, close or dispose of such businesses. This reorganisation, together with investment in technology and more efficient support functions are intended to deliver significant improvements in the RBS Group's Return on Equity and costs: income ratio in the longer term. The level of structural change required to implement the RBS Group's strategic and capital goals together with other regulatory requirements such as ring fencing are likely to be disruptive and increase operational risks for the RBS Group. There is no assurance that the RBS Group will be able to successfully implement its new strategy on which its capital plan depends or achieve its goals within the time frames contemplated or at all. Despite the improved outlook for the global economy over the near to medium-term, actual or perceived difficult global economic conditions and increased competition, particularly in the UK, create challenging economic and market conditions and a difficult operating environment for the RBS Group's businesses. The Group has material exposure to borrowers in a number of sectors, particularly shipping. This sector has experienced falling revenues and declining asset values. If global economic growth remains subdued, losses in these sectors may increase unexpectedly. All of these factors, together with additional uncertainty relating to the recovery of the Eurozone economy where the RBS Group has significant exposure and the risk of a return of volatile financial markets, in part due to the monetary policies and measures carried out by central banks, contributed to continued pressure on revenues, margins and return on equity across the financial sector, and have adversely affected and will continue to adversely affect the RBS Group's businesses, earnings, financial condition and prospects. Although the outcome of the referendum on Scottish independence is uncertain, subject to any mitigating factors, the uncertainties resulting from an affirmative vote in favour of independence would be likely to significantly impact the RBS Group's credit ratings and could also impact the fiscal, monetary, legal and regulatory landscape to which the RBS Group is subject. Were Scotland to become independent, it may also affect Scotland's status in the EU. The occurrence of any of the impacts above could significantly impact the RBS Group's costs and would have a material adverse effect on the RBS Group's business, financial condition, results of operations, and prospects. The RBS Group is subject to substantial regulation and oversight, and any significant regulatory or legal developments such as those which have occurred over the past several years could have an adverse effect on how the Group conducts its business and on its results of operations and financial condition. Certain regulatory measures introduced in the UK and in Europe relating to ring-fencing of bank activities may affect the Group's borrowing costs, may impact product offerings and the viability of certain business models and require significant restructuring with the possible transfer of a large number of customers between legal entities. The RBS Group is subject to a number of regulatory initiatives which may adversely affect its business, including the UK Government's adoption of the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013, the US Federal Reserve's new rules for applying US capital, liquidity and enhanced prudential standards to certain of the RBS Group's US operations and ongoing reforms in the European Union with respect to capital requirements, stability and resolution of financial institutions, including CRD IV and other currently debated proposals such as the
--	--	--

		Resolution and Recovery Directive (RRD). The RBS Group's ability to meet its obligations including its funding commitments depends on the RBS Group's ability to access sources of liquidity and funding. The inability to access liquidity and funding due to market conditions or otherwise or to do so at a reasonable cost due to increased regulatory constraints, could adversely affect the Group's financial condition and results of operations. Furthermore, the RBS Group's borrowing costs and its access to the debt capital markets and other sources of liquidity depend significantly on its and the UK Government's credit ratings which would be likely to be negatively impacted by political events, such as an affirmative outcome of the referendum for the independence of Scotland. The RBS Group's business performance, financial condition and capital and liquidity ratios could be adversely affected if its capital is not managed effectively or as a result of changes to capital adequacy and liquidity requirements, including those arising out of Basel III implementation (globally or by European, UK or US authorities) as well as structural changes that may result from the implementation of ring-fencing under the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013 or proposed changes of the US Federal Reserve with respect to the RBS Group's US operations. The Group's ability to reach its target capital ratios in the medium term will turn on a number of factors including a significant downsizing of the Group in part through the sale of RBS Citizens. The RBS Group is, and may be, subject to litigation and regulatory and governmental investigations that may impact its business, reputation, results of operations and financial condition. For example, the RBS Group is involved in ongoing class action litigation, investigations into foreign exchange trading and rate setting activities, continuing LIBOR related litigation and investigations, securitisation and securities related litigation, and anti-money laundering, sanctions, mis-selling and compliance related investigations, in addition to a number of other matters. Although the RBS Group settled a number of legal proceedings and regulatory investigations during 2013, the RBS Group is expected to continue to have a material exposure to legacy litigation and regulatory matter proceedings in the medium term. Material additional provisions were required by the RBS Group in 2013 to cover various claims and conduct related matters affecting RBS Group companies. The RBS Group also expects greater regulatory and governmental scrutiny for the foreseeable future particularly as it relates to compliance with new and existing laws and regulations such as corporate governance, employee compensation, conduct of business, anti-money laundering and anti-terrorism laws and regulations, as well as the provisions of applicable sanctions programmes and the impact of the increasing focus on conduct risk and customer outcomes. The RBS Group is highly dependent on its information technology systems and has been and will continue to be subject to cyber attacks which expose the RBS Group to fraudulent activity and loss of customer data or other sensitive information. Failures of the RBS Group's information technology systems could, among other things, hinder its ability to service its clients which could result in long-term damage to the RBS Group's business and brand. RBSG or any of its UK bank subsidiaries may face the risk of full nationalisation or other resolution procedures, including recapitalisation of RBSG or any of its UK bank subsidiaries through bail-in which has been introduced by the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013

		and will come into force on a date stipulated by HM Treasury. These various actions could be taken by or on behalf of the UK Government, including actions in relation to any securities issued and new or existing contractual arrangements and transfers of part or all of the RBS Group's businesses. As a result of the UK Government's majority shareholding in RBSG it may be able to exercise a significant degree of influence over the RBS Group including on dividend policy, the election of directors or appointment of senior management or limiting the RBS Group's operations. The offer or sale by the UK Government of all or a portion of its shareholding in RBSG could affect the market price of the equity shares and other securities. The actual or perceived failure or worsening credit of the RBS Group's counterparties or borrowers, including sovereigns in the Eurozone, and depressed asset valuations resulting from poor market conditions have led the RBS Group to realise and recognise significant impairment charges and write-downs which have adversely affected the RBS Group and could continue to adversely affect the RBS Group if, due to a deterioration in economic and financial market conditions or continuing weak economic growth, it were to recognise or realise further write-downs or impairment charges. Recent developments in regulatory or tax legislation and any further significant developments could have an effect on how the Group conducts its business and on its results of operations and financial condition, and the recoverability of certain deferred tax assets recognised by the Group is subject to uncertainty. The RBS Group is required to make contributions to its pension schemes and to compensation schemes in respect of certain financial institutions, either of which, independently or in conjunction with additional or increased contribution requirements may have an adverse impact on the Group's results of operations, cash flow and financial condition. The RBS Group has a number of major projects underway, the successful conclusion of which is essential if it is to meet new regulatory and strategic requirements. These new requirements affect its organisational structure, its business strategies, its information technology systems, its operational processes and its product offerings. Given the number, scale and complexity of these projects, the RBS Group may not complete them successfully, or at all. If the RBS Group does not complete these projects successfully, the interests of customers may be affected, necessitating customer redress. The RBS Group may also incur regulatory fines, lose market share and suffer damage to its reputation. The RBS Group is undergoing significant organisational change, the result of a need to implement new business strategies and respond to a changing external environment. The pace of change, coupled with the associated uncertainty may cause experienced staff members to leave the RBS Group and prospective staff members not to join. If it cannot retain or attract the necessary staff members, the RBS Group may be unable to implement its business strategies or meet regulatory requirements on time, or at all. It may also experience control failures. The Group's reputation may suffer as a result.
B.5	The Issuer's group:	The Issuer (together with its subsidiaries consolidated in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, the "Group") is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Royal Bank of Scotland Group plc

SECTION D – RISKS
D.2	Key risks specific to the Issuer:	The Issuer could fail or otherwise be unable to make the payments owing under the Securities. If that happens, you will not have the protection of any deposit insurance scheme and your Securities will not be secured, and you may lose some or up to all of your money. As part of a leading global financial services group the Issuer is subject to a number of key risks of the RBS Group:

RISK FACTORS

The Issuer believes that the factors described below may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities. Most of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur and which could have a material adverse effect on the Issuer's businesses, operations, financial condition or prospects, which, in turn, could have a material adverse effect on the return investors will receive on the Securities. The Issuer does not express a view on the likelihood of any such contingency occurring.

In addition, factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market and other risk factors associated with the Securities are described below.

The Issuer believes that the factors described below are material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with the Securities and represent the material risks inherent in investing in Securities, but these are not the only risks that the Issuer faces or that may arise under the Securities. There will be other risks that the Issuer does not currently consider to be material, or risks that the Issuer is currently not aware of, or risks that arise due to circumstances specific to the investor, and the Issuer does not represent that the statements below regarding the risks of holding any Securities are exhaustive. Prospective investors should also read the detailed information set out elsewhere in this Base Prospectus and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision.

Before making an investment decision with respect to any Securities, prospective investors may wish to consult their own stockbroker, bank manager, lawyer, accountant or other financial, legal and tax advisers and carefully review the risks entailed by an investment in the Securities and consider such an investment decision in the light of the prospective investor's personal circumstances.

Factors that may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities

Securities are general unsecured obligations of the Issuer. Holders are exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer. The Securities will be adversely affected in the event of a default, reduced credit rating or deterioration in the solvency of the Issuer.

Each potential investor in the Securities should refer to the "Risk Factors" section of the Registration Document incorporated by reference into this Base Prospectus, and any supplement to this Base Prospectus which update or amend the Risk Factors, for a description of those factors which may affect the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Securities.

Disposal of structured retail investor products and equity derivatives business

RBS has announced that it has reached agreement with BNP Paribas S.A. ("BNP Paribas") for the disposal of certain assets and liabilities related to its structured retail investor products and equity derivatives businesses, as well as associated market-making activities (the "Proposed Transaction"). The Proposed Transaction is subject to competition approval and it is anticipated that it will be implemented on a phased basis during 2014 and 2015. The consideration is not material within the context of the RBS Group but the Proposed Transaction is expected to transfer risk management of up to £15bn of liabilities over time. As part of the Proposed Transaction, where available, statutory transfer schemes will be used to effect a legal transfer of eligible transactions to BNP Paribas or one of its affiliates. In particular, RBS and BNP Paribas will work together with the aim of implementing a banking business transfer scheme pursuant to Part VII of the UK Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, which will be subject, amongst other matters, to court and regulatory approvals. This means that BNP Paribas or one of its affiliates may become the issuer of a number of securities issued by RBS plc, which may include some or all of the Securities. There is no assurance that BNP Paribas or one of its affiliates will become the issuer of any Securities or, if it does, when that might occur. However, if Securities are transferred to BNP Paribas or one of its affiliates, the fact of such transfer and/or that any transferee may be a company incorporated in a different jurisdiction might affect (either positively or negatively) the value of such Securities and/or the holders of such Securities, whether for tax reasons or otherwise.

Factors which are material for the purpose of assessing the market or other risks associated with the Securities

1. Factors relating to particular features of the Securities

(a) Investors may lose up to the entire value of their investment

As indicated in their title, the Securities will either be "long" or "short" turbo certificates.

Turbo "long" certificates: if the value of the Reference Asset rises, the value of a turbo "long" certificate will rise, taking into account any applicable foreign exchange rate and subject to the degree of leverage. However, if the value of the Reference Asset falls, the value of a turbo "long" certificate will also fall. Depending on how far the value of the Reference Asset falls (and taking into account any applicable foreign exchange rate and subject to the degree of leverage), an investor could lose up to the entire value of the investment. Investors in Securities which are turbo "long" certificates must expect to suffer a loss if the value of the Reference Asset falls.

Turbo "short" certificates: if the value of the Reference Asset falls, the value of a turbo "short" certificate will rise, taking into account any applicable foreign exchange rate and subject to the degree of leverage. However, if the value of the Reference Asset rises, the value of a turbo "short" certificate will fall. Depending on how far the value of the Reference Asset rises (and taking into account any applicable foreign exchange rate and subject to the degree of leverage), an investor could lose up to the entire value of the investment. Investors in Securities which are turbo "short" certificates must expect to suffer a loss if the value of the Reference Asset rises.

Investors may lose up to the entire value of their investment, depending on the performance of the Reference Asset.

- (b) Due to the leverage feature, an investment in the Securities is more speculative than a direct investment in the Reference Asset, and you could lose up to the entire value of your investment

The Securities enable investors to participate in any gains or falls in the value of the Reference Asset by investing only part of the value of the Reference Asset with the remaining portion financed by the Issuer. This creates leverage. The size of the leverage depends on the purchase price of the Securities compared to the value of the Reference Asset at the time of purchase. The lower the purchase price of the Securities is compared to the value of the Reference Asset, the higher the leverage will be.

Due to this leverage feature, the percentage gain if the value of the Reference Asset rises (in the case of long certificates) or falls (in the case of short certificates) and the percentage loss if the Reference Asset falls (in the case of long certificates) or rises (in the case of short certificates) is much higher in the Securities compared to a direct investment in the Reference Asset. This is the leverage effect. Investors should be aware that a small movement in the value of the Reference Asset can have a significant effect on the value of the Securities. The higher the leverage, the more sensitive the Securities will be to any changes in the value of the Reference Asset.

- (c) The issue price of the Securities may be more than the market value of the Securities on the issue date and the price of the Securities in secondary market transactions

The price at which a Holder will be able to sell Securities (if any) may be at a potentially substantial discount to the market value of the Securities at the issue date, if, at such time and in addition to any other factors, the value of the Reference Asset is below, equal to or not sufficiently above the value of the Reference Asset at the issue date. The value of the Securities will fluctuate commencing from the issue date.

- (d) The Securities will be automatically terminated on the occurrence of a Stop Loss Event

If the value of the Reference Asset is less than or equal to the Stop Loss Price (in the case of turbo long certificates) or greater than or equal to the Stop Loss Price (in the case of turbo short certificates) at any time during the term of the Securities, then the Securities will be automatically terminated and Holders will not benefit from any movement in the Reference Asset after the Stop Loss Event has occurred. The Stop Loss Event feature aims to limit the maximum loss on the Securities.

- (e) The Securities can be terminated at any time by the Issuer at its option

Pursuant to an Issuer Call, the Securities may be terminated by the Issuer in its discretion at any time. Accordingly, the Securities may be terminated by the Issuer in circumstances in which the investor would otherwise have realised a greater return on the Securities if they had not been so terminated. Also, the investor may be unable to reinvest the Issuer Call Cash Amount in an investment that provides an equivalent return.

- (f) Constant Leverage Turbo Certificates are short term investment products, and their performance can differ significantly from the performance of the Reference Asset over longer periods of time, particularly in volatile market conditions

Constant Leverage Turbo Certificates use leverage to attempt to multiply the performance of the reference asset they track. Constant Leverage Turbo Long Certificates attempt to allow investors to profit from short term rises in the value of the Reference Asset, while Constant Leverage Turbo Short Certificates attempt to allow investors to profit from short term decreases in the value of the Reference Asset. Constant Leverage Index Turbo Certificates are designed to achieve its stated objective on a daily basis; as a result, the leverage level is reset to its target level on a daily basis. Due to this daily reset feature, the performance of a Constant Leverage Turbo Certificate can differ significantly from the performance of the Reference Asset over longer periods of time. In volatile market conditions, these effects can be magnified. An investor holding a Constant Leverage Turbo Long Certificate for longer than one trading day could incur significant losses over intermediate and long terms even if the value of the Reference Asset increases during that period. An investor holding a Constant Leverage Turbo Short Certificate for longer than one trading day could incur significant losses over intermediate and long terms even if the value of the Reference Asset decreases during that period. For these reasons, Constant Leverage Turbo Certificates are designed for investors with short term investment horizons. Buy-and-hold investors with intermediate and long term investment horizons should carefully consider whether Constant Leverage Turbo Certificates are appropriate for their investment needs as they are not designed for intermediate and long term investment.

(g) Investors in Booster Turbo Certificates will lose the entire value of their investment if a Stop Loss Event occurs

If Commodity Booster Turbo Long Certificates, Commodity Booster Turbo Short Certificates, Currency Booster Turbo Long Certificates, Currency Booster Turbo Short Certificates, Index Booster Turbo Long Certificates or Index Booster Turbo Short Certificates are terminated following the occurrence of a Stop Loss Event, the Stop Loss Cash Amount shall be zero, and Holders shall not be entitled to any payment in respect of the Securities on the Settlement Date.

(h) The Calculation Agent has discretion under the terms and conditions of the Securities to make a number of determinations which could have a material adverse effect on the value of the Securities

Under the terms and conditions of the Securities, the Calculation Agent has discretion to make determinations in relation to a number of potential features of the Securities, including in relation to certain inputs used to calculate the cash amount payable on the Securities, such as the current financing level, the funding cost, the current spread and the exchange rate (if any). In exercising such discretion, the Calculation Agent acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders. Potential investors should be aware that any determination made by the Calculation Agent may have a material adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

2. Factors relating to all securities offered under the LaunchPAD Programme (including the Securities)

(a) The Securities may not be a suitable investment for all investors

Each potential investor in the Securities must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- (i) have sufficient knowledge and experience (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) to make a meaningful evaluation of the Securities, the merits and risks of investing in the Securities and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Base Prospectus or any relevant Final Terms;
- (ii) have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the Securities and the impact the Securities will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (iii) have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Securities, including Securities with principal or other amounts payable in one or more currencies, or where the currency for principal or other payments is different from the potential investor's currency;

- (iv) understand thoroughly the terms of the Securities and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets;
- (v) be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks; and
- (vi) NOT consider that the issue of Securities linked to a particular Reference Asset is a recommendation by the Issuer or any Dealer to invest (whether directly or indirectly) in that Reference Asset or any of its constituent elements or any particular Series of Securities. The Issuer and/or its affiliates may make investment decisions for themselves which differ from those that a potential investor would make by investing in the Securities. In particular, investment decisions of the Issuer and/or its affiliates are based on their current economic circumstances, overall credit exposure, overall market risk exposure, internal risk tolerance and economic conditions, which are subject to change. The Issuer is not required to hold the Reference Asset (or its constituent elements) as a hedge and it may choose not to do so.

The Securities are complex financial instruments. Sophisticated institutional investors generally do not purchase complex financial instruments as stand-alone investments. They purchase complex financial instruments as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in Securities which are complex financial instruments unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Securities will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Securities and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

(b) The value of the Securities may fluctuate

The value of the Securities may move up and down between their date of purchase and their exercise date or termination date (as the case may be). Several factors, many of which are beyond the Issuer's control, will influence the value of the Securities at any time, including the following:

- (i) Valuation of the Reference Asset. The market price of the Securities at any time is expected to be affected primarily by changes in the value of the Reference Asset to which such Securities are linked. It is impossible to predict how the value of the relevant Reference Asset will vary over time. Factors which may have an effect on the value of the Reference Asset include the rate of return of the Reference Asset and the financial position and prospects of the issuer of the Reference Asset or any component thereof. In addition, the value of the Reference Asset may depend on a number of interrelated factors, including economic, financial and political events and their effect on the capital markets generally and relevant stock exchanges. The value of the Reference Asset will also depend on the supply and demand of such Reference Asset and whether there are any similar alternatives to the Reference Asset. Potential investors should also note that whilst the market value of the Securities is linked to the relevant Reference Asset and will be influenced (positively or negatively) by it, any change may not be comparable and may be disproportionate. It is possible that while the Reference Asset is increasing (in the case of long certificates) or decreasing (in the case of short certificates) in value, the value of the Securities may fall.
- (ii) Interest Rates. Investments in the Securities may involve interest rate risk. An increase in market interest rates may increase the cost of financing and the value of the Securities could fall (in the case of long certificates) or rise (in the case of short certificates). If market interest rates decline, this may reduce the cost of financing and the value of the Securities could rise (in the case of long certificates) or fall (in the case of short certificates). In addition, following any early termination of the Securities, investors in the Securities may not be able to reinvest the proceeds at any effective interest rate as high as the yield on the Securities being terminated. A variety of factors influence interest rates such as macro economic, governmental, speculative and market sentiment factors. Such fluctuations may have an impact on the value of the Securities at any time prior to valuation of the Reference Asset relating to the Securities.

- (iii) Volatility of the Reference Asset. The term "volatility" refers to the actual and anticipated frequency and magnitude of changes of the market price with respect to a Reference Asset. Volatility is affected by a number of factors such as macro economic factors, speculative trading and supply and demand in the options, futures and other derivatives markets relating to the Reference Asset. Volatility of a Reference Asset will move up and down over time (sometimes more sharply than other assets) and different Reference Assets will most likely have separate volatilities at any particular time.
- (iv) Exchange Rates. Even where payments in respect of the Securities are not expressly linked to a rate or rates of exchange between currencies, the value of the Securities could, in certain circumstances, be affected by such factors as fluctuations in the rates of exchange between any currency in which any payment in respect of the Securities is to be made and any currency in which the Reference Asset is traded, appreciation or depreciation of any such currencies and any existing or future or governmental or other restrictions on the exchangeability of such currencies. There can be no assurance that rates of exchange between any relevant currencies which are current rates at the date of issue of any Securities will be representative of the relevant rates of exchange used in computing the value of the relevant Securities at any time thereafter. Where Securities are described as being "quanto", the value of the Reference Asset will be converted from one currency (the "Original Currency") into a new currency (the "New Currency") on the date and in the manner specified in, or implied by, the terms and conditions of the Securities using a fixed exchange rate. The cost to the Issuer of maintaining a fixed exchange rate between the Original Currency and the New Currency will have an implication on the value of the Securities. The implication will vary during the term of the Securities. No assurance can be given as to whether or not, taking into account relative exchange rate and interest rate fluctuations between the Original Currency and the New Currency, a quanto feature in a Security would at any time enhance the return on the Security over a level of a similar security issued without such a quanto feature. Further, the Issuer may charge a fee to provide the quanto feature and such fee will lower the value of the Securities.
- (v) Disruption of the Reference Asset. If so indicated in the terms and conditions of the Securities, the Calculation Agent may determine, by observing external factors, that a Market Disruption Event, or other extraordinary event has occurred or exists at a relevant time. Any such determination may affect the value of the Securities and/or delay settlement in respect of the Securities. Prospective purchasers should review the terms and conditions of the Securities to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.
- (vi) Creditworthiness. Any person who purchases the Securities is relying upon the creditworthiness of the Issuer to repay the value of those Securities and has no recourse, in that respect, against any other person. The Securities constitute general, unsecured, contractual obligations of the Issuer and of no other person. The Securities rank pari passu (that is, without preference) among themselves. Investors in Securities may therefore lose the entire value of their investment or part of it should the Issuer be unable to pay its debts as they become due.

(c) There may not be a secondary market in the Securities

The nature and extent of any secondary market in the Securities cannot be predicted. As a consequence any person intending to hold the Securities should consider liquidity in the Securities as a risk. If the Securities are listed or quoted on an exchange or quotation system this does not imply greater or lesser liquidity than if equivalent Securities were not so listed or quoted. If the Issuer or one of its affiliates is the sole market maker for a Series of Securities on an exchange, then the liquidity and pricing of such Securities may be different than what the liquidity and pricing would be if there were multiple parties providing such market making services.

If Securities are not listed or quoted there may be a lack of transparency with regard to pricing information. Liquidity may also be affected by legal restrictions on offers for sale in certain jurisdictions. The Issuer may affect the liquidity of the Securities by purchasing and holding the Securities for its own account during trading in the secondary market. Any such Securities may be resold at any time into the market.

If the Securities are not listed or quoted on an exchange, and therefore not subject to the exchange trading rules, then the Issuer may, in its sole and absolute discretion, decide to offer a secondary market in the Securities. In the event that the Issuer elects to offer such secondary market, the Issuer shall be entitled to impose such conditions as it, in its sole and absolute discretion, shall deem fit, including but not limited to:

- (i) providing a large bid/offer spread determined by the Issuer in its sole and absolute discretion by reference to the Issuer's own appreciation of the risks involved in providing such secondary market;
- (ii) providing the timing that any secondary market quotation will remain actionable, or in any event, not longer than what the Issuer considers a reasonable time;
- (iii) normal market conditions prevailing at such date; and
- (iv) limiting the number of Securities in respect of which it is prepared to offer such secondary market.

Holder should note that the imposition of any of the above conditions may severely limit the availability of any such secondary market and may result in Holders receiving significantly less than they would otherwise have received if the Securities were terminated at maturity.

The Issuer may determine a secondary market price in a different manner than other market participants, and prices can vary. Sometimes this variance may be substantial. If the Securities are not traded on any exchange, pricing information may be more difficult to obtain and the liquidity and price of the Securities may be adversely affected. The secondary market price of Securities will depend on a variety of factors including, but not limited to, the creditworthiness of the Issuer, the time to maturity or expiry of the Securities, the then current funding levels of the Issuer taking into consideration market conditions and the cost to replace a funding amount represented by the Securities being repurchased for a tenor equivalent to the time to maturity or expiry, and the value of the Reference Asset.

For example, without taking into consideration the value of the Reference Asset, if a Series of Securities was due to mature in three years' time and a Holder wanted the Issuer to repurchase its holdings in those Securities, the Issuer may, among other matters, calculate what it would cost to replace the funding amount represented by the Holder's repurchase request for the remaining term of the Securities (in this example three years). The then current market conditions affecting the Issuer's ability to borrow funds for a three year term would influence the level of the secondary market price. The higher the current funding levels for the Issuer as compared to funding levels for a similar term on the issue date, the more likely the secondary market price of the Securities would be negatively affected (without taking into consideration the current value of the Reference Asset). The lower the current funding levels for the Issuer as compared to funding levels for a similar term on the issue date, the more likely the secondary market price of the Securities would be positively affected (without taking into consideration the current value of the Reference Asset).

Any bid/offer spread will be subject to the Issuer's discretion. Any market making activity commenced may be discontinued at any time subject to any exchange requirements.

(d) Holders have no ownership interest in the Reference Asset

The Securities convey no interest in the Reference Asset. The Issuer may choose not to hold the Reference Asset or any derivatives contracts linked to the Reference Asset. There is no restriction through the issue of the Securities on the ability of the Issuer and/or its affiliates to buy, sell, pledge or otherwise convey all right, title and interest in any Reference Asset or any derivatives contracts linked to the Reference Asset. Holders will have no rights of ownership, including, without limitation, any voting rights, any rights to receive dividends or other distributions or any other rights with respect to any Reference Asset referenced by such Securities.

(e) Past performance of a Reference Asset is not indicative of future performance

Any information about the past performance of the Reference Asset at the time of the issuance of the Security should not be regarded as indicative of the range of, or trends in, fluctuations in the Reference Asset that may occur in the future. Past performance should not be considered indicative of future performance as markets are unpredictable and subject to change.

(f) A Payment Disruption Event may lead to a delay in payment and, if it continues, to payment in an alternate currency

If "Payment Disruption" is specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms, and in the event that the Issuer determines that the Settlement Currency is not (or is not expected to be) available to the Issuer for the making of any payment due or shortly to be due under the Securities, then a "Payment Disruption Event" shall have occurred and such payment will be postponed until the event is no longer continuing. No interest shall be payable in the event of such postponement. If the Payment Disruption Event is still continuing 180 calendar days after the date on which notice of such Payment Disruption Event was first given, then the Issuer may make the outstanding payment in an alternate currency (at a rate of exchange determined by the Issuer, and after deduction of expenses for resolving the Payment Disruption Event).

(g) Occurrence of Additional Disruption Events

Additional Disruption Events in respect of a Reference Asset are essentially events which impair or render more costly the Issuer's hedge positions in relation to its obligation under the Securities, including due to a change in law, imposition of currency controls or other events outside of the control of the Issuer and its agents which impact the Issuer's ability to hedge its obligations. If the relevant Additional Disruption Event is applicable (being specified as such in the relevant Final Terms) and such event occurs, the Calculation Agent has discretion to make certain determinations to account for such event including to (i) make adjustments to the terms of the Securities, and/or (ii) cause an early termination of the Securities (see risk factor 2(i) (The Securities may be terminated early due to an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset or an Additional Disruption Event) and risk factor 2(j) (The Securities may be terminated early for reasons of illegality, tax or (if applicable) illiquidity) below), any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

(h) Calculation Agent determination of an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset, adjustment to or early termination of the Securities

If the Calculation Agent determines that an adjustment event in relation to a Reference Asset has occurred, the Calculation Agent may adjust the terms and conditions of the Securities (without the consent of the Holders) or may cause the early termination of the Securities, in each case, in accordance with such terms and conditions (see risk factor 2(i) (The Securities may be terminated early due to an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset or an Additional Disruption Event) and risk factor 2(j) (The Securities may be terminated early for reasons of illegality, tax or (if applicable) illiquidity) below). Examples of adjustment events include, but are not limited to, (i) corporate actions in relation to a Reference Asset, (ii) a merger of an issuer of a Reference Asset into another entity, and (iii) the delisting of a Reference Asset.

(i) The Securities may be terminated early due to an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset or an Additional Disruption Event

If the Issuer determines that an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset or an Additional Disruption Event has occurred, the Issuer may at its discretion terminate the Securities at any time. If the Issuer terminates early the Securities, the Issuer will pay the Holder of each such Security the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount. The "Unscheduled Early Termination Amount" will be the fair market value of the Securities immediately prior to early redemption (ignoring the relevant event (in the case of early termination for illegality) or the financial position of the Issuer immediately prior to the Event of Default (in the case of early termination following an Event of Default)), (unless "Deduction for Hedge Costs" is specified to be not applicable in the relevant Final Terms) less the cost to the Issuer (and its affiliates) of unwinding any related hedging arrangements in relation to such Securities. The Unscheduled Early Termination Amount may be less than the Holder's initial investment and may be as low as zero.

Following any such early termination of the Securities, investors may not be able to reinvest the proceeds at any effective interest rate as high as the yield on the Securities being terminated. Purchasers of the Securities should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

See also risk factor 2(g) (Occurrence of Additional Disruption Events) and risk factor 2(h) (Calculation Agent determination of an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset, adjustment to or early termination of the Securities) above.

(j) The Securities may be terminated early for reasons of illegality, tax or (if applicable) illiquidity

If the Issuer determines that:

- (i) the performance of its obligations under the Securities has become illegal (see General Term 8(a) (Illegality));
- (ii) (A) payments made on the Securities will become subject to U.S. withholding tax or (B) following a change in law, the performance of its obligations under the Securities has resulted in, or will result in, the Issuer or any affiliate not being entitled to tax relief in respect of any losses, costs or expenses incurred in relation to the Securities (in each case, where such amounts are material to the Issuer) (see General Term 8(b) (Tax)); or
- (iii) unless the relevant Final Terms specifies that "Early termination for illiquidity" is not applicable, (A) the aggregate nominal amount outstanding with respect to such Series of Securities is less than EUR 500,000 or its equivalent in another currency, (B) the percentage of the aggregate nominal amount outstanding with respect to such Series of Securities is less than five per cent. of the originally issued aggregate nominal amount" or (C) the number of Securities of such Series outstanding is less than 1,000 (see General Term 8(c) (Illiquidity)), the Issuer may in its discretion terminate the Securities prior to scheduled maturity. In such case, the Issuer will pay to the Holder of each such Security the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount (provided that, in the circumstance of (i) or (ii) above, only to the extent permitted by applicable law).

The "Unscheduled Early Termination Amount" will be the fair market value of the Securities immediately prior to early redemption (ignoring the relevant event (in the case of early termination for illegality) or the financial position of the Issuer immediately prior to the Event of Default (in the case of early termination following an Event of Default)), (unless "Deduction for Hedge Costs" is specified to be not applicable in the relevant Final Terms) less the cost to the Issuer (and its affiliates) of unwinding any related hedging arrangements in relation to such Securities. The Unscheduled Early Termination Amount may be less than the Holder's initial investment and may be as low as zero.

Following any such early termination of the Securities, investors may not be able to reinvest the proceeds at any effective interest rate as high as the yield on the Securities being terminated. Purchasers of the Securities should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

See also risk factor 2(dd) (Force Majeure) and risk factor 2(i) (The Securities may be terminated early due to an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset or an Additional Disruption Event).

- (k) In making discretionary determinations under the Terms and Conditions of the Securities, the Issuer and the Calculation Agent may take into account the impact on the relevant hedging arrangements. Such determinations could have a material adverse effect on the value of the Securities and could result in their early termination

In order to ensure that its ongoing exposure to the potential payment obligations under the Securities is appropriately managed, the Issuer (directly or through an affiliate) may (but is not obliged to) enter into hedging arrangements to cover off some or all of its exposure. The ability to enter into hedging arrangements is typically a fundamental risk management pre-requisite in enabling the Issuer to create the Securities and impacts the price at which the Issuer is able to offer the Securities.

Accordingly, in the exercise of its various discretionary determinations under the Terms and Conditions of the Securities (see risk factor 2(g) (Occurrence of Additional Disruption Events), risk factor 2(h) (Calculation Agent determination of an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset, adjustment to or early termination of the Securities), risk factor 2(i) (The Securities may be terminated early due to an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset or an Additional Disruption Event) and risk factor 2(j) (The Securities may be terminated early for reasons of illegality, tax or (if applicable) illiquidity) above), the Issuer and the Calculation Agent may take into account the impact on the Issuer's hedging arrangements for the Securities – whether to determine if an event has occurred (e.g., an "Additional Disruption Event" or "Extraordinary Event" or analogous event under the applicable Asset Terms) or what the consequences of such event should be (e.g., adjustment to the Terms and Conditions of the Securities or early termination of the Securities).

In making any discretionary determinations under the Terms and Conditions, the Issuer and the Calculation Agent shall act at all times in good faith and (except where the Terms and Conditions specify that the Issuer or the Calculation Agent shall act in its sole and absolute discretion) in a commercially reasonable manner. Further, the Issuer and the Calculation Agent shall take into account the effect of such determination on the Securities and consider whether the fair treatment of investors is achieved by such determination in accordance with its regulatory obligations. Nevertheless, for the reasons discussed above, the Issuer and the Calculation Agent may take into account the impact of the particular event on the relevant hedging arrangements, and any such discretionary determination could result in the Securities losing some or all of their value and/or early termination of the Securities (as described in risk factor 2(g) (Occurrence of Additional Disruption Events), risk factor 2(h) (Calculation Agent determination of an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset, adjustment to or early termination of the Securities), risk factor 2(i) (The Securities may be terminated early due to an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset or an Additional Disruption Event) and risk factor 2(j) (The Securities may be terminated early for reasons of illegality, tax or (if applicable) illiquidity) above).

(l) Actions taken by the Calculation Agent may have a negative impact on the value of the Securities

The Calculation Agent is the agent of the Issuer and not the agent of the Holders or any of them. The Issuer may itself act as the Calculation Agent. The Calculation Agent will make such adjustments to the terms and conditions of the Securities as it considers appropriate as a consequence of Additional Disruption Events (see risk factor 2(g) (Occurrence of Additional Disruption Events)) or certain adjustment events (see risk factor 2(h) (Calculation Agent determination of an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset, adjustment to or early termination of the Securities)). In making these adjustments, the Calculation Agent is entitled to exercise substantial discretion and may be subject to conflicts of interest in exercising this discretion (see risk factor 4 (Factors relating to potential conflicts of interest of the Issuer)) below. The Calculation Agent is not required to make adjustments with respect to each and every Additional Disruption Event or adjustment event.

(m) There may be limitations on a Holder's right to exercise the Securities

If so indicated in the terms and conditions of the Securities, a Holder may have to tender a specified minimum number of the Securities at any one time in order to exercise the Securities. Thus Holders with fewer than the specified minimum number of such Securities will either have to sell their Securities to another party or purchase additional Securities, incurring transaction costs in each case, in order to realise a return on their investment, and may incur the risk that the trading price of the Securities at that time is different from, in the case of Securities settled in cash ("Cash Settled Securities"), the applicable Cash Amount, upon exercise.

(n) There may be delays in effecting settlement

If the Securities are subject to provisions relating to exercise, then upon their exercise, there will be a time lag between the time a Holder of the Securities gives instructions to exercise and the time the applicable Cash Amount (if the Securities are Cash Settled Securities) relating to such exercise is determined. Any such scheduled delay between the time of exercise and the determination of the Cash Amount will be specified in the terms and conditions of the Securities. However, such delay could be significantly longer, particularly in the case of a delay in exercise of such Securities arising from, as described above, any daily maximum exercise limitation or, as described above, any delay consequent upon the determination by the Calculation Agent that a Market Disruption Event occurred at any relevant time or a delay caused by a disruption to the settlement system itself. The applicable Cash Amount could decrease or increase from what it would have been but for such delay.

Prospective purchasers should review the terms and conditions of the Securities to ascertain whether and how such provisions apply to the Securities.

If the Securities are subject to provisions concerning delivery of a Notice and such Notice is received by either the relevant Clearing Agent, with a copy to the Principal Agent after the specified time in the terms and conditions of the Securities, it will be deemed to be duly delivered on the next following Business Day. Such deemed delay may increase or decrease the Cash Amount from what it would have been but for such deemed delivery. In the case of Securities which are exercisable on one day only or only during an exercise period, any Notice, if not delivered by the specified time, shall be void.

The failure to deliver any certifications required by the terms and conditions of the Securities could result in the loss or inability to receive amounts otherwise due under the Securities.

Securities not exercised in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Securities will (where exercise is required) expire worthless.

(o) Over-Issuance

As part of its issuing, market-making and/or trading arrangements, the Issuer may issue more Securities than those which are to be subscribed or purchased by third party investors. The Issuer (or any of its affiliates) may hold such Securities for the purpose of meeting any investor interest in the future or to satisfy market making requirements. Prospective investors in the Securities should therefore not regard the issue size of any Series as indicative of the depth or liquidity of the market for such Series, or of the demand for such Series. In the event that a secondary market does not develop, it is unlikely that an investor in the Securities will be able to sell his Securities or at prices that will provide him with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market.

(p) Risks relating to emerging markets

Where the Securities reference an emerging market Reference Asset, purchasers of such Securities should be aware that they may be subject to risks in addition to those risks normally associated with an investment relating to the respective type of Reference Asset. The political and economic situation in countries with emerging economies or stock markets may be undergoing significant evolution and rapid development, and such countries may lack the social, political and economic stability characteristics of more developed countries, which may result in a significant risk of high inflation and currency value fluctuation. Such instability may result from, among other things, authoritarian governments, or military involvement in political and economic decision-making, including changes or attempted changes in governments through extra-constitutional means; popular unrest associated with demands for improved political, economic or social conditions; internal insurgencies; hostile relations with neighbouring countries; and ethnic, religious and racial disaffections or conflict. Some of these countries may have in the past failed to recognise private property rights and have at times nationalised or expropriated the assets of private companies. As a result, the risks from investing in those countries, including the risks of nationalisation or restrictions being imposed on foreign purchasers, expropriation of assets, confiscatory taxation, confiscation or nationalisation of foreign bank deposits or other assets, the introduction of currency controls or other detrimental developments, which may financially impair investments in such countries, may be heightened. Such impairments can, under certain circumstances, last for long periods of time, i.e., weeks or years, and may result in the occurrence of market disruption events which means that no prices will be quoted for the Securities affected by such market disruption events. In addition, unanticipated political or social developments may affect the values of a Reference Asset investment in those countries. The small size and inexperience of the securities markets in certain countries and the limited volume of trading in securities may make the reference assets illiquid and more volatile than investments in more established markets. There may be little financial or accounting information available with respect to local issuers, and it may be difficult as a result to assess the value or prospects of the Reference Asset(s) and consequently it may be difficult to obtain a value for the Securities.

(q) Purchasing the Securities as a hedge may not be effective

Any person intending to use the Securities as a hedge instrument should recognise the correlation risk. The Securities may not be a perfect hedge to a Reference Asset or portfolio of which the Reference Asset forms a part. In addition, it may not be possible to liquidate the Securities at a level which directly reflects the price of the Reference Asset or portfolio of which the Reference Asset forms a part.

(r) Taxes may be payable by investors

Potential purchasers and sellers of the Securities should be aware that they may be required to pay stamp taxes or other documentary charges in accordance with the laws and practices of the country where the Securities are transferred. Holders are subject to the provisions of General Term 10 (Taxation) and accordingly each Holder shall be liable for and/or pay any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other similar payment (including any taxes due in relation to a financial transactions tax) in connection with the ownership of and/or any transfer or payment in respect of the Securities held by such Holder. For the avoidance of doubt, the Issuer shall not be liable for or otherwise obliged to pay any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other similar payment which may arise as a result of the ownership, transfer or exercise of any Securities. In relation to each Security, the relevant Holder shall be responsible for all Expenses (which includes any taxes due in relation to a financial transactions tax).

Potential purchasers who are in any doubt as to their tax position should consult their own independent tax advisers. In addition, potential purchasers should be aware that tax regulations and their application by the relevant taxation authorities change from time to time. Accordingly, it is not possible to predict the precise tax treatment which will apply at any given time.

(s) No tax gross-up

The Issuer shall have the right to withhold or deduct from any amount payable, such amount as shall be necessary to account for or to pay any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other similar payment. If payments on the Securities are or become subject to a withholding or deduction required by law or pursuant to an agreement with a taxing authority on account of any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature, the Issuer may therefore make the required withholding or deduction, as the case may be, and, if it does so, neither the Issuer nor the Principal Agent nor any other person shall pay any additional amounts to the Holders in respect of such withholding or deduction. See General Term 10 (Taxation).

(t) Payments on the Securities may be subject to U.S. withholding tax and/or early termination on account of U.S. withholding tax

Any payment on a Security that is characterised as a "Dividend Equivalent Payment" may become subject to a 30 per cent. U.S. withholding tax when made to a beneficial owner that is not a "United States person" as defined in section 7701(a)(30) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code (a "Non-U.S. holder"). For the avoidance of doubt, Securities may not be held by U.S. persons.

A Dividend Equivalent Payment is any payment that is directly or indirectly contingent upon, or determined by reference to, the payment of a U.S. source dividend (very generally, a dividend with respect to a U.S. corporation). Prior to 1 January 2016, Dividend Equivalent Payments will be subject to withholding if the Securities are characterised, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as (i) a securities lending transaction, (ii) a sale-repurchase transaction or (iii) a "specified notional principal contract" (an "SNPC"). An SNPC is any notional principal contract (i) in connection with the execution of which, any long party transfers or is deemed to transfer the underlying security to any short party, (ii) in connection with the termination of which, any short party transfers or is deemed to transfer the underlying security to any long party, (iii) with respect to which, the underlying security is not readily tradable on an established securities market, or (iv) in connection with the execution of which, the underlying security is posted as collateral by any short party with any long party. While none of the Securities are in the form of SNPCs, some, depending on their particular terms, may be so treated for US tax purposes.

Under proposed regulations, for payments made on or after 1 January 2016, any amounts due on financial instruments such as the Securities that are treated as attributable to dividends on U.S. equities or an index that includes U.S. equities may be treated as Dividend Equivalent Payments. In addition to SNPCs, the proposed regulations would treat a broad class of specified "equity linked instruments" ("ELIs") as generating Dividend Equivalent Payments. The proposed rules could apply even if payments on the Securities are determined without referencing dividends paid on the underlying equities or indices. However the Internal Revenue Service has stated that it intends to limit specified ELIs to ELIs issued on or after 90 days after the date of publication of the final regulations. It is uncertain whether the proposed regulations will be finalised, or if finalised, will be adopted in their current form. Accordingly, it is possible that payments on the Securities may be treated as Dividend Equivalent Payments. In addition, it is possible that a withholding agent will assume that any payment on the Securities referencing a U.S. equity or index of U.S. equities is subject to withholding as a Dividend Equivalent Payment.

The imposition of this U.S. withholding tax will reduce the amounts received by Non-U.S. holders. Neither the Issuer nor the Principal Agent nor any other person shall pay any additional amounts to the Non-U.S. holders in respect of such U.S. withholding. Additionally, the Issuer may elect to terminate the Securities, in accordance with General Term 8(b)(Tax), should this U.S. withholding tax apply to any current or future payments on the Securities. If a Non-U.S. holder becomes subject to this withholding tax, the Non-U.S. holder may be able to claim any exemptions under its applicable double tax treaty. Finally, if any payment on a Security is treated as a Dividend Equivalent Payment, payments, including principal or gross proceeds, on such a Security may be subject to withholding tax under FATCA as discussed in risk factor 2(u) (Foreign account tax compliance withholding and forced sale) below. The application and interpretation of the rules governing U.S. withholding tax on Dividend Equivalent Payments is subject to change.

(u) Foreign account tax compliance withholding and forced sale

The Issuer and other non-U.S. financial institutions through which payments on the Securities are made may be required to withhold tax at a rate of 30 per cent. on all, or a portion of, payments made after 30 June 2014 in respect of any Securities which are treated as equity for U.S. federal tax purposes, whenever issued, pursuant to the foreign account tax compliance provisions ("FATCA") of the Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act of 2010 or an intergovernmental agreement entered into in connection with FATCA. This withholding tax may be triggered if the Issuer is a foreign financial institution ("FFI") (as defined in FATCA) which enters into and complies with an agreement ("FATCA Agreement") with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service to provide certain information on its account holders (making the Issuer a "Participating FFI") and its account holders (or their beneficial owners thereof) either do not provide identifying information sufficient for the Issuer or an intermediary Participating FFI to determine whether the investor is subject to withholding under FATCA or the account holder is or holds its Security through a non-Participating FFI (as defined in FATCA). Alternatively, the intergovernmental agreement ("IGA") entered into (in connection with the implementation of FATCA) between the United Kingdom and the United States may require withholding on payments to an investor that does comply with the information reporting requirements or to any FFI to or through which payment on such Securities is made if such FFI is not a Participating FFI or otherwise exempt from FATCA withholding.

In addition, the Issuer may be required under a FATCA Agreement to close out (e.g., force the sale or redemption of) any Holder that does not comply with requests for identifying information under FATCA. In this event, the Holder may receive less than the then fair market value of such interest.

The application of FATCA to interest, principal or other amounts paid with respect to the Securities is not clear. If an amount in respect of U.S. withholding tax were to be deducted or withheld from interest, principal or other payments on the Securities as a result of a Holder's or beneficial owner's failure to comply with these rules, as a result of the Holder or beneficial owner being a non-Participating FFI, or as a result of the presence in the payment chain of a non-Participating FFI, none of the Issuer, any paying agent or any other person would, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Securities, be required to pay additional amounts as a result of the deduction or withholding of such tax. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected. Holders of the Securities should consult their own tax advisers on how these rules may apply to payments they receive under the Securities.

The application of FATCA to Securities may be addressed in a supplement to this Base Prospectus.

EACH HOLDER OF SECURITIES SHOULD CONSULT ITS OWN TAX ADVISER TO OBTAIN A MORE DETAILED EXPLANATION OF FATCA AND TO LEARN HOW THIS LEGISLATION MIGHT AFFECT EACH HOLDER IN ITS PARTICULAR CIRCUMSTANCE.

(v) Risks associated with Securities held in global form

The Securities will initially be held by or on behalf of one or more clearing systems specified in the relevant Final Terms (each a "Relevant Clearing System"), either in the form of a global Security which will be exchangeable for definitive Securities in the event of the closure of all Relevant Clearing Systems or in dematerialised form depending on the rules of the Relevant Clearing System. For as long as any Securities are held by or on behalf of a Relevant Clearing System, payments of principal (if any) and any other amounts will be made through the Relevant Clearing System, where required, against presentation or surrender (as the case may be) of any relevant global Security. The risk is that the bearer of the relevant global Security, typically a depositary or a nominee for a depositary for the Relevant Clearing System, or, in the case of Securities in dematerialised form, the Relevant Clearing System and not the Holder itself, shall be treated by the Issuer and any Agent as the sole holder of the relevant Securities with respect to the payment of principal (if any) and any other amounts payable in respect of the Securities. Holders therefore are required to look to the bearer of the relevant global Security or the Relevant Clearing System, as applicable, for their share of payments made by the Issuer in respect of Securities in global or dematerialised form, respectively. For the avoidance of doubt, an event of default shall not occur (and Holders accordingly shall not have the right to declare any Security(ies) immediately due and payable at the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount) in respect of the failure of any payment of any amount owing by the Issuer under the Securities to be made by or through the Relevant Clearing System to any Holder in the circumstance where the Issuer has paid such amount to the bearer of the global Security or the Relevant Clearing System, as applicable.

A Holder's beneficial interest in Securities which are held by or on behalf of a Relevant Clearing System will be transferable only in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of the Relevant Clearing System.

(w) Risk associated with nominee arrangements

Where a nominee service provider is used by an investor to hold Securities or such investor holds interests in any Security through accounts with a Relevant Clearing System, such investor will receive payments in respect of principal or any other amounts due solely on the basis of the arrangements entered into by the investor with the relevant nominee service provider or Relevant Clearing System, as the case may be. Furthermore, such investor must rely on the relevant nominee service provider or Relevant Clearing System to distribute all payments or securities attributable to the relevant Securities which are received from the Issuer. Accordingly, such an investor will be exposed to the credit risk of, and default risk in respect of, the relevant nominee service provider or Relevant Clearing System, as well as the Issuer.

In addition, such a Holder will only be able to sell any Securities held by it prior to their stated exercise date or termination date (as the case may be) with the assistance of the relevant nominee service provider or Relevant Clearing System.

Neither the Issuer nor any Agent shall be responsible for the acts or omissions of any relevant nominee service provider or Relevant Clearing System nor makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the service provided by any relevant nominee service provider or Relevant Clearing System.

(x) The return on an investment in Securities will be affected by charges incurred by investors

An investor's total return on an investment in any Securities will be affected by the level of fees charged by any nominee service provider and/or Relevant Clearing System used by the investor. Such a person or institution may charge fees for the opening and operation of an investment account, transfers of Securities, custody services and on payments of principal and other amounts. Potential investors are therefore advised to investigate the basis on which any such fees will be charged on the relevant Securities.

(y) The return on an investment in Securities will be affected by any commissions or fees paid or received by the Issuer

An investor's total return on an investment in any Securities will be affected by (i) the level of any fees or commissions paid by the Issuer to any distributor(s), sales agent(s) or other intermediary(ies), or (ii) the level of any management or other fees paid to, or received by the Issuer from, third parties. Potential investors should consider the level of any such fees, the basis on which such fees are paid or received and the impact of such fees on the return on an investment in the Securities.

(z) Change of law and jurisdiction

The terms and conditions of the Securities are based on English law in effect as at the date of this Base Prospectus. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible change to English law or administrative practice after the date of this Base Prospectus. Prospective investors in the Securities should note that the courts of England shall have jurisdiction in respect of any disputes involving the Securities. Holders may, however, take any suit, action or proceedings arising out of or in connection with the Securities against the Issuer in any court of competent jurisdiction. English law may be materially different from (i) the equivalent law in the home jurisdiction of prospective investors and (ii) such home court's application of local law to the Securities.

There may be changes to laws, or their interpretation, in other countries which affect the Securities. Changes in taxation, corporate, regulatory and money laundering laws in any relevant jurisdiction could have a negative impact on the value of the Securities.

(aa) Credit ratings may not reflect all risks

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to the Issuer or the Securities. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Securities. Where a Series of Securities is to be rated, such rating will not necessarily be the same as any rating assigned to any Securities already issued. Whether or not a rating in relation to any Series of Securities will be treated as having been issued by a credit rating agency established in the European Union and registered under the CRA Regulation will be disclosed in the relevant Final Terms. A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

The Issuer's credit ratings are an assessment, by each rating agency, of its ability to pay its obligations, including those under the Securities. Credit ratings are subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating organisation in its sole discretion. However, because the return on the Securities is dependent upon factors in addition to the Issuer's ability to pay its obligations under the Securities, an improvement in its credit ratings will not necessarily increase the market price of the Securities and will not reduce market risk and other investment risks related to the Securities. Credit ratings (i) do not reflect market risk, which is the risk that the level of the Reference Asset may fall resulting in a loss of some or up to all of a Holder's investment and (ii) do not address the price, if any, at which the Securities may be resold prior to exercise or termination (which may be substantially less than the issue price of the Securities).

(bb) Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Securities are legal investments for it, (ii) Securities can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Securities. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Securities under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

(cc) Modification, waivers and substitution

In general, the Issuer may decide to make modifications to the Securities without the consent of the Holders which may affect the Holders' interest:

- (i) for the purpose of curing any ambiguity or of curing, correcting or supplementing any manifest error, proven error or other defective provision, as determined by the Issuer;
- (ii) in any other manner which is not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Holders; or
- (iii) where, following a change in market, regulatory, judicial, fiscal or other circumstances, the Issuer determines such modification is necessary, in order that the Securities replicate as closely as possible investments in the Reference Asset(s) underlying the Securities and its components in line with the investment objectives of the Securities.

(dd) Force majeure

Subject to certain restrictions, the Issuer will be excused from having to make payments under the Securities when due and from performing any of its other obligations where and for so long as the delay or non-performance is, in the determination of the Issuer, arising out of or due to the occurrence of a "force majeure event". Essentially, a "force majeure event" is any event which is beyond the reasonable control of the Issuer and the effect of which is to restrict, prevent, prohibit or renders impossible or impracticable the performance of the Issuer's obligations under the Securities. If a "force majeure event" continues for more than three months, any Holder may declare a Security to be immediately due and payable at the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount. See risk factor 2(j) (The Securities may be terminated early for reasons of illegality, tax or (if applicable) illiquidity) above for a description of the risks to investors in relation to early termination and the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount.

(ee) Corrections to published prices or levels

If the correction of published prices or levels is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms, and in the event that the relevant published prices or levels of a Reference Asset are subsequently corrected and such correction is published by the entity or sponsor responsible for publishing such prices or levels, subject to such correction and publication occurring prior to a specified cut-off date in respect of the relevant Securities, such corrected prices or levels will be taken into account by the Issuer in any determination in relation to the Securities, subject to the provisions of the relevant terms and conditions of the Securities. Any such determination may have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

3. Factors relating to the particular type of Reference Asset

(a) Risks associated with Equities (including depositary receipts)

(i) Factors affecting the performance of Equities may adversely affect the value of the Securities

The performance of an Equity is dependent upon macroeconomic factors, such as interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, political factors as well as company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, ability to innovate, ability to retain key personnel, shareholder structure and dividend distribution policy.

(ii) Actions by the issuer of an Equity may adversely affect the Securities

The issuer of an Equity will have no involvement in the offer and sale of the Securities and will have no obligation to any purchaser of such Securities. The issuer of an Equity may take any actions in respect of such Equity without regard to the interests of the purchasers of the Securities, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Securities.

(iii) Determinations made by the Issuer in respect of Potential Adjustment Events and Extraordinary Events may have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities

The adjustment events referred to in risk factor 2(h) (Calculation Agent determination of an adjustment event in respect of a Reference Asset, adjustment to or early termination of the Securities) include, in respect of an Equity, Potential Adjustment Events and Extraordinary Events. Potential Adjustment Events include (A) a sub-division, consolidation or re-classification of an Equity, (B) an extraordinary dividend, (C) a call of an Equity that is not fully paid, (D) a repurchase by the issuer of an Equity, or an affiliate thereof, of such Equity, (E) a separation of rights from an Equity, (F) a distribution, issue or dividend to existing holders of an Equity of any security (including such Equity), right, warrant or any other asset for payment (in cash or other consideration) at less than the prevailing market price, or (G) any event having a dilutive or concentrative effect on the value of the Equity. Extraordinary Events include (I) a delisting of the Equity on an exchange, (II) an insolvency or bankruptcy of the issuer of the Equity, (III) a merger event entailing the consolidation of the Equity with those of another entity, (IV) a nationalisation of the issuer of the Equity or transfer of the Equity to a governmental entity, or (V) a tender offer or takeover offer that results in transfer of the Equity to another entity.

Upon determining that a Potential Adjustment Event or an Extraordinary Event has occurred in relation to an Equity or the issuer of such Equity, the Issuer has discretion to make certain determinations to account for such event including to (1) make adjustments to the terms of the Securities, and/or (2) (in the case of an Extraordinary Event) cause an early termination of the Securities, any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

(iv) Loss of return of dividends in respect of most Securities linked to Equities

Unless the terms and conditions of the Securities specify otherwise, Holders of such Securities in respect of which a Reference Asset is an Equity will not participate in dividends or other distributions paid on such Equity. Therefore, the return on such Securities will not reflect the return a Holder would have realised had it actually owned such Equity and received the dividends on it.

(v) Additional risks associated with Securities linked to depositary receipts as Reference Assets

(A) Exposure to risk that redemption amounts do not reflect direct investment in the shares underlying the depositary receipts

The redemption amount payable on Securities that reference depositary receipts may not reflect the return a purchaser would realise if he or she actually owned the relevant shares underlying the depositary receipts and received the dividends paid on those shares because the price of the depositary receipts on any specified valuation dates may not take into consideration the value of dividends paid on the underlying shares. Accordingly, purchasers of Securities that reference depositary receipts as Reference Assets may receive a lower payment upon redemption of such Securities than such purchaser would have received if he or she had invested in the shares underlying the depositary receipts directly.

(B) Exposure to risk of non-recognition of beneficial ownership

The legal owner of shares underlying the depositary receipts is the custodian bank which at the same time is the issuing agent of the depositary receipts. Depending on the jurisdiction under which the depositary receipts have been issued and the jurisdiction to which the custodian agreement is subject, it cannot be ruled out that the relevant jurisdiction does not recognise the purchaser of the depositary receipts as the actual beneficial owner of the underlying shares. Particularly in the event that the custodian becomes insolvent or that enforcement measures are taken against the custodian, it is possible that an order restricting free transfer is issued with respect to the shares underlying the depositary receipts or that these shares are realised within the framework of an enforcement measure against the custodian. If this is the case, a holder of such depositary receipt loses any rights under the underlying shares represented by the depositary receipt, and this would in turn have an adverse effect on Securities with such depositary receipt as a Reference Asset.

(C) Potential exposure to risks of emerging markets

Depository receipts often represent shares of issuers based in emerging market jurisdictions. See risk factor 2(p) (Risks relating to emerging markets).

(D) Exposure to risk of non-distributions

The issuer of the underlying shares may make distributions in respect of their shares that are not passed on to the purchasers of its depository receipts, which can affect the value of the depository receipts and this would in turn have an adverse effect on Securities with such depository receipt as a Reference Asset.

(b) Risks associated with Indices

(i) Factors affecting the performance of Indices may adversely affect the value of the Securities

Indices are comprised of a synthetic portfolio of shares or other assets, and as such, the performance of an Index is dependent upon the macroeconomic factors relating to the shares or other components that comprise such Index, which may include interest and price levels on the capital markets, currency developments, political factors and (in the case of shares) company-specific factors such as earnings position, market position, risk situation, ability to innovate, ability to retain key personnel, shareholder structure and dividend distribution policy.

(ii) Returns on Securities will not be the same as a direct investment in futures or option on the Index or in the underlying components of the Index

An investment in the Securities is not the same as a direct investment in futures or option contracts on the Index nor any or all of the constituents included in each Index. In particular, investors may not benefit directly from any positive movements in an Index nor will investors benefit from any profits made as a direct result of an investment in the components of an Index. Accordingly, changes in the performance of an Index may not result in comparable changes in the market value of the Securities. Further, Holders will not receive dividends issued by companies included in an Index.

(iii) Loss of return of dividends in respect of Securities linked to Indices

The rules of an Index might stipulate that dividends distributed on its components do not lead to a rise in the index level, for example, if it is a "price" index. As a result, Holders of Securities linked to such Index would lose the benefit of any dividends paid by the components of the Index and would underperform a position where they invested directly in such components or where they invested in a "total return" version of the Index. Even if the rules of the relevant underlying Index provide that distributed dividends or other distributions of the components are reinvested in the Index and therefore result in raising its level, in some circumstances the dividends or other distributions may not be fully reinvested in such Index.

(iv) A change in the composition or discontinuance of an Index could have a negative impact on the value of the Securities

The sponsor of an Index can add, delete or substitute the components of such Index or make other methodological changes that could change the level of one or more components. The changing of the components of an Index may affect the level of such Index as a newly added component may perform significantly worse or better than the component it replaces, which in turn may adversely affect the value of the Securities. The sponsor of an Index may also alter, discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of such Index. The sponsor of an Index will have no involvement in the offer and sale of the Securities and will have no obligation to any investor in such Securities. The sponsor of an Index may take any actions in respect of such Index without regard to the interests of the investor in the Securities, and any of these actions could have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

(v) Occurrence of Index Adjustment Events

Upon determining that an Index Adjustment Event has occurred in relation to an Index, the Issuer has the discretion to make certain determinations and adjustments to account for such event including to (A) make adjustments to the terms of the Securities, and/or (B) cause an early termination of the Securities, any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

(c) Risks associated with exchange traded futures contracts on an underlying index ("Index Futures Contracts")

Factors affecting the performance of Index Futures Contracts may adversely affect the value of the Securities

Where the Securities reference Index Futures Contracts on an Index, the purchasers of such Securities are exposed to the performance of the Index Futures Contracts in respect of such Index.

A cash settled futures contract linked to an Index is one where, depending on the level of the Index, the buyer of the futures contract either has a right to receive a payment (known as the settlement amount) from the seller of the futures contract or an obligation to make a payment to the seller of the futures contract. If the level of the Index on one or more specified dates (the "settlement price") is greater than a specified level in the contract (the "forward price"), then the seller shall pay to the buyer the difference between the settlement price and the forward price. If the settlement price is less than the forward price, the buyer of the futures contract will make a payment to the seller of the futures contract equal to such difference.

Index Futures Contracts may be traded on the relevant futures exchanges and may be standardised with respect to the number of futures covered by one Index Futures Contract, the term of each Index Futures Contract, the dates on which various Index Futures Contracts expire and the manner in which the settlement amount is calculated.

There may be a correlation between the day to day change in the level of an Index and the price at which an Index Futures Contract trades on the relevant futures exchange. However, the expectations of dealers in Index Futures Contracts of the level of the Index on the date(s) on which the settlement amount of an Index Futures Contract is determined may also have an impact on the price of an Index Futures Contract on the Index. For example, if the expectation of dealers in futures contracts is that the settlement price of the Index on the date(s) on which the settlement amount of the futures contract is determined will be lower than the forward price of the Index specified in the contract, this may result in the price of the futures contract falling (in the case of buyers of the futures contract) or rising (in the case of sellers of the futures contract) even where the current level of the Index is rising. Moreover, because the settlement amount of many futures contracts is a multiple of the difference between the settlement price and the forward price, a relatively small change in the level of an Index may result in a proportionately much larger change in the price of the futures contract.

(d) Risks associated with Commodities and Commodity Indices

(i) Commodity prices may be more volatile than other asset classes

Trading in Commodities is speculative and may be extremely volatile. Commodity prices are affected by a variety of factors that are unpredictable including, for example, changes in supply and demand relationship (including whether any alternative to the Commodity exists), weather patterns and extreme weather conditions, governmental programmes and policies, national and international political, military, terrorist and economic events, fiscal, monetary and exchange control programmes and changes in interest and exchange rates. Commodities markets are subject to temporary distortions or other disruptions due to various factors, including lack of liquidity, the participation of speculators and government regulation and intervention. The current or "spot" prices of physical commodities may also affect, in a volatile and inconsistent manner, the prices of futures contracts in respect of a commodity.

Certain developing countries – such as China – have become very significant users of certain commodities. Therefore, economic developments in such jurisdictions may have a disproportionate impact on demand for such commodities.

Certain commodities may be produced in a limited number of countries and may be controlled by a small number of producers. Therefore, developments in relation to such countries or producers could have a disproportionate impact on the prices of such commodities.

In summary, commodity prices may be more volatile than other asset classes and investments in commodities may be riskier than other investments. Any of the circumstances described in this section could adversely affect prices of the relevant Commodity, and therefore sharply reduce the value of any Securities linked to such Commodity.

- (ii) Suspension or disruptions of market trading in Commodities and related futures contracts may adversely affect the value of the Securities

The commodity markets are subject to temporary distortions or other disruptions due to various factors, including the lack of liquidity in the markets and government regulation and intervention. In addition, U.S. futures exchanges and some foreign exchanges have regulations that limit the amount of fluctuation in contract prices which may occur during a single business day. These limits are generally referred to as "daily price fluctuation limits" and the maximum or minimum price of a contract on any given day as a result of these limits is referred to as a "limit price". Once the limit price has been reached in a particular contract, trading in the contract will follow the regulations set forth by the trading facility on which the contract is listed. Limit prices may have the effect of precluding trading in a particular commodity contract, which could adversely affect the value of a Commodity or a Commodity Index and, therefore, the value of any Securities linked to such Commodity or Commodity Index.

- (iii) Legal and regulatory changes

Commodities are subject to legal and regulatory regimes that may change in ways that could affect the ability of the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates to hedge the Issuer's obligations under the Securities. Such legal and regulatory changes could lead to the early termination of the Securities or to the adjustment of the terms and conditions of the Securities. Commodities are subject to legal and regulatory regimes in the United States and, in some cases, in other countries that may change in ways that could adversely affect the value of the Securities.

The Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act"), which provides for substantial changes to the regulation of the futures and over-the-counter ("OTC") derivative markets, was enacted in July 2010. The Dodd-Frank Act requires regulators, including the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC"), to adopt regulations in order to implement many of the requirements of the legislation. While such agencies have proposed many of the required regulations and has adopted certain final regulations, the ultimate nature and scope of many such regulations cannot yet be determined.

Under the Dodd-Frank Act, the CFTC has approved a final rule to impose limits on the size of positions that can be held by market participants in futures and OTC derivatives on physical commodities. Such rule had been scheduled to come into effect in October 2012, but was struck down by a U.S. Federal court in September of that year. The CFTC re-proposed such rule in November 2013, which rule, as re-proposed, would establish specific limits on "speculative" positions in 28 physical commodity futures and option contracts, as well as swaps that are equivalent to such contracts, in the agriculture, energy and metals markets. It is presently unclear whether the rule as re-proposed will be adopted as a final rule in its present form, or if the re-proposed rule will withstand judicial review.

In addition, the CFTC has made certain changes to the regulations that subject many transactions utilising swaps to regulation as "commodity pools". While the full impact of such rules is not yet known, these regulatory changes are likely to restrict the ability of market participants to participate in the commodity, future and swap markets and markets, including with respect to physical commodities, to the extent and at the levels that they have in the past. These factors may have the effect of reducing liquidity and increasing costs in these markets as well as affecting the structure of the markets in other ways. In addition, these legislative and regulatory changes are likely to increase the level of regulation of markets and market participants, and therefore the costs of participating in the commodities, futures and OTC derivative markets. Without limitation, these changes will require many OTC derivative transactions to be executed on regulated exchanges or trading platforms and cleared through regulated clearing houses. Swap dealers will also be required to be registered and will be subject to various regulatory requirements, including capital and margin requirements. In addition, unless all of the conditions of certain limited exemptions are met, collateral managers and/or other persons involved in the operations of the securitisation vehicle may have to register as "commodity pool operators" and/or "commodity trading advisors". The various legislative and regulatory changes, and the resulting increased costs and regulatory oversight requirements, could result in market participants being required to, or deciding to, limit their trading activities, which could cause reductions in market liquidity and increases in market volatility. These consequences could adversely affect the prices of Commodities, which could in turn adversely affect the return on and value of the Securities. The adoption of position limit regulations may result in the occurrence of a "Change in Law" which is an Additional Disruption Event (see risk factor 2(g) (Occurrence of Additional Disruption Events)).

In addition, other regulatory bodies have proposed, or may in the future propose, legislation similar to that proposed by the Dodd-Frank Act or other legislation containing other restrictions that could adversely impact the liquidity of and increase costs of participating in the commodities markets. For example, the European Commission published a proposal to update the Markets in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID II) and Markets in Financial Instruments Regulation (MiFIR), which propose regulations to establish position limits (or an alternative equivalent) on trading commodity derivatives, although the scope of any final rules and the degree to which member states will be required or permitted to adopt these regulations or additional regulations remains unclear. If these regulations are adopted or other similar regulations are adopted in the future, they could have an adverse effect on the prices of Commodities and the return on and value of the Securities.

- (iv) Future prices of Commodities and/or commodities included in a Commodity Index that are different relative to their current prices may result in a reduced amount payable upon redemption or exercise

Commodity contracts have a predetermined expiration date – a date on which trading of the commodity contract ceases. Holding a commodity contract until expiration will result in delivery of the underlying physical commodity or the requirement to make or receive a cash settlement. Alternatively, "rolling" the commodity contracts means that the commodity contracts that are nearing expiration (the "near-dated commodity contracts") are sold before they expire and commodity contracts that have an expiration date further in the future (the "longer-dated commodity contracts") are purchased. Investments in commodities apply "rolling" of the component commodity contracts in order to maintain an ongoing exposure to such commodities.

If the market for a commodity contract is in "backwardation", then the price of the longer-dated commodity contract is lower than in the near-dated commodity contract. The rolling therefore from the near-dated commodity contract to the longer-dated commodity contract creates a "roll yield", the amount of which will depend on the amount by which the unwind price of the former exceeds the spot price of the latter at the time of rolling. Conversely, if the market for a commodity contract is in "contango", then the price of the longer-dated contract is higher than the near-dated commodity contract. This could result in negative "roll yields".

As a result of rollover gains/costs that have to be taken into account within the calculation of such indices and under certain market conditions, such indices may outperform or underperform the underlying commodities contained in such indices. Furthermore, the prices of the underlying commodities may be referenced by the price of the current futures contract or active front contract and rolled into the following futures contract before expiry.

The value of Securities linked to a Commodity Index is, therefore, sensitive to fluctuations in the expected futures prices of the relevant commodities contracts comprising such Commodity Index. A Commodity Index may outperform or underperform its underlying commodities. In a "contango" market, this could result in negative "roll yields" which, in turn, could reduce the level of such Commodity Index and, therefore, have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

- (v) Commodity Indices may include contracts that are not traded on regulated futures exchanges

Commodity Indices are typically based on futures contracts traded on regulated futures exchanges. However, a Commodity Index may include over-the-counter contracts (such as swaps and forward contracts) traded on trading facilities that are subject to lesser degrees of regulation or, in some cases, no substantive regulation. As a result, trading in such contracts, and the manner in which prices and volumes are reported by the relevant trading facilities, may not be subject to the provisions of, and the protections afforded by, for example, the U.S. Commodity Exchange Act of 1936, or other applicable statutes and related regulations that govern trading on regulated U.S. futures exchanges, or similar statutes and regulations that govern trading on regulated UK futures exchanges. In addition, many electronic trading facilities have only recently initiated trading and do not have significant trading histories. As a result, the trading of contracts on such facilities, and the inclusion of such contracts in a Commodity Index, may be subject to certain risks not presented by, for example, U.S. or UK exchange-traded futures contracts, including risks related to the liquidity and price histories of the relevant contracts.

- (vi) A change in the composition or discontinuance of a Commodity Index could adversely affect the market value of the Securities

The sponsor of a Commodity Index can add, delete or substitute the components of such Commodity Index or make other methodological changes that could change the level of one or more components. The changing of components of any Commodity Index may affect the level of such Commodity Index as a newly added component may perform significantly worse or better than the component it replaces, which in turn may adversely affect the value of the Securities. The sponsor of a Commodity Index may also alter, discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of such Commodity Index. The sponsor of a Commodity Index will have no involvement in the offer and sale of the Securities and will have no obligation to any investor in such Securities. The sponsor of a Commodity Index may take any actions in respect of such Commodity Index without regard to the interests of investors in the Securities, and any of these actions could adversely affect the value of the Securities.

- (vii) Continuation of calculation of Commodity Index level upon the occurrence of a disruption event in relation to a component

If a disruption event occurs with respect to any component included in a Commodity Index, the adjustment provisions included in the terms and conditions of the Securities will apply, including the potential determination by the Calculation Agent of the value of the relevant disrupted component and, in turn, the value of such Commodity Index on the date specified in such Securities. However, regardless of the disruption event, the sponsor of the Commodity Index may continue to calculate and publish the level of such Commodity Index. In such circumstances, purchasers of the Securities should be aware that the value of the Commodity Index determined by the Calculation Agent upon the occurrence of a disruption event may not reflect the value of the Commodity Index as calculated and published by the sponsor of such Commodity Index for the relevant valuation date, nor would the Issuer be willing to settle, unwind or otherwise using any such published value while a disruption event is occurring with respect to any component included in a Commodity Index. Any of these actions could have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

- (viii) Occurrence of Index Adjustment Events

Upon determining that an Index Adjustment Event has occurred in relation to a Commodity Index, the Calculation Agent has the discretion to make certain determinations and adjustments to account for such event including to (A) make adjustments to the terms of the Securities, and/or (B) cause an early termination of the Securities, any of which determinations may have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

(e) Risks associated with Currency Exchange Rates

- (i) Factors affecting the performance of the relevant Currency Exchange Rate may adversely affect the value of the Securities

The performance of Currency Exchange Rates, currency units or units of account are dependent upon the supply and demand for currencies in the international foreign exchange markets, which are subject to economic factors, including inflation rates in the countries concerned, interest rate differences between the respective countries, economic forecasts, international political factors, fiscal and monetary policy, government debt, currency convertibility and safety of making financial investments in the currency concerned, speculation and intervening measures taken by governments and central banks. Such measures include, without limitation, imposition of regulatory controls or taxes, issuance of a new currency to replace an existing currency, alteration of the exchange rate or exchange characteristics by devaluation or revaluation of a currency or imposition of exchange controls with respect to the exchange or transfer of a specified currency that would affect exchange rates as well as the availability of a specified currency. Any such measures could have a negative impact on the value of a Currency Exchange Rate and consequently the value of the Securities.

- (ii) Currency exchange risks are heightened in the current climate of financial uncertainty

Currency exchange risks can be expected to heighten in periods of financial turmoil. In periods of financial turmoil, capital can move quickly out of regions that are perceived to be more vulnerable to the effects of the crisis with sudden and severely adverse consequences to the currencies of those regions as a result. In addition, governments around the world have recently made, and may be expected to continue to make, very significant interventions in their economies, and sometimes directly in their currencies. It is not possible to predict the effect of any future legal or regulatory action relating to a currency. Further interventions, other government actions or suspensions of actions, as well as other changes in government economic policy or other financial or economic events affecting the currency markets – including the replacement of entire currencies with new currencies – may cause currency exchange rates to fluctuate sharply in the future, which could have a negative impact on the value of the Securities.

(f) Risks associated with exchange traded funds

- (i) Where the Reference Asset is an exchange traded fund, there is a risk that such exchange traded fund will not accurately track its underlying share or index

Where the Securities are linked to an ETF and the investment objective of such ETF is to track the performance of a share or an index, the investors of such Securities are exposed to the performance of such ETF rather than the underlying share or index such ETF tracks. For certain reasons, including to comply with certain tax and regulatory constraints, an ETF may not be able to track or replicate the constituent securities of the underlying share or index, which could give rise to a difference between the performance of the underlying share or index and such ETF. Accordingly, investors who purchase Securities that are linked to an ETF may receive a lower return than if such investors had invested in the share or the index underlying such ETF directly.

- (ii) Action or non-performance by the Management Company, fund administrator or sponsor of an exchange traded fund may adversely affect the Securities

The Management Company, fund administrator or sponsor of an ETF will have no involvement in the offer and sale of the Securities and will have no obligation to any purchaser of such Securities. The Management Company, fund administrator or sponsor of an ETF may take any actions in respect of such ETF without regard to the interests of the purchasers of the Securities, and any of these actions could adversely affect the market value of the Securities.

In its day-to-day operations and its investment strategy, an ETF will rely on the fund advisor, the investment advisor, the Management Company and/or on third parties providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments used by such ETF to employ its investment strategy. The insolvency or non-performance of services of any such persons or institutions may expose an ETF to financial loss. Failure of procedures or systems, as well as human error or external events associated with an ETF's management and/or administration may cause losses to an ETF and affect the market value of the Securities.

(iii) Exchange traded funds are not actively managed

An ETF is not actively managed and may be affected by general movements in market segments related to the index or other asset it is tracking. An ETF invests in instruments included in, or that are representative of, the index or other asset it is tracking regardless of their investment merits.

(iv) Exchange traded funds may engage in securities lending

Securities lending involves the risk that the ETF may lose money because the borrower of the ETF's loaned securities fails to return the securities in a timely manner or at all.

(v) Exchange traded funds are subject to market trading risks

An ETF faces numerous market trading risks, including but not limited to the potential lack of an active market for its shares, losses from trading in secondary markets, periods of high volatility, limited liquidity and disruption in the creation or redemption process of such ETF. If any of these risks materialises, this may lead to the ETF shares trading at a premium or discount to the net asset value.

(g) Risks associated with Funds

The performance of the Fund is subject to many factors, including Fund strategies, underlying Fund investments, the Management Company and other factors

A Fund, and any underlying Fund components in which it may invest, may utilise strategies such as short-selling, leverage, securities lending and borrowing, investment in sub-investment grade or non-readily realisable investments, uncovered options transactions, options and futures transactions and foreign exchange transactions and the use of concentrated portfolios, each of which could, in certain circumstances, magnify adverse market developments and losses. Funds, and any underlying Fund components in which it may invest, may make investments in markets that are volatile and/or illiquid and it may be difficult or costly for positions therein to be opened or liquidated. No assurance can be given relating to the present or future performance of a Fund and any underlying Fund component in which it may invest. The performance of a Fund and any underlying Fund component in which it may invest is dependent on the performance of the Management Company in selecting underlying Fund components and the management of the relevant component in respect of the underlying Fund components. No assurance can be given that these persons will succeed in meeting the investment objectives of the Fund, that any analytical model used thereby will prove to be correct or that any assessments of the short-term or long-term prospects, volatility and correlation of the types of investments in which a Fund has or may invest will prove accurate.

The following is a summary description of certain particular risks in relation to Funds:

- (i) Illiquidity of Fund investments: The net asset value of a Fund will fluctuate with, among other changes, changes in market rates of interest, general economic conditions, economic conditions in particular industries, the condition of financial markets and the performance of a Fund's underlying. Investments by a Fund in certain underlying assets will have limited liquidity. Interests in a Fund may be subject to certain transfer restrictions, including, without limitation, the requirement to obtain the Management Company's consent (which may be given or withheld in its discretion). Furthermore, the relevant Fund documents typically provide that interests therein may be voluntarily terminated only on specific dates of certain calendar months, quarters or years and only if an investor has given the requisite number of days' prior notice to the Management Company. A Fund may also reserve the right to suspend redemption rights or make in kind distributions in the event of market disruptions. A Fund is likely to retain a portion of the redemption proceeds pending the completion of the annual audit of the financial statements of such Fund, resulting in considerable delay before the full redemption proceeds are received. Such illiquidity may adversely affect the price and timing of any liquidation of a Fund investment entered into by the Issuer for the purposes of hedging that is necessary to meet the requirements of any investment guidelines or tests that the Issuer may have requested. Also, limited liquidity increases the risk that the Issuer may be unable to meet its current obligations during periods of adverse general economic conditions, and insufficient liquidity during the final liquidation of assets of a Fund may cause purchasers of the Securities to receive any final distribution after the relevant settlement date.

- (ii) Reliance on trading models: Some of the strategies and techniques used by the Management Company may employ a high degree of reliance on statistical trading models developed from historical analysis of the performance or correlations of certain companies, securities, industries, countries, or markets. There can be no assurance that historical performance that is used to determine such statistical trading models will be a good indication of future performance of a Fund. If future performance or such correlations vary significantly from the assumptions in such statistical models, then the Management Company may not achieve its intended results or investment performance.
- (iii) Diversification: The number and diversity of investments held by a Fund may be limited, even where such Fund holds investments in other funds – particularly where such underlying funds hold similar investments or follow similar investment strategies.
- (iv) Fund leverage: The Management Company of a Fund may utilise leverage techniques, including the use of borrowed funds, repurchase agreements, swaps and options and other derivative transactions. While such strategies and techniques may increase the opportunity to achieve higher returns on the amounts invested, they will generally also increase the risk of loss.
- (v) Trading limitations and frequency: Suspensions or limits for securities listed on a public exchange could render certain strategies followed by a Fund difficult to complete or continue. The frequency of a Fund's trading may result in portfolio turnover and brokerage commissions that are greater than other investment entities of similar size.
- (vi) Valuations: The valuation of a Fund is generally controlled by the Management Company. Valuations are performed in accordance with the terms and conditions governing the Fund. Such valuations may be based upon the unaudited financial records of the Fund and any accounts pertaining thereto. Such valuations may be preliminary calculations of the net asset values of the Fund and accounts. The Fund may hold a significant number of investments which are illiquid or otherwise not actively traded and in respect of which reliable prices may be difficult to obtain. In consequence, the Management Company may vary certain quotations for such investments held by the Fund in order to reflect its judgement as to the fair value thereof. Therefore, valuations may be subject to subsequent adjustments upward or downward. Uncertainties as to the valuation of the Fund assets and/or accounts may have an adverse effect on the net asset value of the Fund where such judgements regarding valuations prove to be incorrect.

- (vii) Dependence on the expertise of key persons: The performance of a Fund will depend greatly on the experience of the investment professionals associated with the Management Company. The loss of one or more of such individuals could have a material adverse effect on the performance of a Fund. Further, investment decisions are ultimately made by the fund managers and thus investors are reliant upon their expertise in implementing the Fund's objectives.
- (viii) Occurrence of certain events: Upon the occurrence of certain events in relation to a Fund, the Issuer has discretion to make certain determinations and adjustments (subject to the terms and conditions of the relevant Securities), substitute the original Fund with another fund and/or to cause early termination of the Securities. These actions could have an adverse effect on the value of the Securities.

(h) Risks associated with Government Bond Futures Contracts

Factors affecting the performance of the relevant Government Bond Futures Contract may adversely affect the value of the Securities

Where the Securities reference Government Bond Futures Contracts on a Government Bond, the purchasers of such Securities are exposed to the performance of the Government Bond Futures Contracts in respect of such Government Bond.

A cash settled futures contract linked to a Government Bond is one where, depending on the value of the Government Bond, the buyer of the futures contract either has a right to receive a payment (known as the settlement amount) from the seller of the futures contract or an obligation to make a payment to the seller of the futures contract. If the value of the Government Bond on one or more specified dates (the "settlement price") is greater than a specified value in the contract (the "forward price"), then the seller shall pay to the buyer the difference between the settlement price and the forward price. If the settlement price is less than the forward price, the buyer of the futures contract will make a payment to the seller of the futures contract equal to such difference.

Government Bond Futures Contracts may be traded on the relevant futures exchanges and may be standardised with respect to the number of futures covered by one Government Bond Futures Contract, the term of each Government Bond Futures Contract, the dates on which various Government Bond Futures Contracts expire and the manner in which the settlement amount is calculated.

There may be a correlation between the day to day change in the value of a Government Bond and the price at which a Government Bond Futures Contract trades on the relevant futures exchange. However, the expectations of dealers in Government Bond Futures Contracts of the value of the Government Bond on the date(s) on which the settlement amount of a Government Bond Futures Contract is determined may also have an impact on the price of a Government Bond Futures Contract. For example, if the expectation of dealers in futures contracts is that the value of the Government Bond on the date(s) on which the settlement amount of the futures contract is determined will be lower than the forward price of the Government Bond specified in the contract, this may result in the price of the futures contract falling (in the case of buyers of the futures contract) or rising (in the case of sellers of the futures contract) even where the current value of the Government Bond is rising. Moreover, because the settlement amount of many futures contracts is a multiple of the difference between the settlement price and the forward price, a relatively small change in the value of a Government Bond may result in a proportionately much larger change in the price of the futures contract.

The value of a government bond may be volatile and is subject to market conditions. Sovereign bond values are influenced, among other things, by the ability of a government to repay its debts, inflation, currency depreciation and prevailing interest rates. The positive or negative level of a country's economic output may also have a material effect on the perception of that country's solvency. Investors sometimes assume that sovereign debt instruments are safer assets as compared to debt instruments issued by a corporate entity, which may not be the case.

4. Factors relating to potential conflicts of interest of the Issuer

(a) Calculations and determinations by the Issuer and Calculation Agent under the Securities

Where the Issuer acts as Calculation Agent or the Calculation Agent is an affiliate of the Issuer, potential conflicts of interest may exist between the Calculation Agent and Holders, including with respect to certain determinations and judgements that the Calculation Agent may make pursuant to the terms and conditions that may influence the amount receivable on the Securities. The Calculation Agent is agent for the Issuer and not for the Holders.

Potential conflicts of interest may exist in the structure and operation of the issuance of the Securities and in the course of the normal business activities of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent and any of its respective affiliates or subsidiaries or their respective directors, officers, employees, representatives, delegates or agents (each a "person"). The Issuer or the Calculation Agent may make certain determinations with respect to the Securities (in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Securities) which may have a negative impact on the value of the Securities.

During the course of their normal business, each person may enter into or promote, offer or sell transactions or investments (structured or otherwise) linked to a Reference Asset. In addition, any person may have, or may have had, interests or positions, or may buy, sell or otherwise trade positions in or relating to a Reference Asset, or may invest or engage in transactions with other entities, or on behalf of such entities relating to a Reference Asset. Such activity may or may not have an impact on the value of the Securities but all investors should be aware that a conflict of interest could arise where anyone is acting in more than one capacity, and such conflict may have an impact, positive or negative on the value of the Securities. None of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent or any other person has any duty to consider the circumstances of any entities when participating in such transactions or to conduct themselves in a manner that is favourable to any investor in the Securities. Neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent has any obligations of agency or trust for any investors and neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent has any fiduciary obligations towards them.

Further, each person may:

- (i) act as adviser and/or manager to clients in investment banking, financial advisory, asset management and other capacities notwithstanding that any such client may also be an obligor of a Reference Asset or may be related to such an entity;
- (ii) act in a proprietary capacity and to hold long or short positions in instruments of the same class or type as a Reference Asset;
- (iii) serve as directors (whether supervisory or managing), officers, employees, agents, nominees or signatories of any Reference Asset;

- (iv) receive fees for services of any nature rendered to issuers or obligors of any Reference Asset;
- (v) be a secured or unsecured creditor of any issuer or obligor of a Reference Asset;
- (vi) underwrite, act as a distributor of, or make a market in obligations of any issuer or obligor of a Reference Asset and to enter into derivative contracts with any such entity or that relate to any such entity or to obligations of any such entity;
- (vii) serve as a member of any "creditors' committee" or informal workout group with respect to the issuer or obligor of any Reference Asset; and
- (viii) have multiple advisory, transactional, financial and other interests in the issuers or obligors of any Reference Asset.

See also risk factor 1(h) (The Calculation Agent has discretion under the terms and conditions of the Securities to make a number of determinations which could have a material adverse effect on the value of the Securities) and risk factor 2(1) (Actions taken by the Calculation Agent may have a negative impact on the value of the Securities).

(b) Hedging and dealing activities may adversely affect the value of the Securities

The Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may carry out activities that minimise its and/or their risks related to the Securities, including effecting transactions for their own account or for the account of their customers and hold long or short positions in the Reference Asset whether for risk reduction purposes or otherwise. In addition, in connection with the offering of any Securities, the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may enter into one or more hedging transactions with respect to the Reference Asset. In connection with such hedging or market-making activities or with respect to proprietary or other trading activities by the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates, the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates may enter into transactions in the Reference Asset which may affect the market price, liquidity or value of the Reference Asset and/or the Securities and which could be deemed to be adverse to the interests of the Holders. The Issuer and/or its affiliates are likely to modify their hedging positions throughout the life of the Securities whether by effecting transactions in the Reference Asset or in derivatives linked to the Reference Asset. Any such activities may adversely affect the value of the Securities and/or may delay settlement in respect of the Securities.

(c) The Issuer may have confidential information relating to the Securities and the Reference Asset(s)

The Issuer and its affiliates (and any of their employees) may from time to time, by virtue of their status as underwriter, advisor or otherwise, possess or have access to information relating to the Securities, the Reference Asset(s) and any derivative instruments referencing them. None of the Issuer or its affiliates will be obliged (and may be subject to legal prohibition) to disclose any such information to a purchaser of the Securities, even where such information may be material to the decision by an investor as to whether or not to purchase the Securities.

The Issuer or certain affiliates of the Issuer may be the sponsor of an Index to which the Securities are linked, in which case such index shall be deemed to be a "proprietary index" for the purposes of the Index Linked Terms. The Index may be developed, owned, calculated and maintained by the Issuer or an affiliate of the Issuer, who would be responsible for the composition, calculation and maintenance of such Index. In such circumstances, the index sponsor would be under no obligation to take into account the interests of the purchasers of any Securities referenced by such Index. In such capacity as index sponsor, the Issuer or its affiliate, as applicable, will have the authority to make determinations that could materially affect the value of the Security.

Risk Factors

An Index shall be deemed to be a "proprietary index" for the purposes of the Index Linked Terms where (i) (as described above) such index is composed by the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates, i.e., the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates owns and sponsors such index or (ii) the relevant Final Terms specifies that such index is a "Proprietary Index" (for the avoidance of doubt, such index may not be an index composed, owned or sponsored by the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates).

Types of products:	The Securities may be: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• "turbo certificates"

- "constant leverage turbo certificates" or
- "booster turbo certificates".

No fixed maturity: The Securities do not have a fixed maturity or expiration date, and can either be terminated by the Issuer or exercised by the Holder, and may automatically terminate if the value of the Reference Asset reaches a pre-determined level (see "Stop loss feature" below).

Types of Reference Asset(s): The Securities will track the value of the Reference Asset. If the value of the Reference Asset falls, the value of a long certificate will fall, subject to the cost of financing provided by the Issuer and the effect of any applicable foreign exchange rate.

Short certificates: Short certificates enable the investor to profit from declining markets as they track the value of the Reference Asset in an inverse manner. If the value of the Reference Asset falls (see "A leveraged investment" below), the value of a short certificate will rise, subject to the cost of financing provided by the Issuer and the effect of any applicable foreign exchange rate (see "Current financing level" and "Foreign exchange rates" respectively below). If the value of the Reference Asset rises, the value of a short certificate will fall, subject to the cost of financing provided by the Issuer and the effect of any applicable foreign exchange rate.

A leveraged investment: The Securities enable investors to participate in any gains or falls in the value of the Reference Asset by investing only part of the value of the Reference Asset with the remaining portion financed by the Issuer. This creates leverage. The size of the leverage depends on the purchase price of the Securities compared to the value of the Reference Asset at the time of purchase. The lower the purchase price of the Securities is compared to the value of the Reference Asset, the higher the leverage will be. The leverage for turbo certificates or booster turbo certificates is not fixed and will vary from day to day. The leverage for constant leverage turbo certificates is reset daily to the target leverage factor (see "Constant leverage turbo certificates" below).

Due to this leverage feature, the percentage gain if the value of the Reference Asset rises (in the case of long certificates) or falls (in the case of short certificates) and the percentage loss if the Reference Asset falls (in the case of long certificates) or rises (in the case of short certificates) is much higher in the Securities compared to a direct investment in the Reference Asset. Accordingly, a small movement in the value of the Reference Asset can have a significant effect on the value of the Securities. The higher the leverage, the more sensitive the Securities will be to any changes in the value of the Reference Asset.

Due to such leverage feature, you should be aware that an investment in the Securities is more speculative than a direct investment in the Reference Asset, and you could lose up to the entire value of your investment.

Booster turbo certificates: Booster turbo certificates are riskier products than turbo certificates since:

- generally, the leverage will be higher; and
- the stop loss price for booster turbo certificates is always equal to the current financing level (see "Stop loss price" and "Current financing level" respectively below). If the stop loss price is breached, the certificates will be terminated for a payout of zero, and you will lose all of your investment.

Another difference between booster turbo certificates and turbo certificates is that, in valuing a booster turbo certificate for purposes of bid/ask quotations as may be made by the Issuer, in addition to the intrinsic amount of the certificate (i.e., the amount it would pay out at that time), the Issuer will generally add a further element to the value known as the "gap risk premium". As the Issuer will need to unwind its hedging position in the Reference Asset once a stop loss event occurs, this premium is to compensate the Issuer for the risk that it may not be able to do so immediately (for example, due to a gap in trading hours) and may therefore suffer a loss. This premium will be determined by the Issuer based on current market conditions and can change at any time. Generally, the closer the value of the Reference Asset is to the stop loss price, the higher the premium.

Constant leverage turbo certificates: Constant leverage turbo certificates are designed to achieve their stated objectives on a daily basis. Unlike turbo certificates or booster turbo certificates where the leverage is not fixed, the leverage for constant leverage turbo certificates is reset daily to the target leverage factor (based on daily observations of certain inputs, including the value of the Reference Asset and the certificates). As a result of the daily adjustment of the current financing level and simultaneous adjustment of the current participation factor, the relationship between the value of the Reference Asset and the value of Securities will remain unchanged through the life of the Securities.

Constant leverage turbo certificates are exchange traded financial products for investors with a short term investment horizon. They are not intended for investors who plan to buy and hold products over an intermediate or long time period. Investors who hold constant leverage turbo certificates for longer than one trading day may see their results vary significantly from the performance of the Reference Asset.

Key product features:

Stop loss feature: The stop loss feature ensures that the value of the Securities will never be negative. If the value of the Reference Asset reaches the stop loss price (such event is called a stop loss event), the Securities will terminate automatically and will pay:

- (a) in the case of turbo certificates and constant leverage turbo certificates: an amount which is determined by reference to (i) the residual value of the Reference Asset at which the Issuer's hedging position in the Reference Asset is unwound, (ii) the current financing level, and (iii) the entitlement. The residual value of the Reference Asset will be at least equal to the lowest (in the case of long certificates) or highest (in the case of short certificates) value of the Reference Asset during the relevant period over which the Issuer's hedging position in the Reference Asset is unwound; and
- (b) in the case of turbo booster certificates: zero.

The maximum loss to an investor in the Securities (of all types) upon termination for a stop loss event is the initial amount invested.

Stop loss price:

For turbo certificates, the stop loss price is generally adjusted monthly by reference to the current financing level. For commodity futures contract turbo certificates and single stock turbo certificates, the stop loss price may be adjusted more often (for example, following a rollover date or on ex-dividend dates respectively).

For constant leverage turbo certificates, the stop loss price is adjusted on a daily basis as a pre-determined percentage of the current financing level.

For booster turbo certificates, the stop loss price is adjusted daily to match the current financing level.

Current financing level:

As mentioned above, the Securities enable investors to participate in any gains or falls in the value of the Reference Asset by investing only part of the value of the Reference Asset. The remaining portion is financed by the Issuer, and is called the current financing level. You will generally pay interest on the current financing level (or for turbo short certificates, you may even receive interest if market interest rates are high).

If the Reference Asset is an index, a fund or an equity share, the current financing level may be adjusted if such Reference Asset (or, for an index, a component share included in such index) goes ex-dividend, by deducting any cash dividends declared (after deduction of taxes) from the current financing level.

If the Reference Asset is a commodity futures contract, a government bond futures contract or an index futures contract, the current financing level may be adjusted on dates (if any) on which such futures contract is rolled forward, by deducting the rollover spread. If the rollover spread is positive, this will reduce the current financing level and the value of the Securities will rise (in the case of long certificates) or fall (in the case of short certificates). If the rollover spread is negative, this will increase the current financing level and the value of the Securities will fall (in the case of long certificates) or rise (in the case of short certificates).

Funding cost:

The funding cost is the interest (or income) payable (or received) by you on the current financing level. The funding cost will increase the current financing level on a daily basis. The funding cost is determined by reference to (a) the current financing level, (b) the current spread, and (c) if the Reference Asset is not a commodity futures contract, a government bond futures contract or an index futures contract, the prevailing rate.

Current spread: The current spread is a spread determined by the Calculation Agent by reference to the financing level currency, the prevailing market conditions and any other factors that the Calculation Agent determines to be relevant. A rise in the current spread will increase the funding cost and have a negative impact on the value of the Securities.

Prevailing rate: The prevailing rate is the rate for deposits in the relevant currency in the interbank market for a designated maturity of either three months, one month or overnight. A rise in the prevailing rate will increase the funding cost.

Foreign exchange rates: If the Reference Asset is denominated in a currency different to the settlement currency of the Securities, a rise in the currency of the Reference Asset against the settlement currency will have a positive effect on the value of the Securities, whereas a fall in the currency of the Reference Asset against the settlement currency will have a negative effect on the value of the Securities.

Entitlement: The entitlement is the ratio of the value of a Security to the value of the Reference Asset. For most Securities, the entitlement will be equal to one. However, if the value of the Reference Asset is very large or small, the entitlement may be less than or more than one accordingly.

Securities linked to different types of Reference Assets:

Commodity certificates: Commodity certificates are certificates where the Reference Asset is a commodity. The Reference Asset in relation to a commodity certificate will be selected from a wide range of commodities.

Currency certificates: Currency certificates give their Holder exposure to the rate of exchange between two currencies. The Reference Asset in relation to a currency certificate will be selected from a wide range of currencies.

Single stock certificates: Single stock certificates are certificates where the Reference Asset is an equity share. The Reference Asset in relation to a single stock certificate will be selected from a wide range of equity shares (including depositary receipts and Dutch certificates).

Index certificates: Index certificates are certificates where the Reference Asset is an index. The Reference Asset in relation to an index certificate will be selected from a wide range of indices, including commodity indices.

Government bond futures contract certificates: Government bond futures contract certificates are certificates where the Reference Asset is a futures contract related to a government bond. As the certificates do not have a fixed maturity, but futures contracts do, each futures contract will be rolled forward before its expiry to a futures contract with a later expiration. This means that the futures contract which is near expiry will be sold, and a futures contract with a later expiration will be bought. The price difference between the two futures contracts is called the rollover spread.

The Reference Asset in relation to a government bond futures contract certificate will be selected from a wide range of government bond futures contracts.

Commodity futures contract certificates:

Commodity futures contract certificates are certificates where the Reference Asset is a futures contract related to a commodity. This means that the value of the certificates will be determined by reference to the value of the futures contract, which may be different from the spot price for delivery of the commodity. As the certificates do not have a fixed maturity, but futures contracts do, each futures contract will be rolled forward before its expiry to a futures contract with a later expiration. This means that the futures contract which is near expiry will be sold, and a futures contract with a later expiration will be bought. The price difference between the two futures contracts is called the rollover spread.

The Reference Asset in relation to a commodity futures contract certificate will be selected from a wide range of commodity futures contracts.

Fund certificates:

Fund certificates are certificates where the Reference Asset is a fund (which may be an exchange traded fund). The Reference Asset in relation to a fund certificate will be selected from a wide range of funds.

Index futures contract certificates:

Index futures contract certificates are certificates where the Reference Asset is a futures contract related to an index. As the certificates do not have a fixed maturity, but futures contracts do, each futures contract will be rolled forward before its expiry to a futures contract with a later expiration. This means that the futures contract which is near expiry will be sold, and a futures contract with a later expiration will be bought. The price difference between the two futures contracts is called the rollover spread.

The Reference Asset in relation to an index futures contract certificate will be selected from a wide range of index futures contracts.

INDICATIVE ISSUE PRICE

Issue Price:

The Securities will be issued at a price determined by the Issuer or the Dealer who may, in making such determination, refer to, amongst other factors, the value of the Reference Asset, the relevant certificate entitlement and any applicable foreign exchange rate(s).

Each potential investor in the Securities should satisfy itself as to the amount of any fees or commissions received by intermediaries;
- (b) The Issuer may receive or pay management or other fees from or to third parties. Where such fees are payable, further details of them will be set out in the relevant Final Terms; and

- (b) Priority. In the event of any inconsistency between any of the General Terms, the applicable Additional Terms (if any), the applicable Asset Terms, the applicable Payout Terms and the relevant Final Terms, the prevailing term will be determined in accordance with the following order of priority (where (i) prevails over the other terms):
 - (i) the relevant Final Terms;

Capitalised terms which are defined in two or more of these General Terms, any applicable Additional Terms, the applicable Asset Terms, the applicable Payout Terms or the relevant Final Terms shall have the meaning set forth in the relevant terms as determined under General Term 1(b) (Priority) above.

2. Form, Title and Transfer

- (a) Global Form. Except in the case of Securities issued in the form described in General Term 2(b) (Dematerialised Form), the Securities will be issued in bearer form and represented by a global security (the "Global Security") which will be deposited with a Clearing Agent or the depository for one or more Clearing Agents and will be transferable only in accordance with the applicable law and the rules and procedures of the relevant Clearing Agent through whose systems the Securities are transferred. Each person (other than another Clearing Agent) who is for the time being shown in the records of the relevant Clearing Agent as the owner of a particular unit quantity of the Securities (in which regard any certificate or other document issued by the relevant Clearing Agent as to the unit quantity of the Securities standing to the credit of the account of any person shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes except in the case of fraud or manifest error) shall be treated by the Issuer and each Agent as the holder of such unit quantity of the Securities (and the term "Holder" shall be construed accordingly) for all purposes, other than with respect to any payment obligations, the right to which shall be vested as regards the Issuer and the Agents, solely in the bearer of the Global Security.

Each permanent Global Security in bearer form will be exchangeable on or after its Exchange Date, in whole but not in part, at the request of the Holder, for definitive Securities in bearer form ("Definitive Securities"):

- (i) if such permanent Global Security is held by a Clearing Agent and any such Clearing Agent is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention to cease business permanently or does in fact do so and the Holder is unable to settle such Securities through any non-affected Clearing Agent; or
- (ii) if so specified in the relevant Final Terms, in an aggregate nominal amount or unit quantity equal to the nominal amount or unit quantity of such permanent Global Security submitted for exchange by the Holder, provided that in each case, certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership in the form required by the relevant Clearing Agent has been provided to such Clearing Agent with respect to such nominal amount or unit quantity submitted for such exchange.

- (b) Dematerialised Form. Certain Securities will be issued in dematerialised form ("Dematerialised Securities") and will be registered in the book-entry system of the Clearing Agent. Title to the Securities will pass by transfer between accountholders at the Clearing Agent perfected in accordance with the applicable Clearing Agent Rules. Accordingly, in these Terms and Conditions, the term "Holder" means, in relation to Dematerialised Securities, a person in whose name a Security is registered in the book-entry settlement system of the Clearing Agent or any other person recognised as a holder of Securities pursuant to the applicable Clearing Agent Rules and subject as provided in any applicable Additional Terms.
- (c) Compulsory Transfer, Forced Sale or Termination.
- (i) U.S. persons and Taxation – FATCA. No Securities, or interests therein, may at any time be (A) offered, sold, transferred, exercised or delivered in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person or (B) held by any person that fails to comply with certain requirements under FATCA. If the Issuer (I) determines at any time that any Security is legally or beneficially owned by any U.S. person or (II) is required under FATCA to close out any Holder that does not comply with the relevant requirements under FATCA, the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) may direct the Holder to sell or transfer such Security(ies) to a person, who is not a U.S. person and who will comply with FATCA, within 14 days following receipt of notice of the direction. If the Holder fails to sell or transfer such Security(ies) within such period, the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) may at its discretion (x) cause such Security(ies) to be sold to an acquirer selected by the Issuer that certifies to the Issuer that such acquirer is not a U.S. person or that is FATCA compliant (as applicable), on terms as the Issuer may choose (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) and, pending such transfer, no further payments will be made in respect of such Security(ies) to such Holder or (y) give notice to the Holder that each such Security will be terminated by the Issuer at the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount. Payment will be made to the Holder in such manner as shall be notified to the Holder in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).

In the event of a sale in accordance with sub-clause (x) above, the Issuer may select an acquirer by any means determined by it in its sole discretion. The proceeds of the sale, net of any commissions, expenses and taxes due in connection with the sale shall be remitted to the selling Holder. The terms and conditions of any sale hereunder (including the sale price) shall be determined in the sole discretion of the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), and the Issuer shall not be liable to any person having an interest in the Security sold as a result of any sale or the exercise of discretion under this provision.

- (ii) ERISA Violations. If the Issuer determines at any time that any Holder of a Security has made or been deemed to have made a representation related to the United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA") (as set forth in the section entitled "Certain ERISA Considerations" in the Base Prospectus in respect of the Securities), that is false or misleading (a "Non-Permitted ERISA Holder"), the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) may direct the Holder to sell or transfer its Security(ies) to a person who is not a Non-Permitted ERISA Holder within 14 days following receipt of notice of the direction. If the Holder fails to sell or transfer its Security(ies) within such period, the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) may at its discretion (A) cause the Security to be sold to an acquirer selected by the Issuer that certifies to the Issuer that such acquirer is not a Non-Permitted ERISA Holder, on terms as the Issuer may choose (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) and, pending such transfer, no further payments will be made in respect of the Security(ies) to such Non-Permitted ERISA Holder or (B) give notice to the Non-Permitted ERISA Holder that the Security will be terminated by the Issuer at the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount. Payment will be made to the Holder in such manner as shall be notified to the Holder in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).

In the event of a sale in accordance with sub-clause (A) above, the Issuer may select an acquirer by any means determined by it in its sole discretion. The proceeds of the sale, net of any commissions, expenses and taxes due in connection with the sale shall be remitted to the selling Non-Permitted ERISA Holder. The terms and conditions of any sale hereunder (including the sale price) shall be determined in the sole discretion of the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), and the Issuer shall not be liable to any person having an interest in the Security sold as a result of any sale or the exercise of such discretion.

Furthermore, the Issuer shall not honour a transfer of beneficial interests in any Security to any person who is a Non-Permitted ERISA Holder.

3. Status of Securities

The Securities constitute unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu among themselves and with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer save for those preferred by mandatory provisions of law.

4. Rights and Procedures

- (a) Cash Settlement. Each Security, upon due exercise, termination of the Securities upon the occurrence of a mandatory early termination event or pursuant to an Issuer call option, as the case may be, subject to and in accordance with the applicable Payout Terms, and subject to the delivery by the Holder of a duly completed Notice, and to certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership and (where the Securities are represented by Definitive Securities) against presentation of the Definitive Securities, entitles its Holder to receive from the Issuer the Cash Amount (which may be zero) to be paid to the account specified in the relevant Notice for value on the Settlement Date.

The form of the Notice may be obtained during normal business hours from the specified office of each Agent or the Registrar, as applicable.

A Notice shall:

In respect of each Notice, the relevant Holder must provide evidence to the Principal Agent or, where the SIX SIS Ltd is specified as the Clearing Agent, the Swiss Agent, in each case reasonably satisfactory to the Principal Agent or the Swiss Agent, as applicable, of its holding of such Securities.
- (f) Delivery irrevocable. After the delivery of a Notice, the Securities which are the subject of such notice may not be transferred.
- (g) Determinations. Failure to properly complete and deliver a Notice may result in such Notice being treated as null and void. Any determination as to whether a Notice has been properly completed and delivered shall be made by the Relevant Agent, and shall be conclusive and binding on the Issuer and the relevant Holder. Subject as set out below, any Notice so determined to be incomplete or not in proper form, or which is not copied to the Relevant Agent immediately after being delivered to a Clearing Agent, in each case as provided in the Terms and Conditions, shall be void.

If such Notice is subsequently corrected to the satisfaction of the Relevant Agent, it shall be deemed to be a new Notice submitted at the time such correction is delivered to such Clearing Agent and copied to the Relevant Agent at the time such correction is delivered to the Relevant Agent, as provided in the Terms and Conditions.

The Relevant Agent shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to notify the relevant Holder as soon as reasonably practicable if it has determined that a Notice is incomplete or not in proper form. In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, neither the Issuer nor the Relevant Agent, shall be liable to any person with respect to any action taken or omitted to be taken by it in connection with such determination or the notification of such determination to a Holder.

Any Notice received by the relevant Clearing Agent or the Relevant Agent after the specified time shall be deemed to be duly delivered on the next following Business Day. In the case of Securities which are exercisable on one day only or during an exercise period, any Notice, if not delivered by the specified time, shall be void.

- (h) Exercise and Settlement Risk. Exercise and settlement of the Securities is subject to all applicable laws, regulations and practices in force at the relevant time and none of the Issuer or any Agent shall incur any liability whatsoever if it is unable to effect the transactions contemplated, after using all reasonable efforts, as a result of any such laws, regulations or practices. - (j) General. In the absence of gross negligence or wilful misconduct on its part, none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent nor any Agent shall have any responsibility for any errors or omissions in the calculation of any amount payable hereunder.

5. Payments

- (a) Bearer Securities. Each Security in bearer form shall be presented for redemption and surrender of it at the specified office of the Principal Agent or of any other Agent provided for in the Terms and Conditions, prior to payment of any principal amount under the Securities. This General Term 5(a) (Bearer Securities) will not apply to Dematerialised Securities.
- (b) Dematerialised Securities. Payments in respect of Dematerialised Securities will be made subject to and in accordance with the applicable Clearing Agent Rules.

The holder of a Global Security (which will be a common depository on behalf of the relevant Clearing Agent) or the relevant Clearing Agent (in the case of Dematerialised Securities) shall be the only person entitled to receive any amounts paid in connection with the Securities, and the Issuer's payment obligations under the Securities will be discharged upon its payment to, or to the order of, such person in respect of the amount so paid.
- Each person shown in the records of the relevant Clearing Agent as the beneficial holder of Securities must look solely to the holder of the Global Security (in the case of Securities represented by a Global Security) or the relevant Clearing Agent (in the case of Dematerialised Securities) for its share of any such payment made by the Issuer to such holder of the Global Security or the relevant Clearing Agent, as applicable.*
- (f) Payment Day. If the date for payment of any amount in respect of the Securities is not a Payment Day, the Holder shall not be entitled to payment until the next following Payment Day and shall not be entitled to any interest or other payment in respect of such delay.

6. Replacement of Securities and Cancellation

If, in respect of any Security represented by a Global Security in bearer form or a Definitive Security, such Security is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed it may be replaced at the specified office of the Principal Agent (or such other place of which notice shall have be given to Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices)) upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection therewith and on such terms as to evidence and indemnity as the Issuer may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Securities must be surrendered before replacements will be issued. This General Term 6 (Replacement of Securities and Cancellation) will not apply to Dematerialised Securities.

7. Events of Default

Subject to General Term 8(d) (Force Majeure), if any one or more of the following events (each an "Event of Default") shall occur and be continuing:

- (a) default is made for more than 10 calendar days in the payment of interest or principal in respect of the Securities; or
- (b) the Issuer fails to perform or observe any of its other material obligations under the Securities and such failure has continued for the period of 60 days immediately following the service on the Issuer of notice requiring the same to be remedied; or
- (c) an order is made or an effective resolution is passed for the winding-up of the Issuer (excluding a solvent winding-up solely for the purposes of a reconstruction, amalgamation, reorganisation, merger or consolidation in connection with which RBSG or any of its subsidiaries assumes the obligations of the Issuer as principal debtor in respect of the Securities), then any Holder may, by written notice to the Issuer at the specified office of the Principal Agent, effective upon the date of receipt thereof by the Principal Agent, declare any Security held by such Holder to be immediately due and payable whereupon the same shall become immediately due and payable at the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount, together with accrued interest (if any) to the date of repayment, without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, unless such Event of Default has been cured by the Issuer or waived by the Holders prior to the receipt of such notice by the Issuer. For the avoidance of doubt, an Event of Default shall not occur in respect of the failure of any payment of any amount owing by the Issuer under the Securities to be made by or through the relevant Clearing Agent to any person shown in the records of such Clearing Agent as the beneficial holder of Securities in the circumstance where the Issuer has paid such amount to the holder of the Global Security (in the case where the Securities are represented by a Global Security) or to the relevant Clearing Agent (in the case where the Securities are Dematerialised Securities).

8. Early Termination for Illegality or Tax or Illiquidity and Force Majeure

- (a) Illegality. The Issuer shall have the right to terminate the Securities if it shall have determined, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that its performance thereunder shall have become unlawful in whole or in part as a result of compliance in good faith by the Issuer with any applicable present or future law, rule, regulation, judgement, order or directive of any governmental, administrative, legislative or judicial authority or power ("Applicable Law"). In such circumstances the Issuer will, however, if and to the extent permitted by the Applicable Law, pay to each Holder in respect of each Security held by such Holder the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount, which payment will constitute full and final settlement of all its payment obligations under the Securities. Payment will be made to the Holder in such manner as shall be notified to the Holder in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).
- (b) Tax. The Issuer shall have the right to terminate the Securities if it shall have determined, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that (i) payments made on the Securities are, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly contingent upon, or determined by reference to, the payment of a dividend from a U.S. entity and that these payments have or will become subject to U.S. withholding tax or (ii) following a change in any Applicable Law, or in the interpretation thereof, the performance of its obligations under the Securities (A) has resulted in or (B) will result in, the Issuer or any affiliate not being entitled to tax relief in respect of any losses, costs or expenses incurred in relation to such Securities, in each case where any such amounts are material to the Issuer. In such circumstances the Issuer will, however, if and to the extent permitted by the Applicable Law, pay to each Holder in respect of each Security held by such Holder the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount, which payment will constitute full and final settlement of all its payment obligations under the Securities. Payment will be made to the Holder in such manner as shall be notified to the Holder in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).

- (c) Illiquidity. Unless the relevant Final Terms specifies that "Early termination for illiquidity" is not applicable, the Issuer shall have the right (but not the obligation) in its discretion to terminate all (but not some only) of a Series of Securities if it shall have determined at any time, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, that:
- (i) the aggregate nominal amount outstanding with respect to the Series of Securities is less than EUR 500,000 or its equivalent in another currency;
 - (ii) the percentage of the aggregate nominal amount outstanding with respect to the Series of Securities is less than five per cent. of the originally issued aggregate nominal amount; or
 - (iii) the number of Securities of the Series outstanding is less than 1,000.

In such circumstances the Issuer will pay to each Holder in respect of each Security held by such Holder the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount, which payment will constitute full and final settlement of all its payment obligations under the Securities. Payment will be made to the Holder in such manner as shall be notified to the Holder in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).

- (d) Force Majeure. The Issuer shall be deemed to be not in breach of any of its obligations under the Securities or otherwise liable to a Holder for any delay in performance, or any non-performance, of any of its obligations (including as regards any payments, as the case may be, due) under the Securities where and for so long as the delay or non-performance is, in the determination of the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) arising out of or due to the occurrence of a Force Majeure Event, provided that:
- (i) the Issuer could not have avoided the effect of the Force Majeure Event by taking precautions which, having regard to all matters known to it before the occurrence of the Force Majeure Event and relevant factors, it ought reasonably to have taken but did not take; and
 - (ii) the Issuer has used reasonable endeavours to mitigate the effect of the Force Majeure Event and to carry out its obligations under the Securities in any other way that is practicable (excluding any endeavours which would result in a material loss or expense to the Issuer).

The Issuer shall notify Holders of the nature and extent of the circumstances giving rise to the Force Majeure Event in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).

If the relevant Force Majeure Event prevails for a continuous period in excess of three months after the date on which it began, then any Holder may, by written notice to the Issuer at the specified office of the Principal Agent, effective upon the date of receipt thereof by the Principal Agent, declare any Security held by such Holder to be immediately due and payable whereupon the same shall become immediately due and payable at the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind.

9. Payment Disruption

If, in respect of any Series of Securities, "Payment Disruption" is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms, then this General Term 9 (Payment Disruption) shall apply to such Series of Securities.

- (a) Occurrence of a Payment Disruption Event. In the event that the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) determines that a Payment Disruption Event (as defined below) has occurred in relation to any payment due (or shortly to be due) under the Securities (the "Relevant Payment") the Issuer shall as soon as reasonably practicable notify the Holders of the relevant Securities of such determination in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).
- (b) Consequences of a Payment Disruption Event. Upon the occurrence of a Payment Disruption Event the relevant payment date (and the Issuer's obligation to make the Relevant Payment) shall be postponed to a date falling on the earlier of:
 - (i) the date falling as soon as reasonably practicable after the date on which the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) has determined that the Payment Disruption Event is no longer continuing; and
 - (ii) the date falling 180 calendar days after the date on which the notice of the Payment Disruption Event was given by the Issuer under General Term 15 (Notices) (the "Cut-Off Date").
- (c) Any payments shall be net of expenses and no interest shall accrue. Notwithstanding anything else:
 - (i) any payments made in accordance with this General Term 9 (Payment Disruption) shall be made after deduction of any costs, expenses or liabilities incurred or to be incurred by or on behalf of the Issuer (as determined by the Issuer, acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) in connection with or arising from the resolution of the relevant Payment Disruption Event(s); and
 - (ii) no interest shall be payable by the Issuer in respect of any delay which may occur in the payment of any amounts due and payable under the Securities as a result of the operation of this General Term 9 (Payment Disruption).
- (d) Payment in alternate currency on the Cut-Off Date. In the event that a Payment Disruption Event is still occurring on the Cut-Off Date and (pursuant to General Term 9(b)(ii) above) the relevant payment date for payment of the Relevant Payment is postponed to the Cut-Off Date, then the Issuer may satisfy its obligation to pay the Relevant Payment by making a payment of an equivalent amount in another currency (at a relevant rate of exchange as determined by the Issuer acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner).
- (e) Meaning of Payment Disruption Event. A "Payment Disruption Event" shall have occurred in relation to a Relevant Payment where, in the determination of the Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) the Settlement Currency is not (or is not expected to be) available to the Issuer for the making of the Relevant Payment on the relevant payment date. Circumstances where a Payment Disruption Event shall have occurred may include (without limitation) (i) the imposition (or announcement of the impending imposition) of exchange controls in the jurisdiction of the Settlement Currency, (ii) the Settlement Currency no longer being used by the government of the country (or countries of the currency block) issuing that currency or by public institutions within the international banking community for the settlement of transactions, or (iii) any other event beyond the control of the Issuer which could make it impracticable or impossible for the Issuer to obtain the Settlement Currency in order to make the Relevant Payment under the Securities.

- (f) European Monetary Union. This General Term 9 (Payment Disruption) shall be without prejudice to the Issuer's ability to make elections under General Term 13 (Adjustments for European Monetary Union).

10. Taxation

All payments in respect of the Securities will be subject in all cases to all applicable fiscal and other laws or agreements with any governmental authority and regulations (including, where applicable, laws or agreements requiring the deduction or withholding for, or on account of, any tax duty or other charge whatsoever). The Holder shall be liable for and/or pay any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other similar payment (including any taxes due in relation to a financial transactions tax) in connection with the ownership of and/or any transfer or payment in respect of the Securities held by such Holder. The Issuer shall have the right to withhold or deduct from any amount payable, such amount as shall be necessary to account for or to pay any such tax, duty, charge, withholding or other similar payment. For the avoidance of doubt, unless required by Applicable Law, the Issuer shall not be liable for or otherwise obliged to pay any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other similar payment which may arise as a result of the ownership, transfer or exercise of any Securities. In relation to each Security, the relevant Holder shall be responsible for all Expenses.

11. Agents

- (a) Principal Agent and Agents. The Issuer reserves the right at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Agent and to appoint further or additional Agents, provided that no termination of appointment of the principal agent (the "Principal Agent") shall become effective until a replacement Principal Agent shall have been appointed and provided that if and to the extent that any of the Securities are listed on any stock exchange or publicly offered in any jurisdiction, there shall be an Agent having a specified office in each country required by the rules and regulation of each such stock exchange and each such jurisdiction. Notice of any appointment, or termination of appointment, or any change in the specified office, of any Agent will be given to Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices). Each Agent acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders or any of them. Any calculations or determinations in respect of the Securities made by an Agent shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Holders.
- (b) Calculation Agent. The Issuer, or such other Calculation Agent as specified in the relevant Final Terms, shall undertake the duties of calculation agent (the "Calculation Agent" which expression shall include any successor calculation agent or assignee as approved by the Issuer) in respect of the Securities unless the Issuer decides to appoint a successor Calculation Agent in accordance with the provisions below.

The Issuer reserves the right at any time to appoint another institution as the Calculation Agent provided that no termination of appointment of the existing Calculation Agent shall become effective until a replacement Calculation Agent shall have been appointed. Notice of any termination or appointment will be given to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices).

The Calculation Agent acts solely as agent of the Issuer and does not assume any obligation or duty to, or any relationship of agency or trust for or with, the Holders. Any calculations or determinations in respect of the Securities made by the Calculation Agent (whether or not the Issuer) shall (save in the case of manifest error) be final, conclusive and binding on the Holders.

The Calculation Agent may, with the consent of the Issuer (if it is not the Issuer), delegate any of its obligations and functions to a third party as it deems appropriate.

12. Determinations and Modifications

- (a) Determinations. Except where otherwise specified, in making any determinations and calculations under these Terms and Conditions, the Issuer and the Calculation Agent shall act at all times in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner. In the case of each determination under the Terms and Conditions, each of the Issuer and the Calculation Agent shall take into account the effect of such determination on the Securities and consider whether the fair treatment of Holders is achieved by any such determination in accordance with its regulatory obligations. All such determinations and calculations by the Issuer and the Calculation Agent shall, in the absence of manifest error, be final and binding.
- (b) Whilst it is intended that the Issuer and the Calculation Agent will follow the Terms and Conditions (including the payout mechanics) to make determinations in respect of the Securities, no assurance can be given that market, regulatory, judicial or fiscal circumstances or, without limitation, any other circumstances will not arise that would necessitate a modification to the Terms and Conditions in order that the Securities replicate as closely as possible investments in the Reference Asset(s) underlying the Securities and its components in line with the investment objectives of the Securities. The Issuer may, without the consent of the Holders or any of them, make any such modification to the Terms and Conditions that it considers necessary (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) to reflect such circumstances. Notice of any such modification will be given to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) but failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such modification.
- (c) Modifications. The Issuer may, without the consent of the Holders or any of them, modify any provision of the Terms and Conditions if the modification is: (i) of a formal, minor or technical nature; (ii) made to correct a manifest error, proven error or defective provision, as determined by the Issuer; or (iii) in its sole and absolute discretion, not materially prejudicial to the interests of the Holders. Notice of any such modification will be given to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) but failure to give, or non-receipt of, such notice will not affect the validity of any such modification.

13. Adjustments for European Monetary Union

- (a) Redenomination. The Issuer may, without the consent of any Holder, on giving notice to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) elect that, with effect from the Adjustment Date specified in such notice, certain terms of the Securities shall be redenominated in euro. The election will have effect as follows:
 - (i) where the Settlement Currency is the National Currency Unit of a country which is participating in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union pursuant to the Treaty, such Settlement Currency shall be deemed to be an amount of euro converted from the original Settlement Currency into euro at the Established Rate, subject to such provisions (if any) as to rounding as the Issuer may decide and as may be specified in the notice, and after the Adjustment Date, all payments in respect of the Securities will be made solely in euro as though references in the Securities to the Settlement Currency were to euro; and
 - (ii) where the Terms and Conditions contain a rate of exchange or any of the Terms and Conditions are expressed in a National Currency Unit (the "Original Currency") of a country which is participating in the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union pursuant to the Treaty, such rate of exchange and/or any other terms of the Terms and Conditions shall be deemed to be expressed in or, in the case of a rate of exchange, converted for or (as the case may be) into, euro at the Established Rate; and

- (iii) such other changes shall be made to the Terms and Conditions as the Issuer may decide to conform them to conventions then applicable to instruments expressed in euro.
- (b) Adjustment to Terms and Conditions. The Issuer may, without the consent of the Holders, on giving notice to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) make such adjustments to the Terms and Conditions as the Issuer may determine to be appropriate to account for the effect of the third stage of European Economic and Monetary Union pursuant to the Treaty on the Terms and Conditions.
- (c) Euro Conversion Costs. Notwithstanding General Term 13(a) (Redenomination) and/or General Term 13(b) (Adjustment to Terms and Conditions), none of the Issuer, the Calculation Agent or any Agent shall be liable to any Holder or other person for any commissions, costs, losses or expenses in relation to or resulting from the transfer of euro or any currency conversion or rounding effected in connection therewith.

14. Purchases, Further Issues by the Issuer and Prescription

- (a) Purchases. The Issuer or any affiliate may purchase Securities at any price in the open market or by tender or private treaty. Any Securities so purchased may be held, surrendered for cancellation or reissued or resold, and Securities so reissued or resold shall for all purposes be deemed to form part of the original series of Securities.
- (b) Further Issues. The Issuer shall be at liberty from time to time without the consent of the Holders or any of them to create and issue further securities having the same terms and conditions as the Securities and so as to be consolidated with and form a single series with such Securities.
- (c) Prescription. Any Security represented by a Global Security in bearer form or a Definitive Security which is capable of presentation and is not so presented by its due date for presentation shall be void, and its value reduced to zero, if not so presented within five years of such due date. For the avoidance of doubt, any Securities which are subject to provisions relating to their exercise shall be void, and their value shall be zero, if not exercised in accordance with their provisions.

15. Notices

- (a) Global Securities in bearer form. Notices to Holders shall be given by the delivery of the relevant notice to the Clearing Agent(s) with an instruction from the Issuer to the Clearing Agent(s) to communicate such notice to the Holders.
- (b) Definitive Securities. Notices to Holders shall be given by the publication in one or more leading newspapers of general circulation as the Issuer or Calculation Agent may determine.
- (c) Dematerialised Securities. Notices to Holders of Dematerialised Securities shall be made subject to and in accordance with the applicable Clearing Agent Rules.
- (d) Listed Securities. The Issuer shall also ensure that notices are duly published, to the extent required, in a manner which complies (i) with the rules of any stock exchange or other relevant exchange on which the Securities are for the time being listed or in the country in which such Securities have been admitted to trading and (ii) with any relevant legislation.
- (e) Securities listed on the SIX Swiss Exchange Ltd. In respect of Securities listed on the SIX Swiss Exchange Ltd (in addition to the other terms of this General Term 15 (Notices)), the Issuer shall have the right but (without prejudice to General Term 15(d) (Listed Securities)) shall not be obliged to publish notices in electronic form on the internet website of the SIX Swiss Exchange Ltd (currently http://www.six-exchangeregulation.com/publications/communiqués/official_notices_en.html), but which may change from time to time) if and so long as the Securities are listed on the SIX Swiss Exchange Ltd.

- (f) Timing of notices having been given. Any notice issued pursuant to this General Term 15 (Notices) by being delivered to the Clearing Agent(s) (or as required by the Clearing Agent under the Clearing Agent Rules) or the Registrar (as applicable) for communication to the Holders (as applicable) will be deemed to have been given on the date of the delivery of such notice to the Clearing Agent(s) or the Registrar (as applicable). Any notice issued pursuant to this General Term 15 (Notices) by being published in a newspaper or on a web-site will be deemed to have been given on the date of the first publication (for the avoidance of doubt, such notice having been published by any valid means) or, where required to be published in more than one newspaper or web-site or by delivery to one or more Clearing Agents or to the Registrar, on the first to occur of the date of the first publication or the first delivery.

16. Substitution

- (a) Substitution of Issuer. The Issuer may at any time without the consent of the Holders substitute for itself as issuer of the Securities with regard to any and all rights, obligations and liabilities under and in connection with the Securities:
 - (i) any entity (A) which acquires all or substantially all of the undertaking and/or assets of the Issuer, (B) which acquires the beneficial ownership of the whole of the issued voting stock and/or share capital of the Issuer or (C) into which the Issuer is amalgamated, merged or reconstructed and where the Issuer is not the continuing company (such entity, a "Successor in Business" or the "Substitute"); or

In the event of any substitution of the Issuer, any reference in the Terms and Conditions to the Issuer shall from such time be construed as a reference to the Substitute.

- (b) Substitution of Office. The Issuer shall have the right upon giving notice to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) to change the office through which it is acting and shall specify the date of such change in such notice.

(Jurisdiction) is for the benefit of the Holders only. As a result, nothing prevents any Holder from taking proceedings relating to a Dispute ("Proceedings") in any other courts with jurisdiction. To the extent allowed by law, Holders may take concurrent Proceedings in any number of jurisdictions. The Issuer agrees that the courts of England are the most appropriate and convenient courts to settle any Dispute and, accordingly, that it will not argue to the contrary.

18. Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

No rights are conferred on any person under the English Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to enforce any of the Terms and Conditions. The preceding sentence shall not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

ASSET TERMS

COMMODITY AND COMMODITY FUTURES CONTRACT LINKED TERMS

1. Consequences of Market Disruption Events

If the Calculation Agent determines that a Market Disruption Event has occurred or exists on any Value Determination Date (or, if different, the day on which the price for such Value Determination Date would, in the ordinary course, be published by the Price Source), the Relevant Price for such Value Determination Date will be determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the first applicable Disruption Fallback that provides a Relevant Price.

Upon the occurrence of a Market Disruption Event, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices), giving details of the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto. Without limiting the obligation of the Calculation Agent to give notice to the Holders as set forth in the preceding sentence, failure by the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders of the occurrence of a Market Disruption Event and/or the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto shall not affect the validity of the occurrence and effect of such Market Disruption Event.

2. Corrections to published prices

If Correction of Commodity Reference Price is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and a Commodity Reference Price published or announced on any Value Determination Date is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Commodity Reference Price") is published or announced by the relevant Price Source prior to the Correction Cut-Off Date, then such Corrected Commodity Reference Price shall be deemed to be the Commodity Reference Price for such Value Determination Date and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Commodity Reference Price in determining any relevant amount payable under the Securities.

3. Consequences of Additional Disruption Events

If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer may take the action described in (a) or (b) below:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities to account for the Additional Disruption Event, and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

4. Definitions

"Additional Disruption Event" means (a) Relevant Currency Disruption, and (b) any of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption and Increased Cost of Hedging, in each case if specified in the relevant Final Terms.

"Calculation Agent Determination" means that the Calculation Agent will determine the Relevant Price (or method for determining the Relevant Price), taking into consideration the latest available quotation for the relevant Commodity Reference Price and any other information that it, in good faith, deems relevant.

"CBOT" means the Chicago Board of Trade or its successor.

"Change in Law" means that, on or after the Trade Date (as specified in the relevant Final Terms) (a) due to the adoption of or any change in any applicable law or regulation (including, without limitation, any tax law), or (b) due to the promulgation of or any change in the interpretation by any court, tribunal or regulatory authority with competent jurisdiction of any applicable law or regulation (including any action taken by a taxing authority), the Calculation Agent determines that (i) it has become illegal for the Issuer to hold, acquire or dispose of any Hedge Position, or (ii) the Issuer will incur a materially increased cost in performing its obligations in relation to any Hedge Position (including, without limitation, due to any increase in tax liability, decrease in tax benefit or other adverse effect on the tax position of the Issuer and/or any of its affiliates).

"COMEX" means the COMEX Division, or its successor, of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc. or its successor.

"Commodity" means the commodity (which may be a specified futures contract relating to an underlying commodity) specified as such in the relevant Final Terms.

"Commodity Reference Dealers" means that the price for a date will be determined on the basis of quotations provided by Reference Dealers on that date of that day's Specified Price (or, if there is no Specified Price for a Commodity Reference Price, such Commodity Reference Price) for a unit of the relevant Commodity for delivery on the Delivery Date (or, if there is no Delivery Date for a Commodity Reference Price, for delivery on such date that forms the basis on which such Commodity Reference Price is quoted). If four quotations are provided as requested, the price for that date will be the arithmetic mean of the Specified Prices (or, if there is no Specified Price for a Commodity Reference Price, of such Commodity Reference Prices for the relevant date and time) for that Commodity provided by each Reference Dealer, without regard to the Specified Prices (or, as the case may be, Commodity Reference Prices for the relevant date and time) having the highest and lowest values. If exactly three quotations are provided as requested, the price for that date will be the Specified Price (or, as the case may be, Commodity Reference Price for the relevant date and time) provided by the relevant Reference Dealer that remains after disregarding the Specified Prices (or, as the case may be, Commodity Reference Prices for the relevant date and time) having the highest and lowest values. For this purpose, if more than one quotation has the same highest value and lowest value, then the Specified Price (or, as the case may be, Commodity Reference Price for the relevant date and time) of one of such quotations shall be disregarded. If fewer than three quotations are provided, it will be deemed that the price for the date cannot be determined.

Trading Day on which the Market Disruption Event ceases to exist, unless that Market Disruption Event continues to exist (measured from and including the original day that would otherwise have been such Value Determination Date) or the Relevant Price continues to be unavailable for consecutive Scheduled Trading Days equal in number to the Maximum Days of Disruption. In that case, the next Disruption Fallback (as defined below) specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms shall apply.

"Delivery Date" means, in respect of a Commodity Reference Price, the relevant date or month for delivery of the underlying Commodity (which must be a date or month reported or capable of being determined from information reported in or by the relevant Price Source), as follows:

provided that:

- (i) if "Delivery Date Roll" is specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms, then in the event that the relevant Value Determination Date or other relevant date falls on the last day on which trading may take place for the relevant Futures Contract, then the "Delivery Date" for such Commodity Reference Price in relation to such Value Determination Date or other relevant date shall be the month of expiry of the next Futures Contract to expire after (but not on) such Value Determination Date or other relevant date; or

CURRENCY LINKED TERMS

1. Consequences of Disrupted Days

If the Calculation Agent determines that any Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day, such Value Determination Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that the Calculation Agent determines is not a Disrupted Day, unless the Calculation Agent determines that each of the consecutive Scheduled Trading Days equal in number to the Maximum Days of Disruption immediately following the Scheduled Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case:

- (a) the last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day shall be deemed to be such Value Determination Date, notwithstanding the fact that such day is a Disrupted Day; and
- (b) the Calculation Agent shall determine the Currency Exchange Rate on that last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day, taking into account all information that it deems relevant, and such determination by the Calculation Agent pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be deemed to be the Currency Exchange Rate in respect of such Value Determination Date.

The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Value Determination Date. Without limiting the obligation of the Calculation Agent to give notice to the Holders as set forth in the preceding sentence, failure by the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall not affect the validity of the occurrence and effect of such Disrupted Day.

2. Corrections to published and displayed rates

If Correction of Currency Exchange Rate is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and the Currency Exchange Rate published or displayed on any Value Determination Date is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Currency Exchange Rate") is published or displayed on the relevant Screen Page prior to the Correction Cut-Off Date, then such Corrected Currency Exchange Rate shall be deemed to be the relevant Currency Exchange Rate for such Value Determination Date and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Currency Exchange Rate in determining any relevant amount payable under the Securities.

3. Consequences of Additional Disruption Events

If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer may take the action described in (a) or (b) below:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities to account for the Additional Disruption Event, and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

"Specific Inconvertibility" means the occurrence of any event that makes it impossible for the Issuer to convert the Minimum Amount of the Event Currency into the Non-Event Currency in the Event Currency Jurisdiction, other than where such impossibility is due solely to the failure by the Issuer to comply with any law, rule or regulation enacted by any Governmental Authority (unless such law, rule or regulation is enacted after the Trade Date of the initial issue of the relevant Series of Securities and it is impossible for the Issuer, due to an event beyond the control of the Issuer to comply with such law, rule or regulation).

"Specific Non-Transferability" means the occurrence of any event that makes it impossible for the Issuer to deliver (a) the Non-Event Currency from accounts inside the Event Currency Jurisdiction to accounts outside the Event Currency Jurisdiction, or (b) the Event Currency between accounts inside the Event Currency Jurisdiction or to a party that is a non-resident of the Event Currency Jurisdiction, other than where such impossibility is due solely to the failure by the Issuer to comply with any law, rule or regulation enacted by any Governmental Authority (unless such law, rule or regulation is enacted after the Trade Date of the initial issue of the relevant Series of Securities and it is impossible for the Issuer, as the case may be, due to an event beyond the control of the Issuer, to comply with such law, rule or regulation).

EQUITY LINKED TERMS

1. Consequences of Disrupted Days

If the Calculation Agent determines that any Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day, such Value Determination Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that the Calculation Agent determines is not a Disrupted Day, unless the Calculation Agent determines that each of the consecutive Scheduled Trading Days equal in number to the Maximum Days of Disruption immediately following the Scheduled Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case:

- (a) the last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day shall be deemed to be such Value Determination Date, notwithstanding the fact that such day is a Disrupted Day; and
- (b) the Calculation Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value of such Equity as of the Valuation Time on that last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day, and such determination by the Calculation Agent pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be deemed to be the Equity Price in respect of such Value Determination Date.

The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Value Determination Date. Without limiting the obligation of the Calculation Agent to give notice to the Holders as set forth in the preceding sentence, failure by the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall not affect the validity of the occurrence and effect of such Disrupted Day.

2. Consequences of Potential Adjustment Events

If "Potential Adjustment Events" is specified to be applicable in the relevant Final Terms, then following the declaration by the Equity Issuer of the terms of any Potential Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent will determine whether such Potential Adjustment Event has a diluting, concentrative or other effect on the theoretical value of the Equity and, if so, will (a) make the corresponding adjustment, if any, to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for that diluting, concentrative or other effect (provided that no adjustment will be made to account solely for changes in volatility, expected dividends, stock loan rate or liquidity relative to the Equity), including (unless "Equity Substitution" is specified as not applicable in the relevant Final Terms) the substitution of the Equity (the "Substituted Equity") the subject of the Potential Adjustment Event by a share selected by the Calculation Agent from the Reference Index (the "New Equity") and (b) determine the effective date of that adjustment. Unless "Equity Substitution" is specified as not applicable in the relevant Final Terms, if the Calculation Agent selects a New Equity in substitution for the Substituted Equity, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent on its behalf shall make such other adjustments to the Securities as it deems appropriate. The Calculation Agent may (but need not) determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of such Potential Adjustment Event made by an options exchange to options on the Equity traded on that options exchange.

Upon making any such adjustment, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices), stating the adjustment to any amount payable under the Securities and/or any of the other relevant terms and giving brief details of the Potential Adjustment Event, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the Potential Adjustment Event or any action taken.

3. Consequences of Extraordinary Events

If any Extraordinary Event is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and one or more of such event occurs, in each case, in respect of an Equity, the Issuer may:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities to account for the Extraordinary Event, as the case may be, including (unless "Equity Substitution" is specified as not applicable in the relevant Final Terms) the substitution of the Substituted Equity the subject of such Extraordinary Event by a New Equity and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

If the provisions of Equity Linked Term 3(a) apply, the Calculation Agent may (but need not) determine the appropriate adjustment by reference to the adjustment in respect of the Extraordinary Event made by an options exchange to options on the Equity traded on that options exchange.

Unless "Equity Substitution" is specified as not applicable in the relevant Final Terms, if the Issuer or the Calculation Agent on its behalf selects a New Equity in substitution for the Substituted Equity, the Calculation Agent shall make such other adjustments to the Securities as it deems appropriate.

Upon the occurrence (if applicable) of one or more Extraordinary Events, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices), stating the occurrence of such Extraordinary Event(s), as the case may be, giving details thereof and the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto.

4. Corrections to published prices

If Correction of Equity Price is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and the price of an Equity published on any Value Determination Date is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Equity Price") is published on the relevant Exchange prior to the Correction Cut-Off Date, then such Corrected Equity Price shall be deemed to be the relevant price for such Equity for such Value Determination Date and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Equity Price in determining any relevant amount payable under the Securities.

5. Consequences of Additional Disruption Events

If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer may take the action described in (a) or (b) below:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities to account for the Additional Disruption Event, including (unless "Equity Substitution" is specified as not applicable in the relevant Final Terms) the substitution of the Substituted Equity the subject of the Additional Disruption Event by a New Equity, and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

FUND LINKED TERMS

1. Consequences of Fund Events, Potential Fund Events, Insolvency or Merger Events

If the Calculation Agent determines in respect of such Value Determination Date that a Fund Event, Potential Fund Event or Insolvency in respect of the Fund, the Management Company or any Fund Service Provider, or any Merger Event in respect of the Fund or the Management Company has occurred or is continuing, then the Calculation Agent shall determine the Fund Share Price of the relevant Fund Shares on such Value Determination Date.

Following the determination by the Calculation Agent of the occurrence of any Fund Event, Potential Fund Event or Insolvency in respect of the Fund, the Management Company or any Fund Service Provider, or any Merger Event in respect of the Fund or the Management Company, the Calculation Agent shall notify the Issuer who shall notify the Holders following the determination of such event, in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices). In respect of each Fund Event, Potential Fund Event, Insolvency or Merger Event that has not been waived by the Issuer, following the occurrence of such an event (and regardless of whether or not such event is then continuing), the Issuer may take any of following actions (each, a "Permitted Action"):

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) make such adjustments to any variable, calculation methodology, valuation, settlement, payment terms or any other terms and relating to the relevant Securities as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for the economic effect on the relevant Securities of such Fund Event, Potential Fund Event, Insolvency or Merger Event and (ii) determine the effective date of the relevant adjustments;
- (b) require the Calculation Agent to select a replacement fund (the "Replacement Fund"), which the Calculation Agent determines has a similar risk profile as the Fund and the appropriate date (the "Substitution Date") for the replacement of the Fund by the Replacement Fund. Following any such selection, (i) the Replacement Fund shall replace the Fund on the Substitution Date, (ii) references herein to the name of the Fund shall be deemed to be references to the name of the Replacement Fund with effect from the Substitution Date, and (iii) the Calculation Agent shall, in good faith, make such adjustment as it determines to be appropriate, if any, to any variable, calculation methodology, valuation, settlement, payment terms or any other terms and conditions in relation to the relevant Securities to reflect such substitution;
- (c) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) or (b) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities; or
- (d) make such adjustments to any variable, calculation methodology, valuation, settlement, payment terms or any other terms and conditions as are necessary to reflect a notional liquidation of all of the Fund Shares (with the timing of such notional liquidations being the same timing as would be the case on an actual liquidation of Fund Shares at the relevant time) and a notional investment of the liquidation proceeds in either (i) a zero coupon bond, or equivalent, such that the amount payable at redemption of such zero coupon bond is at least an amount per Security equal to the Issue Price (as defined in the relevant Final Terms) of the Security, (ii) commercial paper rated at least A1/P1 or above by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. (any transaction costs that would be incurred in respect of an actual such investment may be deducted from the value of the Security), or (iii) an interest bearing deposit bearing interest at prevailing rates that would be offered by the Calculation Agent in respect of such a deposit as determined by the Calculation Agent.

Notwithstanding that the Issuer or the Calculation Agent on its behalf may have previously determined not to take a Permitted Action, or only took one Permitted Action, it shall not be prevented from subsequently or concurrently deciding to adopt an additional or different Permitted Action in respect of the same Fund Event, Potential Fund Event, Insolvency or Merger Event. In such respect, the Issuer may make such adjustments to any variable, calculation methodology, valuation, settlement, payment terms or any other terms and conditions of the relevant Securities as the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for the fact that the Permitted Action selected has been altered.

Notwithstanding anything in these Fund Linked Terms, neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent is under any obligation to determine that a Fund Event, a Potential Fund Event, an Insolvency or a Merger Event has occurred or take any or all of the Permitted Actions.

Upon the Calculation Agent making a determination pursuant to this Fund Linked Term 1 (Consequences of Fund Events, Potential Fund Events, Insolvency or Merger Events), the Issuer shall give notice as soon as practicable to Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices), giving details of such determination, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of such event or any action taken or not taken.

2. Corrections to published prices

If Correction of Fund Share Price is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and the price of a Fund published or announced on any Value Determination Date is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Fund Share Price") is published or announced by the Management Company of the Fund or the relevant Exchange (if the Fund is an ETF) prior to the Correction Cut-Off Date, then such Corrected Fund Share Price shall be deemed to be the relevant price for such Fund for such Value Determination Date and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Fund Share Price in determining any relevant amount payable under the Securities.

3. Consequences of Additional Disruption Events

If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer may take the action described in (a) or (b) below:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities to account for the Additional Disruption Event, including the substitution of the Fund Shares the subject of the Additional Disruption Event by a Replacement Fund, and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

4. Calculation Agent determinations

- (a) If, in respect of any determination or calculation under the Securities which is made by reference to an official or estimated NAV of a Fund provided or published by or on behalf of such Fund, or, where the Fund is an ETF, the last reported trading price of such ETF on the Exchange in respect of a relevant date, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent on its behalf determines that such value does not fairly represent the value of the Fund or ETF as of such date, or that no such value is provided or published, then the Issuer or the Calculation Agent on its behalf may use such other value as it determines as representing a fair NAV or price, as applicable, as of such date or, alternatively, may use a preceding official or estimated value where it believes that such preceding official or estimated value gives a fairer representation than the more recent figure.

- (b) Should the Fund operate equalisation procedures in respect of performance or incentive based fees, the Issuer or the Calculation Agent on its behalf may make such adjustments to these Fund Linked Terms as the Issuer or the Calculation Agent determines appropriate to account for such equalisation in an equitable manner and, where such equalisation procedures operate by the issuance of different classes of shares in the Fund, then each of the Issuer and the Calculation Agent is permitted to deem any notional subscription or redemption on behalf of the Securities to be in such order and in respect of such classes as appear to it to be equitable and reasonable or to deem the return of such shares to be based on a benchmark or average of the different classes.
- (c) For the avoidance of doubt and notwithstanding any other Terms and Conditions, the Issuer and the Calculation Agent on its behalf shall be entitled to make any determination, waiver, declaration or decision with regard to a Fund Event and, without limitation, may make such determination, waiver, declaration or decision by reference to the establishment, operation and/or efficacy (whether actual or anticipated) of any relevant hedging transaction. Neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent is under any obligation to monitor or determine whether or not a Fund Event has occurred and will not be required to, and will not be responsible for any failure to, make any determination, waiver, declaration or decision whatsoever in relation to a Fund Event. In making or omitting to make any such determination, waiver, declaration or decision, neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent shall be under any fiduciary duty towards the Holders and, for the avoidance of doubt, neither the Issuer nor the Calculation Agent shall be responsible for any loss, underperformance or opportunity cost suffered or incurred by Holders in connection with the Securities as a result thereof, howsoever arising.

- (a) the last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day shall be deemed to be such Value Determination Date, notwithstanding the fact that such day is a Disrupted Day; and
- (b) the Calculation Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value of such Government Bond Futures Contract as of the Valuation Time on that last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day, and such determination by the Calculation Agent pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be deemed to be the Official Settlement Price in respect of such Value Determination Date.

The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Value Determination Date. Without limiting the obligation of the Calculation Agent to give notice to the Holders as set forth in the preceding sentence, failure by the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall not affect the validity of the occurrence and effect of such Disrupted Day.

2. Corrections to published prices

If Correction of Official Settlement Price is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and the price of a Government Bond Futures Contract published or announced on any Value Determination Date is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Official Settlement Price") is published or announced on the relevant Exchange prior to the Correction Cut-Off Date, then such Corrected Official Settlement Price shall be deemed to be the relevant price for such Government Bond Futures Contract for such Value Determination Date and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Official Settlement Price in determining any relevant amount payable under the Securities.

3. Consequences of Additional Disruption Events

If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer may take the action described in (a) or (b) below:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities to account for the Additional Disruption Event, and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

- (b) it becomes impossible to obtain the Relevant Currency Exchange Rate on any relevant date, in the interbank market;
- (c) the occurrence of any event which (i) generally makes it impossible to convert the currencies in the Relevant Currency Exchange Rate through customary legal channels for conducting such conversion in the principal financial centre of the Relevant Currency, or (ii) generally makes it impossible to deliver the Relevant Currency from accounts in the country of the principal financial centre of the Relevant Currency to accounts outside such jurisdiction or the Relevant Currency between accounts in such jurisdiction or to a party that is a non-resident of such jurisdiction;
- (d) it is impossible to obtain a firm quote for the Relevant Currency Exchange Rate for an amount which the Issuer considers necessary to discharge its obligations under the Securities;

INDEX LINKED TERMS

1. Consequences of Disrupted Days for an Index (other than a Commodity Index)

If the Calculation Agent determines that any Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day, such Value Determination Date shall be the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day that the Calculation Agent determines is not a Disrupted Day, unless the Calculation Agent determines that each of the consecutive Scheduled Trading Days equal in number to the Maximum Days of Disruption immediately following the Scheduled Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day. In that case:

- (a) the last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day shall be deemed to be such Value Determination Date, notwithstanding the fact that such day is a Disrupted Day; and
- (b) the Calculation Agent shall determine the level of the Index as of the Valuation Time on such last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating the Index last in effect prior to the occurrence of the first Disrupted Day using the Exchange traded or quoted price as of the Valuation Time on such last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day of each component comprised in the Index (or if an event has occurred which the Calculation Agent determines prevents the value of a relevant component from being determined in the usual manner on such last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day, its good faith estimate of the value for the relevant component as of the Valuation Time on such last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day), and such determination by the Calculation Agent pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be deemed to be the Index Level in each case in respect of such Value Determination Date.

The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Value Determination Date. Without limiting the obligation of the Calculation Agent to give notice to the Holders as set forth in the preceding sentence, failure by the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall not affect the validity of the occurrence and effect of such Disrupted Day.

2. Consequences of Disrupted Days for a Commodity Index

If the Calculation Agent determines that any Value Determination Date in respect of a Commodity Index is a Disrupted Day, the Index Level of such Commodity Index on such Value Determination Date shall be determined by the Calculation Agent as follows:

- (a) if the Calculation Agent determines that such Value Determination Date is not a Disrupted Day in respect of a component included in such Commodity Index (an "Unaffected Component"), the Index Level of such Commodity Index will be based on the settlement price of such Unaffected Component as published by the relevant trading facility on such Value Determination Date; and
- (b) if the Calculation Agent determines that such Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day in respect of a component included in such Commodity Index (an "Affected Component"), the Index Level of such Commodity Index will be based on the settlement price of such Affected Component published by the relevant trading facility on the first succeeding Scheduled Trading Day which the Calculation Agent determines is not a Disrupted Day for such Affected Component, unless the Calculation Agent determines that each of the consecutive Scheduled Trading Days relating to such Affected Component equal in number to the Maximum Days of Disruption immediately following such Value Determination Date is a Disrupted Day for such Affected Component, then the price of such Affected Component to be used in calculating the Index Level of such Commodity Index for such Value Determination Date shall be determined by the Calculation Agent on the Scheduled Trading Day relating to such Affected Component immediately following the expiry of the Maximum Days of Disruption, notwithstanding that such day may, or may not, be a Disrupted Day for such Affected Component; and

- (c) the Calculation Agent shall determine the Index Level of the Commodity Index by reference to the settlement price or other prices of each component included in such Commodity Index determined pursuant to sub-paragraphs (a) and (b) above using the then current method for calculating the Commodity Index on the Latest Determination Date.

The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Value Determination Date. Without limiting the obligation of the Calculation Agent to give notice to the Holders as set forth in the preceding sentence, failure by the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall not affect the validity of the occurrence and effect of such Disrupted Day.

3. Index Adjustment Events

- (a) Successor Index Sponsor or Successor Index

If a relevant Index is (i) not calculated and announced by the Index Sponsor but is calculated and announced by a successor sponsor (a "Successor Index Sponsor") acceptable to the Calculation Agent, or (ii) replaced by a successor index using, in the determination of the Calculation Agent, the same or a substantially similar formula for and method of calculation as used in the calculation of that Index, then, in each case, that index (the "Successor Index") will be deemed to be the Index.

- (b) Occurrence of an Index Adjustment Event

If (i) on or prior to a Value Determination Date or other relevant date, the relevant Index Sponsor makes or announces that it will make a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating a relevant Index or in any other way materially modifies that Index (other than a modification prescribed in that formula or method to maintain that Index in the event of changes in constituent stock, capitalisation, components and other routine events) (an "Index Modification") or permanently cancels the Index and no Successor Index exists (an "Index Cancellation"), or (ii) on a Value Determination Date or other relevant date, the Index Sponsor or (if applicable) the Successor Index Sponsor fails to calculate and announce a relevant Index (an "Index Disruption" (provided that, in respect of a Multi-Exchange Index, a Commodity Index or a Proprietary Index, the Calculation Agent may, in its discretion, determine that such event instead results in the occurrence of a Disrupted Day) and together with an Index Modification and an Index Cancellation, each an "Index Adjustment Event"), then the Issuer shall take the action described in (A) or (B) below:

(A) require the Calculation Agent to determine if such Index Adjustment Event has a material effect on the Securities and, if so, to calculate the relevant level of the Index using, in lieu of a published level for that Index, the level for that Index as at the relevant Valuation Time on such Value Determination Date or other relevant date, as the case may be, as determined by the Calculation Agent in accordance with the formula for and method of calculating that Index last in effect prior to the change, failure or cancellation but using only those components that comprised that Index immediately prior to that Index Adjustment Event; or

(B) determine that the Securities shall be terminated, in which event the Issuer will cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount.

Upon the occurrence of an Index Adjustment Event, the Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) giving details of the action proposed to be taken in relation thereto, provided that any failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of the Index Adjustment Event or any action taken.

4. Corrections to published levels

If Correction of Index Level is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and the level of an Index published on any Value Determination Date is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Index Level") is published by the Index Sponsor or (if applicable) the Successor Index Sponsor prior to the Correction Cut-Off Date, then such Corrected Index Level shall be deemed to be the relevant level for such Index for such Value Determination Date and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Index Level in determining any relevant amount payable under the Securities.

5. Consequences of Additional Disruption Events

If an Additional Disruption Event occurs, the Issuer may take the action described in (a) or (b) below:

- (a) require the Calculation Agent to (i) determine the appropriate adjustment, if any, to be made to any one or more of any variable relevant to the exercise, settlement, payment or other terms of the Securities to account for the Additional Disruption Event, and (ii) determine the effective date of that adjustment; or
- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

6. Index disclaimer

The Securities are not sponsored, endorsed, sold, or promoted by the Index or the Index Sponsor and no Index Sponsor makes any representation whatsoever, whether express or implied, either as to the results to be obtained from the use of the Index and/or the levels at which the Index stands at any particular time on any particular date or otherwise. In that case:

- (a) the last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day shall be deemed to be such Value Determination Date, notwithstanding the fact that such day is a Disrupted Day; and
- (b) the Calculation Agent shall determine its good faith estimate of the value of such Index Futures Contract as of the Valuation Time on that last consecutive Scheduled Trading Day, and such determination by the Calculation Agent pursuant to this paragraph (b) shall be deemed to be the Official Settlement Price in respect of such Value Determination Date.

The Calculation Agent shall give notice as soon as practicable to the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day on any day that, but for the occurrence of a Disrupted Day, would have been a Value Determination Date. Without limiting the obligation of the Calculation Agent to give notice to the Holders as set forth in the preceding sentence, failure by the Calculation Agent to notify the Holders of the occurrence of a Disrupted Day shall not affect the validity of the occurrence and effect of such Disrupted Day.

2. Corrections to published prices

If Correction of Official Settlement Price is specified as applicable in the relevant Final Terms and the price of an Index Futures Contract published on any Value Determination Date is subsequently corrected and the correction (the "Corrected Official Settlement Price") is published or announced by the relevant Exchange prior to the Correction Cut-Off Date, then such Corrected Official Settlement Price shall be deemed to be the relevant price for such Index Futures Contract for such Value Determination Date and the Calculation Agent shall use such Corrected Official Settlement Price in determining any relevant amount payable under the Securities.

- (b) determine that no adjustment that it could make under (a) above will produce a commercially reasonable result, and notify the Holders in accordance with General Term 15 (Notices) that the relevant consequence shall be the early redemption of the Securities, in which event the Issuer shall terminate the Securities and cause to be paid to each Holder in respect of each Security held by it an amount equal to the Unscheduled Early Termination Amount of such Securities.

To the best of the knowledge and belief of the Issuer (which has taken all reasonable care to ensure that such is the case) the information contained in the Base Prospectus, as completed by these Final Terms, is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

FORM OF THE SECURITIES

Securities for which the Clearing Agent is specified to be Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. and/or Clearstream Banking in the relevant Final Terms

Initial Issue of Securities

Global Securities in bearer form

Global Securities in bearer form may be delivered on or prior to the original issue date of the related Series of Securities to a Clearing Agent or the depository for one or more Clearing Agents (the "Common Depository").

Upon the initial deposit of a Global Security in bearer form with a Common Depository for a Clearing Agent, such Clearing Agent will credit each subscriber with a nominal amount or unit quantity of Securities equal to the nominal amount thereof for which it has subscribed and paid.

Securities that are initially deposited with the Common Depository for a Clearing Agent (the "Relevant Clearing Agent") may also be credited to the accounts of subscribers with (if indicated in the relevant Final Terms) other Clearing Agents through direct or indirect accounts with the Relevant Clearing Agent held by such other Clearing Agents. Conversely, Securities that are initially deposited with any other Clearing Agent may similarly be credited to the accounts of subscribers with the Relevant Clearing Agent.

Relationship of Accountholders with Clearing Agents

For so long as any of the Securities are represented by a Global Security and such Global Security is held on behalf of one or more Clearing Agents, each person who is for the time being shown in the records of a Clearing Agent as the holder of a particular nominal amount or unit quantity of Securities (an "Accountholder") shall be treated as the holder of that nominal amount or unit quantity of Securities for all purposes other than with respect to the payment of any amount on the Securities, the right to which shall be vested, as against the Issuer, solely in the bearer of a Global Security in accordance with and subject to its terms. Each Accountholder must look solely to the relevant Clearing Agent for its share of each payment made to the bearer of a Global Security.

The Issuer covenants in favour of each Accountholder that it will make all payments in respect of the nominal amount or unit quantity of Securities for the time being shown in the records of the relevant Clearing Agents as being held by the Accountholder and represented by a Global Security to the bearer of a Global Security in accordance with its terms and acknowledges that each Accountholder may take proceedings to enforce this covenant and any of the other rights which it has (described under the preceding paragraph) directly against the Issuer.

Exchange

Each permanent Global Security in bearer form will be exchangeable on or after its Exchange Date (as defined below), in whole but not in part, at the request of the Holder, for Definitive Securities in bearer form (as defined below):

- (a) if such permanent Global Security is held by a Clearing Agent and any such Clearing Agent is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of legal holidays) or announces an intention to cease business permanently or does in fact do so and the Holder is unable to settle such Securities through any non-affected Clearing Agent; or
- (b) if so specified in the relevant Final Terms, in an aggregate nominal amount or unit quantity equal to the nominal amount or unit quantity of such permanent Global Security submitted for exchange by the Holder, provided that in each case, certification as to non-U.S. beneficial ownership in the form required by the relevant Clearing Agent has been provided to such Clearing Agent with respect to such nominal amount or unit quantity submitted for such exchange.

Delivery of Securities

On or after any due date for exchange the holder of a Global Security may surrender such Global Security or, in the case of a partial exchange, present it for endorsement to or to the order of the Principal Agent. In exchange for any Global Security, or the part thereof to be exchanged, the Issuer will in the case of a Global Security exchangeable for Definitive Securities, deliver, or procure the delivery of, an equal aggregate nominal amount or unit quantity of duly executed and authenticated Definitive Securities. In this Base Prospectus, "Definitive Securities" means, in relation to any Global Security the definitive bearer Securities, as applicable, for which such Global Security may be exchanged. Definitive Securities will be security printed in accordance with any applicable legal and stock exchange requirements in or substantially in the form available from the offices of the Issuer.

Exchange Date

"Exchange Date" means, in relation to a permanent Global Security in bearer form, the first day following the giving of notice requiring exchange and on a day on which banks are open for business in the city in which the specified office of the Principal Agent is located and in the city in which the relevant Clearing Agent is located.

No Securities in registered form

No Securities may be issued in global registered form or definitive registered form.

Securities in certificated form

All Securities, other than Dematerialised Securities, will be issued in certificated form.

Securities in dematerialised form

Certain Securities will, where required by the rules and procedures of the Clearing Agent, be issued in dematerialised form and will be registered in the book-entry system of the Clearing Agent. Title to the Securities will pass by transfer between accountholders at the Clearing Agent perfected in accordance with the legislation, rules and regulations applicable to and/or issued by the Clearing Agent that are in force and effect from time to time (the "Rules"). Accordingly, in these Terms and Conditions, the term "Holder" means a person in whose name a Security is registered in the book-entry settlement system of the Clearing Agent or any other person recognised as a holder of Securities pursuant to the Rules.

Clearing Agents

Please refer to the section titled "Clearing Agents" for information on the Clearing Agents.

TAXATION

ALL INVESTORS (INCLUDING NON-U.S. INVESTORS) ARE URGED TO READ RISK FACTOR 2(T) (PAYMENTS ON THE SECURITIES MAY BE SUBJECT TO U.S. WITHHOLDING TAX AND/OR EARLY TERMINATION ON ACCOUNT OF U.S. WITHHOLDING TAX) AND RISK FACTOR 2(U) (FOREIGN ACCOUNT TAX COMPLIANCE WITHHOLDING AND FORCED SALE) FOR A DISCUSSION ABOUT POSSIBLE WITHHOLDING (AND FORCED SALE) UNDER FATCA AND WITHHOLDING WITH RESPECT TO DIVIDEND EQUIVALENT PAYMENTS.

Potential purchasers who are in any doubt about their tax position on purchase, ownership, transfer, exercise or non-exercise of any Security should consult their professional tax advisers.

1. GENERAL

Purchasers of Securities may be required to pay stamp taxes and/or other charges in accordance with the laws and practices of the country of purchase in addition to the issue or purchase price of each Security.

The Issuer shall not be liable for or otherwise obliged to pay any tax, duty or other payment which may arise as a result of the ownership, transfer or exercise of any Securities.

Prospective purchasers should be aware that tax treatment depends on the individual circumstances of each purchaser and may be subject to change in the future.

2. EU SAVINGS DIRECTIVE

Under EC Council Directive 2003/48/EC on the taxation of savings income (the "EU Savings Directive"), EU member states, subject to the following exceptions, are required to provide to the tax authorities of another EU member state details of payments of interest (or similar income) paid by a person within its jurisdiction to (or for the benefit of) an individual resident in that other EU member state or to certain limited types of entities established in that other EU member state. However, for a transitional period Luxembourg and Austria are instead required (unless during that period they elect otherwise) to operate a withholding system in relation to such payments (the ending of such transitional period being dependent upon the conclusion of certain other agreements relating to information exchange with certain other countries). A number of non-EU countries and territories including Switzerland have adopted similar measures (a withholding system in the case of Switzerland). Luxembourg has announced its intention to switch from the withholdings system to exchange of information as of 1 January 2015.

Prospective purchasers of Securities should note that an amended version of the Savings Directive was adopted by the European Council on 24 March 2014, which is intended to close loopholes identified in the current Savings Directive. The amendments, which must be transposed by Member States prior to 1 January 2016 and which will apply from 1 January 2017, will extend the scope of the Savings Directive to (i) payments made through certain intermediate structures (whether or not established in a Member State) for the ultimate benefit of an EU resident individual, and (ii) a wider range of income similar to interest.

3. PROPOSED FINANCIAL TRANSACTION TAX

On 14 February 2013, the European Commission published its detailed proposal for a common financial transaction tax ("FTT") in Austria, Belgium, Estonia, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Slovenia, Slovakia and Spain (the "FTT Member States").

The proposed FTT has very broad scope and, if introduced in its current form, could apply to certain dealings in the Securities (including secondary market transactions) in certain circumstances. The FTT would impose a charge at generally not less than 0.1% of the sale price on such transactions. However, the effective rate will be higher as each financial institution party is separately liable for the tax, so transactions between two financial parties will be taxed twice. Primary market transactions referred to in Article 5(c) of Regulation (EC) No 1287/2006 are exempt, although there is some uncertainty as to the intended scope of this exemption.

Under current proposals the FTT could apply in certain circumstances to persons both within and outside of the FTT Member States. Generally, it would apply to certain dealings in the Securities where at least one party is a financial institution, and at least one party is established in a FTT Member State. A financial institution may be, or be deemed to be, "established" in a FTT Member State in a broad range of circumstances, including (a) by transacting with a person established in a FTT Member State or (b) where the financial instrument which is subject to the dealings is issued in a FTT Member State.

Ministers of the FTT Member States (other than Slovenia) announced in a statement to the Economic and Financial Affairs Council on 6 May 2014 that there would be a progressive implementation of the FTT. That progressive implementation would first focus on the taxation of shares and some derivatives, with the first step being implemented on or before 1 January 2016. Certain aspects of the current proposal are controversial and, if the FTT is progressed, may be altered prior to any implementation. The actual implementation date would depend on the future approval of the European Council and consultation of other EU institutions, and the subsequent transposition into local law. Additional EU Member States may decide to participate. If the proposed directive (or similar tax) is adopted, transactions in the Securities would be subject to higher transaction costs, and the liquidity of the market for the Securities may diminish.

Prospective holders of the Securities are advised to seek their own professional advice in relation to the FTT.

4. UNITED KINGDOM

The following applies only to persons who are the beneficial owners of Securities and is a summary of the Issuer's understanding of current United Kingdom tax law and United Kingdom HM Revenue & Customs ("HMRC") practice relating only to certain aspects of United Kingdom taxation. It does not deal with any other United Kingdom taxation implications of acquiring, holding or disposing of Securities and should not be relied upon by Holders or prospective Holders of Securities. Some aspects do not apply to certain classes of person (such as persons carrying on a trade of dealing in Securities and persons connected with the Issuer) to whom special rules may apply. The United Kingdom tax treatment of prospective Holders of Securities depends on their individual circumstances and may be subject to change in the future. The precise tax treatment of a Holder of Securities will depend for each issue on the terms of the Securities, as specified in the Terms and Conditions of the Securities. For United Kingdom tax purposes, the term "Security" or "Securities" refers to instruments of the type described in this Base Prospectus and is not intended to be determinative (or indicative) of the nature of the instrument for the purposes of United Kingdom taxation. Prospective Holders of Securities who may be subject to tax in a jurisdiction other than the United Kingdom or who may be unsure as to their tax position should seek their own professional advice.

Withholding on account of United Kingdom tax

Payments made in respect of the Securities may be made without deduction or withholding for or on account of United Kingdom income tax where such payments are not regarded as yearly interest, manufactured payments, annual payments, royalties or rents for United Kingdom tax purposes.

Even if such payments were to be regarded as interest, manufactured payments or annual payments for United Kingdom tax purposes, the Issuer should not be required to withhold or deduct sums for or on account of United Kingdom income tax from payments made in respect of the Securities provided that the Securities are derivative contracts, the profits and losses arising from which are calculated in accordance with the provisions of Part 7 of the Corporation Tax Act 2009 (which broadly they should be provided that they are options, futures or contracts for differences for the purposes of Part 7 of that Act, are derivatives for the purposes of FRS25 (or International Accounting Standard 32) and are not excluded for the purposes of Part 7 of that Act by virtue of their underlying subject matter).

Interest on the Securities

If payments made in respect of the Securities were to be regarded as interest for United Kingdom tax purposes, such payments may be made without deduction or withholding for or on account of United Kingdom income tax, provided that the Issuer continues to be a bank within the meaning of section 991 of the Income Tax Act 2007 (the "Act"), and provided that any such interest is paid in the ordinary course of the Issuer's business within the meaning of section 878 of the Act.

Payments of interest on or in respect of the Securities may also be made without deduction or withholding for or on account of United Kingdom income tax provided that the Securities are and continue to be listed on a "recognised stock exchange" within the meaning of section 1005 of the Act. Provided, therefore, that the Securities are and remain so listed, interest on the Securities will be payable without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax.

Interest on or in respect of the Securities may also be paid without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax where interest on or in respect of the Securities is paid by the Issuer and, at the time the payment is made, the Issuer reasonably believes (and any person by or through whom interest on or in respect of the Securities is paid reasonably believes) that the beneficial owner is within the charge to United Kingdom corporation tax as regards the payment of interest; provided that HMRC has not given a direction (in circumstances where it has reasonable grounds to believe that the above exemption is not available in respect of such payment of interest at the time the payment is made) that the interest should be paid under deduction of tax.

Interest on or in respect of the Securities may also be paid without withholding or deduction for or on account of United Kingdom income tax where the maturity of the Securities is less than 365 days and those Securities do not form part of a scheme or arrangement of borrowing intended to be capable of remaining outstanding for more than 364 days.

In other cases, an amount must generally be withheld from payments of interest on or in respect of the Securities on account of United Kingdom income tax at the basic rate (currently 20 per cent.). However, where an applicable double tax treaty provides for a lower rate of withholding tax (or for no tax to be withheld) in relation to a Holder of Securities, HMRC can issue a notice to the Issuer to pay interest to the Holder of Securities without deduction of tax (or for interest to be paid with tax deducted at the rate provided for in the relevant double tax treaty, as applicable).

HMRC has powers to obtain information relating to securities in certain circumstances. This may include details of the beneficial owners of the Securities (or the persons for whom the Securities are held), details of the persons to whom payments derived from the Securities are or may be paid and information and documents in connection with transactions relating to the Securities. Information may be required to be provided by, amongst others, the holders of the Securities, persons by or through whom payments derived from the Securities are made or who receive such payments (or who would be entitled to receive such payments if they were made), persons who effect or are a party to transactions relating to the Securities on behalf of others and certain registrars or administrators. In certain circumstances, the information obtained by HMRC may be exchanged with tax authorities in other countries.

In addition, the reporting obligations in the EU Savings Directive set out in the "EU Savings Directive" section above, as implemented in the United Kingdom, may apply to payments on the Securities made through persons in the United Kingdom.

Stamp Duty

Stamp duty on the issue of Securities

Subject to the following paragraph, no stamp duty will generally be payable in relation to the issue of Securities.

A charge to United Kingdom stamp duty at a rate of 1.5 per cent. of the value of the Securities may arise on the issue of Securities in bearer form where such Securities are denominated in sterling and do not constitute loan capital for the purposes of section 78 Finance Act 1986 ("FA 1986") ("Loan Capital").

Stamp duty on the transfer of Securities

No United Kingdom stamp duty should be required to be paid on transfers of Securities on sale provided no instrument of transfer is used to complete such sales.

An instrument transferring Securities on sale may be subject to stamp duty at a rate of 0.5 per cent. (or 1.5 per cent. in the case of a transfer to a Clearance Service (as defined below) or to a person issuing depository receipts) of the consideration paid for the Securities if the Securities are not Exempt Loan Capital (as defined below).

Stamp duty on the exercise or redemption of Securities

No United Kingdom stamp duty should be payable in relation to the exercise or redemption of a Security which is cash settled.

Stamp duty reserve tax ("SDRT")

For the purposes of the preceding and following paragraphs, "Exempt Loan Capital" means any security which constitutes Loan Capital and: (a) does not carry rights to acquire shares or securities (by way of exchange, conversion or otherwise); (b) has not carried and does not carry a right to interest the amount of which exceeds a reasonable commercial return on the nominal amount of the relevant security; (c) subject to certain exceptions has not carried and does not carry a right to interest the amount of which falls or has fallen to be determined to any extent by reference to the results of, or any part of, a business or to the value of any property; and (d) has not carried and does not carry a right to a premium which is not reasonably comparable with amounts payable on securities listed on the London Stock Exchange.

SDRT on Loan Securities

The following analysis applies to Securities which are capable of being cash settled only, which constitute stock and/or loan capital for the purposes of section 99(3) FA 1986 (each a "Loan Security" or a "Cash Settled Loan Security").

SDRT on the issue of Loan Securities to a Clearance Service

No SDRT should be payable in relation to the issue to any person providing a clearance service, or a nominee for any such person, within the meaning of section 96 FA 1986 (a "Clearance Service") of a Loan Security provided that it is Exempt Loan Capital.

Subject to the comments in the paragraph below regarding a decision of the European Court of Justice (the "ECJ") (as it then was) and a decision of the First-tier Tax Tribunal, except where an election has been made under which the alternative system of charge as provided for in section 97A FA 1986 (a "s97A Election") applies, SDRT should generally be payable in relation to the issue to a Clearance Service of a Loan Security which is not Exempt Loan Capital, unless that Loan Security is in bearer form and either: (a) it is denominated in sterling; or (b) it is not denominated in sterling (and if it is a loan that is repayable in sterling this is solely at the option of the holder) and either raises new capital or is issued in exchange for an instrument raising new capital, in each case for the purposes of section 97(3)(b) FA 1986. Any such SDRT would be payable at a rate of 1.5 per cent. of the issue price.

Following the ECJ decision in C-569/07 HSBC Holdings plc and Vidacos Nominees Ltd v The Commissioners of Her Majesty's Revenue & Customs (Case C-569/07) and the First-tier Tax Tribunal decision in HSBC Holdings Plc and the Bank of New York Mellon Corporation v The Commissioners of Her Majesty's Revenue & Customs, HMRC has indicated that it will not seek to collect 1.5 per cent. SDRT when new shares are first issued to an EU or non-EU clearance service or EU or non-EU depositary receipt system. HMRC accepts that these decisions are equally applicable to the issue of securities into clearance services or depositary receipt systems (and indeed the 1.5 per cent. bearer stamp duty referred to above) where the security is a debt security which falls within the scope of Article 5(2)(b) of the Capital Duties Directive. Other securities will be considered on a case by case basis.

SDRT on the transfer of Loan Securities held within a Clearance Service where no s97A Election has been made

SDRT should generally not be payable in relation to an agreement to transfer a Loan Security held within a Clearance Service provided that no s97A Election applies in respect of the Security.

SDRT on the transfer of Loan Securities held outside a Clearance Service or held within a Clearance Service where a s97A Election has been made

In the case of Loan Securities held outside a Clearance Service or Loan Securities held within a Clearance Service where a s97A Election has been made, no SDRT should be payable in relation to any agreement to transfer a Loan Security provided that it is Exempt Loan Capital.

In the case of Loan Securities held outside a Clearance Service or Loan Securities held within a Clearance Service where a s97A Election has been made, SDRT should generally be payable in relation to any agreement to transfer a Loan Security which is not Exempt Loan Capital, unless that Loan Security is in bearer form and any agreement to transfer those securities is not made in contemplation of, or as part of an arrangement for, a takeover of the body corporate which issued the instrument and: (a) it constitutes Loan Capital, it is listed on a recognised stock exchange and it carries no right to obtain securities which are not so listed (for example by way of conversion or exchange); (b) it was not exempt from stamp duty on issue because it does not constitute Loan Capital and it is denominated in sterling; or (c) it was exempt from stamp duty on issue solely because it is denominated in a currency other than sterling and it is listed on a recognised stock exchange. Any such SDRT would be payable at a rate of 0.5 per cent. of the consideration given under an agreement to transfer such Loan Securities, unless the transfer is to a Clearance Service or to a person issuing depositary receipts (or to an agent or nominee of such a person) where SDRT may be payable at a rate of 1.5 per cent.

SDRT on Option Securities

The following analysis applies to Securities which are capable of being cash settled only and which do not constitute stock and/or loan capital for the purposes of section 99(3) FA 1986 (each an "Option Security" or a "Cash Settled Option Security").

SDRT on the issue of Option Securities to a Clearance Service

No SDRT should be payable in relation to the issue of a Cash Settled Option Security to a Clearance Service unless such Security is either (a) an interest in stocks, shares or loan capital that is not Exempt Loan Capital or (b) an interest in dividends or other rights arising out of such stocks, shares or loan capital.

SDRT on the transfer of Option Securities held within a Clearance Service

SDRT should generally not be payable in relation to an agreement to transfer Option Securities held within a Clearance Service, provided no s97A Election has been made.

SDRT on the transfer of Option Securities held outside a Clearance Service or held within a Clearance Service where a s97A Election has been made

No SDRT should be payable in relation to an agreement to transfer a Cash Settled Option Security which is held outside a Clearance Service or which is held within a Clearance Service where a s97A Election has been made unless such Security is either (a) an interest in stocks, shares or loan capital that are not Exempt Loan Capital or (b) an interest in dividends or other rights arising out of such stocks, shares or loan capital.

5. SWITZERLAND

The following is a general summary of the Issuer's understanding of certain Swiss tax consequences in relation to dealings in the Securities according to the currently valid Swiss tax laws and the Swiss tax authorities' practice as at the date of publication of this Base Prospectus. This outline is a summary and not exhaustive and does not take into consideration possible special circumstances of some investors. Tax laws and the tax authorities' practice may undergo changes (or their interpretation or application may change) and their validity might also be retroactive.

Potential investors should consult their own tax advisors, legal advisers or financial consultants regarding their personal tax situation when entering into transactions with reference to the Securities.

- (a) General Information. The Swiss tax treatment of notes, bonds and other financial instruments are primarily regulated pursuant to the conditions set forth in the Circular Letter no. 15 of the Federal Tax Administration regarding the treatment of Bonds and Derivatives Financial Instruments for the purpose of the Federal Income Tax, Federal Withholding Tax and Federal Stamp Duties, as published on 7 February 2007. These rules are usually also applied by the Cantonal and Communal tax authorities. It should be noted that the Swiss tax terms "notes" and "bonds" are not consistent with the corresponding terms stipulated by Swiss security laws and the international or foreign understanding of such terms.
- (b) Swiss Stamp Taxes. The issuance of Securities issued by a foreign resident issuer is in general not subject to the Swiss Issue Stamp Tax ("Emissionsabgabe"). Secondary market transactions of Securities which are considered as (debt) financing instruments, share-like products, fund-like products and low exercise price options (LEPO) on shares with maturity more than one year and the issuance of fund-like Securities issued by a foreign resident issuer are subject to the Swiss Securities Transfer Tax, provided that a Swiss securities dealer ("Effektenhändler"), as defined in art. 13 para. 3 of the Swiss Federal Act on Stamp Duties ("Stempelabgabengesetz"), is a party to the Securities transaction or acts as an intermediary thereto. Certain exemptions may, inter alia, apply with regard to institutional investors such as mutual funds, life insurance companies and social security institutions. Pure derivatives for Swiss tax purposes like options and futures do normally not classify as taxable securities and are therefore not subject to Swiss Issue Stamp Tax and Swiss Securities Transfer Tax. If upon the exercise or redemption of a Security an underlying security is delivered to the holder of the Security, the transfer of the underlying security may be subject to Swiss Securities Transfer Tax.
- (c) Swiss Withholding Tax. Securities issued by a foreign resident issuer are in general not subject to Swiss withholding tax. Payments or credit of (deemed) interest or dividends on a Security issued by a Swiss resident issuer may be subject to Swiss federal withholding tax at a rate of 35 per cent. This may apply likewise to payments or credits of yield from Securities which classify for tax purposes as fund-like products. The holder of a Security who is resident in Switzerland may be entitled to a full refund of or a full tax credit for the Swiss federal withholding tax, subject to conditions being met. A non-Swiss resident holder of a Security may be able to claim a full or partial refund of the Swiss federal withholding tax if such a holder is entitled to claim benefits with regard to such a payment of a double taxation treaty between Switzerland and his or her country of residence.

- (d) Swiss Income Tax Treatment for Securities Held by Private Investors (Individuals) with Tax Residence in Switzerland as Part of their Private Assets. Payments or credits received by a holder of a Security, which are considered in a Swiss tax perspective as dividends or interests, are subject to income tax. Gains or losses realised upon a sale or other disposition by individuals with tax residence in Switzerland holding a Security as part of their private assets (private capital gain or losses) are in general not subject to Swiss Income Tax and are not deductible from taxable income respectively. However, capital gains may be subject to income taxation, if a Security qualifies as predominant one-time interest paying bond. Also gains or losses realised by buying or selling of pure derivatives for Swiss tax purposes (options and futures) are not subject to income tax as they are considered as tax-exempt capital gains or losses. Whether a Security generates taxable income (dividend and interest) or tax-exempt capital gains is depending on certain features of the Security (1-delta pay-off, reverse convertible, guaranteed coupon payments or capital protection etc.), on the underlying of the Security and on the maturity of the Security. Some Securities may be divided into taxable bonds and a tax-exempt option (or combinations of options) provided that the Security is, for Swiss tax purposes, made transparent by the issuer. A Security is considered transparent if the value on issuance of its bond and its option components can be determined separately. Under the condition of transparency, the option premium paid by the issuer is exempt from income taxation (where otherwise applicable); taxation is limited to the interest of the bond part which would have been paid for an investment in a comparable straight bond of the same issuer with a similar term and the same currency at market conditions. If the interest part of the Security is paid as a one-time compensation, the so-called "modifizierte Differenzbesteuerung" may apply in each case of pre-maturity sale or redemption of the Security. If a Security is not made transparent for Swiss tax purposes (only if the security needs to be transparent for Swiss tax purposes) the total payment to the investor (except the repayment of the invested capital) could be considered as taxable income.
- (e) Swiss Income Tax Treatment for Securities Held by Swiss Resident Entities or Individuals as Part of Business Assets. Income of any kind realised from Securities as part of business assets of individuals (including deemed securities dealers for Swiss tax purposes) or entities in Switzerland are subject to personal income tax or corporate income tax respectively as part of their overall net income.
- (f) Wealth Taxation of Securities Held by Private Investors (Individuals) with Tax Residence in Switzerland. The market value of the Securities may be subject to wealth tax levied on overall net wealth of individuals with tax residence in Switzerland, regardless of whether the Securities are held as part of their private or business assets.
- (g) EU Savings Tax. On 26 October 2004, the European Community and Switzerland entered into an agreement on the taxation of savings income pursuant to which Switzerland adopts measures equivalent to those of the European Directive 2003/48/EC of 3 June 2003 on the taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments. The agreement came into force as of 1 July 2005. On the basis of this agreement, Switzerland introduced a withholding tax on interest payments and other similar income paid by a paying agent within Switzerland to an individual resident in an EU member state. The withholding tax is withheld at a rate of 15 per cent. for the first three years beginning with 1 July 2005, 20 per cent. for the next three years and 35 per cent. thereafter, with the option of such an individual to have the paying agent and Switzerland provide to the tax authorities of the Member State details of the payments in lieu of the withholding. The beneficial owner of the interest payments may be entitled to a tax credit or refund of the withholding, if any, provided that certain conditions are met. Securities issued under this programme may be subject to EU Savings Tax. The qualification regarding "in scope" or "out of scope" of the EU Savings Tax is depending on certain features of the Security and on the reference asset of the Security.

- (h) Final Withholding Tax. In autumn 2011 and April 2012, Switzerland signed bilateral withholding tax agreements with the United Kingdom and Austria. Both agreements entered into force on 1 January 2013. The implementation of the withholding tax agreements are governed by the Federal Act on International Withholding Tax (IWTA), which was brought into force by the Federal Council on 20 December 2012. On the basis of these withholding tax agreements, Switzerland introduced a final withholding tax on investment income and capital gains. For paying agents in Switzerland, the Securities might be subject to the final withholding tax, if they are held directly or indirectly by a relevant person resident in the United Kingdom or in Austria. Negotiations on similar agreements are under way with Greece and Italy. Other countries both within and outside Europe have also shown an interest.

6. THE NETHERLANDS

For the purposes of this section, "the Netherlands" shall mean that part of the Kingdom of the Netherlands that is in Europe.

All payments made by the Issuer under the Securities may be made free of withholding or deduction for any taxes of whatsoever nature imposed, levied, withheld or assessed by the Netherlands or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein.

7. BELGIUM

The following is a general summary of the Issuer's understanding of certain Belgian tax consequences in relation to dealings in the Securities according to the currently valid Belgian tax laws and the Belgian tax authorities' practice as at the date of publication of this Base Prospectus. This outline is a summary and not exhaustive and does not take into consideration possible special circumstances of some investors. Tax laws and the tax authorities' practice may undergo changes (or their interpretation or application may change) and their validity might also be retroactive.

Potential investors should consult their own tax advisors, legal advisers or financial consultants regarding their personal tax situation when entering into transactions with reference to the Securities.

Belgian income tax regime regarding Securities

- (a) Belgian withholding tax and income tax treatment

- (i) Tax treatment of Belgian resident individuals

Individuals who are Belgian residents for tax purposes, i.e., individuals subject to the Belgian individual income tax ("Personenbelasting" / "Impôt des personnes physiques"), and who hold the Securities as a private investment are subject to the following tax treatment in Belgium with respect to the Securities. Other tax rules apply to Belgian resident individuals holding the Securities not as a private investment but in the framework of their professional activity or when the transactions with respect to the Securities fall outside the scope of the normal management of their own private estate.

Under Belgian tax law, "interest" income includes: (A) periodic interest income, (B) any amount paid by the Issuer in excess of the Issue Price on the Settlement Date and (C) if the Securities would qualify as "fixed income securities" (within the meaning of article 2, §1, 8° Belgian Income Tax Code), in the case of a realisation of the Securities prior to final settlement by the Issuer, the income equal to the pro rata of accrued interest corresponding to the detention period. In general, securities are qualified as fixed income securities if there is a causal link between the amount of interest income and the detention period of the securities, on the basis of which it is possible to calculate the amount of pro rata interest income at the moment of the sale of the securities during their lifetime. In the absence of a minimum return, invested capital protection and periodic coupon payments or period interest clicks (i.e., the criteria which the Belgian tax administration tends to use to treat "structured securities" as fixed income securities), the chances that the Securities will be treated as fixed income securities for Belgian tax purposes are small.

Payments of interest (as defined above under (A) or (B)) on the Securities made through a paying agent in Belgium will in principle be subject to a 25 per cent. withholding tax in Belgium (calculated on the interest received after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding taxes). The Belgian withholding tax constitutes in principle the final income tax for Belgian resident private individuals, meaning that they do not need to declare the interest income in their personal income tax return if it is not beneficial to them (taking into account their other declared income).

If the interest is paid outside of Belgium without the intervention of a paying agent in Belgium or if otherwise no Belgian withholding tax is levied, the interest received on the Securities (after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding tax) must be declared in the personal income tax return of the holder of the Securities and will in principle be taxed at a flat rate of 25 per cent., without communal surcharges since the Issuer is established within the European Economic Area.

Capital gains realised upon the sale of the Securities are, in principle, tax exempt, unless the capital gains are realised outside the scope of the normal management of one's private estate or unless and to the extent the capital gains qualify as interest (as defined above). Capital losses incurred upon the sale or final settlement are, in principle, not tax deductible.

(ii) Tax treatment of Belgian resident corporations

Corporations that are Belgian residents for tax purposes, i.e., corporations subject to Belgian Corporate Income Tax ("Vennootschapsbelasting" / "Impôt des sociétés"), are subject to the following tax treatment in Belgium with respect to the Securities.

Interest derived by Belgian corporate investors on the Securities and capital gains realised on the Securities will be subject to Belgian Corporate Income Tax at the ordinary rate of 33.99 per cent. Capital losses on the Securities are in principle tax deductible.

Payments of interest (as defined in the section "Tax treatment of Belgian resident individuals" above under (A) or (B)) on the Securities made through a paying agent in Belgium will in principle be subject to a 25 per cent. withholding tax in Belgium (calculated on the interest received after deduction of any non-Belgian withholding tax). However, the interest can under certain circumstances be exempt from withholding tax (except if the Securities would qualify as zero or capitalization bonds), provided a special certificate is delivered. The Belgian withholding tax that has been levied is creditable and refundable in accordance with the applicable legal provisions.

(iii) Tax treatment of Organisations for Financing Pensions

Belgian pension fund entities that have the form of an Organisation for Financing Pensions ("OFP") are in general subject to Belgian Corporate Income Tax ("Vennootschapsbelasting" / "Impôt des sociétés"). OFPs are subject to the following tax treatment in Belgium with respect to the Securities.

Interest derived on the Securities and capital gains realised on the Securities will not be subject to Belgian Corporate Income Tax in the hands of OFPs. Any Belgian withholding tax that has been levied is creditable and refundable in accordance with the applicable legal provisions. Capital losses on the Securities are, in principle, not tax deductible.

(iv) Tax treatment of other Belgian legal entities

Legal entities that are Belgian residents for tax purposes, i.e., that are subject to the Belgian tax on legal entities ("Rechtspersonenbelasting" / "Impôt des personnes morales"), are subject to the following tax treatment in Belgium with respect to the Securities.

Payments of interest (as defined in the section "Tax treatment of Belgian resident individuals" above under (A) or (B)) on the Securities made through a paying agent in Belgium will, in principle, be subject to a 25 per cent. withholding tax in Belgium and no further tax on legal entities will be due on the interest.

However, if the interest is paid outside Belgium, i.e., without the intervention of a Belgian paying agent and without deduction of the Belgian withholding tax, the legal entity itself is liable for the deduction and payment of the Belgian 25 per cent. withholding tax.

Capital gains realised on the sale of the Securities are in principle tax exempt, unless and to the extent the capital gain qualifies as interest (as defined in the section entitled "Tax treatment of Belgian resident individuals" above). Capital losses on the Securities are, in principle, not tax deductible.

(v) Tax treatment of Belgian non-residents

The interest income on the Securities paid to a Belgian non-resident outside of Belgium, i.e., without the intervention of a professional intermediary in Belgium, is not subject to Belgian withholding tax.

Interest income on the Securities paid through a Belgian professional intermediary will, in principle, be subject to a 25 per cent. Belgian withholding tax, unless the holder is resident in a country with which Belgium has concluded a double taxation agreement and delivers the requested affidavit.

Non-resident holders that have not allocated the Securities to business activities in Belgium can also obtain an exemption from Belgian withholding tax on interest if the interest is paid through a Belgian credit institution, a Belgian stock broker company or an approved Belgian clearing or settlement institution and provided that (A) the non-resident Issuer has not allocated the Securities to a Belgian establishment and that (B) the non-resident investor (I) is the full legal owner or usufructory of the Securities, (II) has not allocated the Securities to business activities in Belgium and (III) delivers an affidavit confirming his non-resident status and the fulfilment of conditions (I) and (II).

Non-resident holders using the Securities to exercise a professional activity in Belgium through a (permanent) establishment are subject to the same tax rules as the Belgian resident corporations (see above). Non-resident holders who do not allocate the Securities to a professional activity in Belgium are not subject to Belgian income tax, save, as the case may be, in the form of withholding tax.

Non-resident holders who do not allocate the Securities to a professional activity in Belgium are not subject to Belgian income tax, save, as the case may be, in the form of withholding tax. However, such non-residents may still be liable to Belgian income tax on capital gains realized on the Securities, if the following three conditions are cumulatively met, i.e., (i) the capital gain would have been taxable if the investor were a Belgian tax resident, (ii) the capital gain is realized upon a transfer of the Securities to a Belgian resident individual, company or other (legal) entity with registered office or principal place of business in Belgium, a Belgian public authority or a Belgian establishment of a non-resident and (iii) the capital gain is taxable in Belgium pursuant to an applicable bilateral tax treaty or, in the absence thereof, where the investor does not bring evidence that the capital gain has been effectively taxed in his state of residence.

(b) EU Savings Directive

(i) Individuals not resident in Belgium

A Belgian paying agent (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) will exchange information at least once a year with the country of tax residence of the beneficial owner regarding interest payments as defined by the EU Savings Directive. It concerns payments made to an individual, beneficial owner of the interest payments and resident in another EU Member State or resident in one of the non-EU countries and territories (including Switzerland) that have adopted similar measures, subject to a reciprocity undertaking (the "Dependent and Associated Territories"). Residual entities (in the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) are subject to a specific regime. The communicated information will include the identity and tax residence of the beneficial owner, the name and address of the paying agent, the account number of the beneficial owner and information concerning the interest payment. The exchange of information cannot be avoided by the submission of an affidavit.

(ii) Individuals resident in Belgium

An individual resident in Belgium will be subject to the provisions of the EU Savings Directive, if he receives interest payments from a paying agent (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) established in another EU Member State or one of the Dependent and Associated Territories, except where a withholding system is operated.

If the interest received by an individual resident in Belgium has been subject to a withholding system, such withholding does not liberate the Belgian individual from declaring the interest income in the personal income tax declaration. The withholding will be credited against the Belgian personal income tax. If the withholding exceeds the Belgian personal income tax due, the excess amount will be reimbursed, provided it reaches a minimum of 2.5 euro.

Belgian stock exchange tax regime regarding Securities

The issuance of the Securities (primary market) is not subject to the tax on stock exchange transactions.

The sale of the Securities (secondary market) executed in Belgium through a financial intermediary will trigger the tax on stock exchange transactions. The tax is due at a rate of 0.25 per cent. (due on each sale and acquisition separately) with a maximum of EUR 740 per party and per transaction. An exemption is available for certain Belgian institutional investors as well as for non-residents (provided that certain formalities are respected), both acting for their own account.

8. FRANCE

The following is a general description of the French withholding tax treatment of the payments made in respect of the Securities to holders thereof. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Securities, whether in France or elsewhere. In particular, it does not describe the French tax treatment applicable to holders of Securities who are tax residents of France, except in relation to French withholding tax, and does not discuss all French taxes, such as French registration duties or the tax on financial transactions.

Prospective purchasers of the Securities should consult their own tax advisers as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of the Securities and receiving payments under the Securities and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of France. The treatment regarding withholding tax will depend on the nature and characterisation of the Securities.

This summary is based on French tax legislation, treaties, rules, and administrative interpretations and similar documentation, in force as at the date of this Base Prospectus, without prejudice to any amendments introduced at a later date, even if implemented with retroactive effect.

Payments made by the Issuer in respect of the Securities may in principle be made without any compulsory withholding or deduction for, or on account of, French taxes to the extent that the Issuer is not incorporated in France or is otherwise acting through a French establishment.

However, if such payments are made to French resident individuals and regarded as interest or assimilated income for French tax purposes, the Paying Agent could be subject to withholding obligations. In that case, social contributions of currently 15.5 per cent. and the 24 per cent. income tax prepayment, applicable in principle to interest and assimilated income received by French resident individuals, would generally need to be withheld and reported by the Paying Agent, if the Paying Agent is established in France (exceptions may however apply depending on level of income of the taxpayer). If the Paying Agent is established outside France, it is in principle not involved in this withholding obligation, unless it is established in an EU or EEA member state and has been expressly appointed by the French taxpayer to do so.

The EU Savings Directive has been implemented in French law under article 242 ter of the French Code Général des Impôts. These provisions impose on paying agents based in France an obligation to report to the French tax authorities certain information with respect to interest payments made to beneficial owners domiciled in another Member State (or certain territories), including, among other things, the identity and address of the beneficial owner and a detailed list of the different categories of interest (within the meaning of the EU Savings Directive) paid to that beneficial owner.

For further information regarding the EU Savings Tax Directive see paragraph 2 (EU Savings Directive) above.

9. LUXEMBOURG

The following summary is of a general nature and is included herein solely for information purposes. It is a general description of certain Luxembourg tax considerations relating to the purchasing, holding and disposing of Securities.

This description is based on the laws, regulations and applicable tax treaties as in effect in Luxembourg on the date hereof, all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. It is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice.

The following summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all tax considerations that may be relevant to a particular prospective holder with regard to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of Securities.

Prospective holders are advised to consult their own tax advisors as to the tax consequences, under the tax laws of the country of which they are resident and under the laws of the all relevant jurisdictions, to which they may be subject.

The residence concept used under the respective headings below applies for Luxembourg income tax assessment purposes only. Any reference in this section to a tax, duty, levy, impost or other charge or withholding of a similar nature refers to Luxembourg tax law and/or concepts only.

Withholding tax

Non-Luxembourg tax resident holders

Under Luxembourg general tax laws currently in force and subject to the laws of 21 June 2005 (hereinafter, "Laws") mentioned below, there is no withholding tax to be withheld by the debtor of Securities on payments of principal, premium or arm's length interest (including accrued but unpaid interest) to non-Luxembourg tax resident holders. Nor is any Luxembourg withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of Securities held by non-Luxembourg tax resident holders to the extent said Securities do not (a) give entitlement to a share of the profits generated by the issuing company and (b) the issuing company is not thinly capitalised.

EU Savings Directive on the Taxation of Savings Income

Under the Laws, implementing the Council Directive 2003/48/EC of 3 June 2003 on taxation of savings income in the form of interest payments and ratifying the treaties entered into by Luxembourg and certain dependent and associated territories of EU Member States (hereinafter, "Territories"), payments of interest or similar income made or ascribed by a paying agent established in Luxembourg to or for the immediate benefit of an individual beneficial owner or a residual entity, as defined by the Laws, which are resident of, or established in, an EU Member State (other than Luxembourg) or one of the Territories will be subject to a withholding tax at a rate of 35 per cent. unless the relevant recipient has duly instructed the relevant paying agent to provide details of the relevant payments of interest or similar income to the fiscal authorities of his/her/its country of residence or establishment, or, in the case of an individual beneficial owner, has provided a tax certificate issued by the fiscal authorities of his/her country of residence in the required format to the relevant paying agent. Responsibility for the withholding of the tax will be assumed by the Luxembourg paying agent.

On 18 March 2014, a draft law amending the Laws has been submitted to the Luxembourg parliament (hereinafter the "Draft Law"). The Draft Law provides for the abolishment of the 35 per cent. withholding tax applied on interest or similar income made or ascribed by a paying agent established in Luxembourg to or for the immediate benefit of an individual beneficial owner or a residual entity which are resident of, or established in, an EU Member State (other than Luxembourg) or one of the Territories. As from 1 January 2015, provided the Draft Law has entered into force, the automatic exchange of information should apply to payments of interest or similar income made or ascribed by a Luxembourg paying agent to or for the immediate benefit of an individual beneficial owner or a residual entity which are resident of, or established in, an EU Member State (other than Luxembourg) or one of the Territories.

Luxembourg tax resident holders

Under Luxembourg general tax laws currently in force and subject to the law of 23 December 2005, as amended (hereinafter, "Law"), there is no withholding tax to be withheld by the debtor of Securities on payments of principal, premium or arm's length interest (including accrued but unpaid interest) to Luxembourg tax resident holders. Nor is any Luxembourg withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of Securities held by Luxembourg tax resident holders to the extent said Securities do not (a) give entitlement to a share of the profits generated by the issuing company and (b) the issuing company is not thinly capitalised.

Under the Law, payments of interest or similar income made or ascribed by a paying agent established in Luxembourg to or for the immediate benefit of an individual beneficial owner who is tax resident of Luxembourg will be subject to a withholding tax of 10 per cent. In case the individual beneficial owner is an individual acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth, said withholding tax will be in full discharge of income tax. Responsibility for the withholding tax will be assumed by the Luxembourg paying agent. Payments of interest under Securities coming within the scope of the Law would be subject to withholding tax at a rate of 10 per cent.

Registration tax

Neither the issuance nor the transfer of Securities will give rise to any Luxembourg stamp duty, issuance tax, registration tax, transfer tax or similar taxes or duties. Notwithstanding, documents relating to the Securities, other than the Securities themselves, presented in a notarial deed or in the course of litigation may require registration. In this case, and based on the nature of such documents, registration duties may apply.

10. FINLAND

The following summary relates only to Finnish withholding tax issues with respect to payments made in respect of the Securities to persons who are generally liable to tax in Finland (i.e., persons that are resident of Finland for tax purposes). The summary does not deal with any other Finnish tax implications of acquiring, holding or disposing of the Securities. Investors are advised to seek professional advice relating to other tax implications in respect of acquiring, holding or disposing of the Securities.

As the Issuer is not resident in Finland for tax purposes, there is no Finnish withholding tax (Fi. lähdevero) applicable to the payments made by the Issuer in respect of the Securities. However, Finland operates a system of preliminary taxation (Fi. ennakonpidätysjärjestelmä) to secure payment of taxes in certain circumstances. In the context of the Securities, a tax of 30 per cent. will be deducted and withheld from all payments that are treated as interest or as compensation comparable to interest, when such payments are made by a Finnish Paying Agent to individuals. Any preliminary tax (Fi. ennakonpidätys) will be used for the payment of the individual's final taxes (i.e., they will be credited against the individual's final tax liability). If, however, the Securities are regarded as warranties for Finnish tax purposes any payments made in respect of the Securities may be made without deduction or withholding for or on account of Finnish tax.

11. SWEDEN

Swedish withholding of tax

See paragraph 2 (EU Savings Directive) above.

There is no Swedish withholding tax (källskatt) applicable on payments made by the Issuer in respect of the Securities. Sweden operates a system of preliminary tax (preliminärskatt) to secure payment of taxes. In the context of the Securities a preliminary tax of 30 per cent. will be deducted from all payments treated as interest in respect of the Securities made to any individuals or estates that are resident in Sweden for tax purposes, provided the paying entity is tax resident in Sweden and subject to reporting obligations. This applies also to other proceeds from the Securities save for capital gains, if the other proceeds are paid out together with payments treated as interest. Depending on the relevant Holder's overall tax liability for the relevant fiscal year the preliminary tax may contribute towards, equal or exceed the Holder's overall tax liability with any balance subsequently to be paid by or to the relevant Holder, as applicable.

CERTAIN ERISA CONSIDERATIONS

The advice below was not written and is not intended to be used and cannot be used by any taxpayer for purposes of avoiding United States federal income tax penalties that may be imposed. The advice is written to support the promotion or marketing of the transaction. Each taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer's particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

The foregoing disclaimer is provided to satisfy obligations under Circular 230 governing standards of practice before the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

The United States Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA") imposes certain requirements on "employee benefit plans" (as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA and subject to Title I of ERISA), including entities such as collective investment funds and separate accounts whose underlying assets include the assets of such plans and on those persons who are fiduciaries with respect to such plans. Investments by such plans are subject to ERISA's general fiduciary requirements, including the requirement of investment prudence and diversification and the requirement that such plan's investments be made in accordance with the documents governing such plan. The prudence of a particular investment must be determined by the responsible fiduciary of such plan by taking into account such plan's particular circumstances and all of the facts and circumstances of the investment including, but not limited to, the fact that in the future there may be no market in which such fiduciary will be able to sell or otherwise dispose of the Securities.

Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as amended (the "Code") prohibit certain transactions involving the assets of employee benefit plans (as defined in Section 3(3) of ERISA and subject to Title I of ERISA) as well as those plans that are not subject to ERISA but which are defined in Section 4975(e)(1) of the Code and subject to Section 4975 of the Code, such as individual retirement accounts (collectively, "Plans") and certain persons (referred to as "parties in interest" or "disqualified persons") having certain relationships to such Plans, unless a statutory or administrative exemption is applicable to the transaction. A party in interest or disqualified person who engages in a prohibited transaction may be subject to excise taxes and other penalties and liabilities under ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code.

U.S. Department of Labor Regulation 29 C.F.R. Section 2510.3-101, as modified by Section 3(42) of ERISA (the "Plan Asset Regulations"), describes what constitutes the assets of a Plan with respect to the Plan's investment in an entity for purposes of certain provisions of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code, including the fiduciary responsibility provisions of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code. Under the Plan Asset Regulations, if a Plan invests in an "equity interest" of an entity that is neither a "publicly offered security" nor a security issued by an investment company registered under the 1940 Act, the Plan's assets include both the equity interest and an undivided interest in each of the entity's underlying assets, unless it is established that the entity is an "operating company" or, as further discussed below, that equity participation in the entity by "benefit plan investors" is not "significant".

Prohibited transactions within the meaning of Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code may arise if the Securities are acquired with the assets of a Plan with respect to which the relevant Issuer, the Dealer, The Royal Bank of Scotland plc ("RBS plc") or any of their respective affiliates, is a party in interest or a disqualified person. RBS plc and its affiliates are considered a party in interest or a disqualified person with respect to many Plans. Certain exemptions from the prohibited transaction provisions of Section 406 of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code may be applicable, however, depending in part on the type of Plan fiduciary making the decision to acquire a Security and the circumstances under which such decision is made. Included among these exemptions are Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption ("PTCE") 91-38 (relating to investments by bank collective investment funds), PTCE 84-14 (relating to transactions effected by a "qualified professional asset manager"), PTCE 90-1 (relating to investments by insurance company pooled separate accounts), PTCE 95-60 (relating to investments by insurance company general accounts), and PTCE 96-23 (relating to transactions effected by in-house asset managers) (collectively, "Investor-Based Exemptions"). There is also a statutory exemption that may be available under Section 408(b)(17) of ERISA and Section 4975(d)(20) of the Code to a party in interest that is a service provider to a Plan investing in the Securities for adequate consideration, provided such service provider is not (i) a fiduciary with respect to the Plan's assets used to acquire the Securities or an affiliate of such fiduciary or (ii) an affiliate of the employer sponsoring the Plan (the "Service Provider Exemption"). Adequate consideration means fair market value as determined in good faith by the Plan fiduciary pursuant to regulations to be promulgated by the U.S. Department of Labor. There can be no assurance that any of these Investor-Based Exemptions or the Service Provider Exemption or any other administrative or statutory exemption will be available with respect to any particular transaction involving the Securities.

Governmental, certain church, non-U.S. and other plans, while not subject to the fiduciary responsibility provisions of ERISA or the provisions of Section 4975 of the Code, may nevertheless be subject to state, local, federal or non-U.S. laws that are similar to the foregoing provisions of ERISA and the Code. Fiduciaries of any such plans should consult with their counsel before acquiring any Securities.

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision, in John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. v. Harris Trust and Savings Bank ("Harris Trust"), 510 U.S. 86 (1993), held that those funds allocated to the general account of an insurance company pursuant to a contract with an employee benefit plan that varies with the investment experience of the insurance company are "plan assets". The American Council of Life Insurance requested a prohibited transaction class exemption to counteract the effects of Harris Trust. In the preamble to the resulting Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption 95-60, 60 Fed. Reg. 35,925 (July 12, 1995) ("PTCE 95-60"), the Department of Labor noted that for purposes of calculating the 25 per cent. threshold under the significant participation test of the Plan Assets Regulation, only the proportion of an insurance company general account's equity investment in the entity that represents plan assets should be taken into account. Furthermore, a change in the level of plan investment in a general account subsequent to the general account's acquisition of an interest in the entity would not, by itself, trigger a new determination of whether plan participation is significant. However, it is the Department of Labor's view that an acquisition by the general account of an additional interest in the entity subsequent to its initial investment or an acquisition in the entity by any investor subsequent to the general account's initial investment would require a new determination of significant plan participation. Although the Department of Labor has not specified how to determine the proportion of an insurance company general account that represents plan assets for purposes of the 25 per cent. threshold, they have, in the case of PTCE 95-60, provided a method for determining the percentage of an insurance company's general account held by the benefit plans of an employer and its affiliates by comparing the reserves and liabilities for the general account contracts held by such plans to the total reserves and liabilities of the general account (exclusive of separate account liabilities) plus surplus. However, there is no assurance that a similar measurement would be used for purposes of the 25 per cent. threshold.

Any insurance company proposing to invest assets of its general account in Securities should consider the extent to which such investment would be subject to the requirements of Title I of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code in light of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in Harris Trust and the enactment of Section 401(c) of ERISA. In particular, such an insurance company should consider (a) the exemptive relief granted by the U.S. Department of Labor for transactions involving insurance company general accounts in PTCE 95-60 and (b) if such exemptive relief is not available, whether its acquisition of Securities will be permissible under the final regulations issued under Section 401(c) of ERISA. The final regulations provide guidance on which assets held by an insurance company constitute "plan assets" for purposes of the fiduciary responsibility provisions of ERISA and Section 4975 of the Code. The regulations do not exempt the assets of insurance company general accounts from treatment as "plan assets" to the extent they support certain participating annuities issued to Plans after 31 December 1998.

The Plan Asset Regulations define an "equity interest" as any interest in an entity other than an instrument that is treated as indebtedness under applicable local law and which has no substantial equity features. As mentioned above, if a Plan invests in an "equity interest" of an entity, the Plan's assets include both the equity interest and an undivided interest in each of the entity's underlying assets, unless the entity is an "operating company". An operating company is an entity engaged, directly or indirectly, in business activities involving the manufacture or sale of a product or service. If a Security is deemed to be an equity interest in RBS plc, an investment by a Plan in such equity interest should not result in such Plan having an undivided interest in the entity's assets because RBS plc should qualify as an operating company. In addition, a Security issued by RBS plc may constitute a debt interest or a notional principal contract, depending on the relevant form and terms of such Security. Therefore, a Security issued by RBS plc may be acquired by a Plan. Nevertheless, without regard to whether such Security is considered a debt or equity interest or a notional principal contract, prohibited transactions within the meaning of Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code may arise if such Security is acquired with the assets of a Plan with respect to which the relevant Issuer, or in certain circumstances, any of its respective affiliates, is a party in interest or a disqualified person. The Investor-Based Exemptions or the Service Provider Exemption may be available to cover such prohibited transactions.

By its acquisition, holding and subsequent disposition of any Security issued by RBS plc, each acquirer and subsequent transferee thereof will be deemed to have represented and warranted, at the time of its acquisition and throughout the period it holds such Security, either that (i) it is neither a Plan nor any entity whose underlying assets include "plan assets" by reason of such Plan's investment in the entity, nor a governmental, church, non-U.S. or other plan which is subject to any federal, state, local or non-U.S. law that is similar to the provisions of Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code or (ii) its acquisition, holding and subsequent disposition of such Security will not constitute or result in a non-exempt prohibited transaction under Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code (or, in the case of a governmental, church, non-U.S. or other plan, a non-exempt violation of any similar law). In addition, a Plan fiduciary relying on the Service Provider Exemption will be deemed to have represented and warranted at the time of the Plan's acquisition and throughout the period the Plan holds the Security that (A) the Plan fiduciary has made a good faith determination that the Plan is paying no more than, and is receiving no less than, adequate consideration in connection with the transaction and (B) none of RBS plc or any of its affiliates exercises discretionary authority or control or renders investment advice with respect to the assets of the Plan which the fiduciary is using to acquire the Security, both of which are necessary preconditions to utilizing this exemption. Any acquirer that is a Plan is encouraged to consult with counsel regarding the application of the above representations and warranties. Any purported transfer of a Security issued by RBS plc, or any interest therein to an acquirer or transferee that does not comply with the requirements specified in the applicable documents will be of no force and effect and shall be null and void ab initio.

THE PRECEDING DISCUSSION IS ONLY A SUMMARY OF CERTAIN OF THE ERISA AND OTHER IMPLICATIONS OF AN INVESTMENT IN THE SECURITIES AND DOES NOT PURPORT TO BE COMPLETE. MOREOVER, THE MATTERS DISCUSSED ABOVE MAY BE AFFECTED BY FUTURE REGULATIONS, RULINGS AND COURT DECISIONS, SOME OF WHICH MAY HAVE RETROACTIVE APPLICATION AND EFFECT. POTENTIAL ACQUIRERS SHOULD CONSULT WITH THEIR OWN LEGAL AND OTHER ADVISORS PRIOR TO INVESTING TO DETERMINE THE ERISA IMPLICATIONS OF SUCH INVESTMENTS IN LIGHT OF SUCH POTENTIAL ACQUIRER'S CIRCUMSTANCES.

THE SALE OF SECURITIES TO A PLAN IS IN NO RESPECT A REPRESENTATION BY RBS PLC OR THE DEALER THAT THIS INVESTMENT MEETS ALL RELEVANT REQUIREMENTS WITH RESPECT TO INVESTMENTS BY PLANS GENERALLY OR ANY PARTICULAR PLAN OR THAT THIS INVESTMENT IS APPROPRIATE FOR PLANS GENERALLY OR ANY PARTICULAR PLAN.

SELLING RESTRICTIONS

In respect of each Series of Securities issued under the Programme, a Dealer and/or distributor may, by entering into a purchase agreement, agree with the Issuer the basis upon which it agrees to purchase Securities. Any such agreement will extend to those matters stated under "Form of the Securities" and the Terms and Conditions.

The statements which follow are of a general nature. Potential purchasers in each jurisdiction must ensure that they are able validly to take delivery of the Securities. Additional certifications may be required by the Issuer and/or any clearance system at the time of exercise and/or settlement.

To the best of the knowledge and belief of the Issuer (which has taken all reasonable care to ensure that such is the case) the information contained in this document is in accordance with the facts and does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

Consent to use this Base Prospectus

If so specified in the Final Terms in respect of any particular issuance of Securities, the Issuer consents to the use of this Base Prospectus in connection with the making of an offer of the Securities to the public requiring the prior publication of a prospectus under the Prospectus Directive (a "Non-exempt Offer") (a) by the financial intermediary/ies (each, an "Authorised Offeror"), (b) during the offer period and (c) subject to the relevant conditions, in each case as specified in the relevant Final Terms.

The consent shall be valid in relation to The Netherlands and each other Member State the competent authority of which has been provided with a Certificate of Approval by the Competent Authority in relation to this Base Prospectus under Article 18 of the Prospectus Directive, provided that it shall be a condition of such consent that the Base Prospectus may only be used by the relevant Authorised Offeror(s) to make offerings of the relevant Securities in the jurisdiction(s) in which the Non-exempt Offer is to take place, as specified in the relevant Final Terms.

The Issuer may (a) give consent to one or more additional Authorised Offerors after the date of the relevant Final Terms, (b) discontinue or change the offer period, and/or (c) remove or add conditions and, if it does so, such information in relation to the relevant Securities will be published by way of notice which will be available at <http://markets.rbs.com>. Authorised Offeror and the Investor, including as to price and settlement arrangements. The Issuer will not be a party to any such arrangements and, accordingly, this Base Prospectus does not contain such information. The terms and conditions of such offer should be provided to the Investor by that Authorised Offeror and neither the Issuer nor any Dealer has any responsibility or liability for such information (other than where such information is contained in the Base Prospectus, as completed by the relevant Final Terms).

Recent Developments

Ratings Information

Moody's Investors Service Limited ("Moody's") is expected to rate: senior notes issued by RBS with a maturity of one year or more "Baa1"; senior notes issued by RBS with a maturity of less than one year "P-2"; and dated subordinated notes and undated tier 2 notes issued by RBS will be rated on a case-by-case basis.

As defined by Moody's, a "Baa" rating means that the ability of the Issuer to meet its obligations on the relevant notes issued by it is judged to be medium-grade and subject to moderate credit risk and as such may possess certain speculative characteristics. As defined by Moody's, the addition of a "1" indicates that the obligation ranks in the higher end of its generic rating category. As defined by Moody's, a "P-2" rating means that the Issuer has a strong ability to repay its short-term debt obligations on the relevant notes issued by it.

The rating definitions set out above constitute third-party information and were obtained in the English language from the publication entitled "Rating Symbols and Definitions - September 2013" published by Moody's (available at www.moody's.com).

The information found at the website referred to in the previous sentence does not form part of, and is not incorporated by reference into, this Base Prospectus. The rating definitions set out above have been accurately reproduced from the source identified above and, so far as RBS is aware and is able to ascertain from information published by Moody's referred to above, no facts have been omitted which would render the ratings definitions set out above inaccurate or misleading.

The Issuer anticipates that it will deliver the Final Terms in respect of each Series of the Securities which are to be admitted to trading and listed on Euronext Amsterdam prior to the commencement of the Offer Period specified in the Final Terms or prior to the Trade Date specified in the Final Terms if there is no Offer Period. In the event that the Securities are not issued, no subscription monies shall be payable by prospective purchasers to the Issuer (either directly or indirectly through a Selling Agent (as defined above)) in respect of the Securities. Prospective purchasers should contact their Selling Agent of choice for details of the arrangements for the return of application monies in such circumstances. The Issuer shall have no responsibility for, or liability arising out of, the relationship between prospective purchasers and their respective Selling Agents and clearing system operators, including, without limitation, in respect of arrangements concerning the return of monies by such persons to their clients.

(f) Details of the Manner in Which the Results of the Initial Offer are to be Made Public
